

advances

in psychiatric treatment

From the Editor

- 237 MCOs and learning
Joe Bouch

Articles

- 238 Identities in transition: living as an asylum seeker
Anne Douglas
- 245 Compulsion in the community? The introduction of supervised community treatment
Guy Brookes & Nick Brindle
- 253 Supervised community treatment: guidance for clinicians
Rob Macpherson, Andrew Molodynski, Rachel Freeth, Amjad Uppal, Hannah Steer, Dave Buckle & Anne Jones
- 260 Commentary Community treatment orders and their use in the UK
Mark Taylor
- 263 The supervised community treatment order and the Human Rights Act 1998
Sanjay Khurmi & Martin Curtice
- 272 Addressing the sexual and reproductive health needs of women who use mental health services
Carol Henshaw & Olivia Protti
- 279 Commentary Reproductive and sexual health of women service users: what's the fuss?
Kathryn Abel & Sian Rees
- 281 Tattoos: what is their significance?
Vivek Khosla, Verghese Joseph & Harvey Gordon
- 288 Recovery and person-centred care in dementia: common purpose, common practice?
Laura Hill, Glenn Roberts, Joanna Wildgoose, Rachel Perkins & Susan Hahn
- 299 Developmental dyslexia: an overview
M. S. Thambirajah
- 308 Attachment theory in psychiatric rehabilitation: informing clinical practice
Katherine Berry & Richard Drake
- 316 Correspondence
- 316 Correction
- ## In other words
- 280 'Dearest, I feel certain I am going mad again'
Virginia Woolf

Cover image

© iStockphoto/Devon Stephens.
Khosla et al (pp. 281–287) consider the clues that tattoos give to the inner world of patients and discuss aspects of the tattooing process and tattoo removal that clinicians may need to know.

<http://apt.rcpsych.org>
ISSN 1355-5146