Avis aux auteurs

The Canadian Journal of Philosophy a pour objet la publication canadienne, en langues anglaise ou française, d'études philosophiques de haut niveau, quel que soit le domaine philosophique auxquelles elles appartiennent. Les communications sont évaluées dans l'anonymat de leurs auteurs; celles que soumettent les collègues départementaux sont référées à un comité de lecture extérieur.

Les textes non insérés ne sont rendus qu'en cas de prépaiement des frais de poste par chèque, mandat, coupons-réponse ou timbres canadiens.

Les auteurs recoivent gratuitement 25 tirés-à part de leur article. Ils sont priés, s'ils désirent en obtenir un plus grand nombre à titre onéreux, en informer l'imprimeur lors du renvoi des épreuves.

a priori

Edited by
Phillip Hanson and Bruce Hunter

This volume contains ten new essays on a priori knowledge by authors from Canada, the United States, Australia, and Europe, with an introduction by the editors. Topics addressed include the nature, explanation, and indispensability of a priori knowledge, its connection with analytic truth, its place in mathematics, in logic, and in empirical theory, and the contribution of Kant and Quine to these topics. The focus is on twentieth century contributions to these issues, but most essays also address earlier discussions at some length, and the essays that focus on Kant also relate his views to more recent discussions.

Aristotle And His Medieval Interpreters

CJ Canadian Journal of Philosophy
Supplementary Volume 17

edited by Richard Bosley and Martin Tweedale

Aristotle's works are a storehouse of theories, concepts, ideas and puzzles which were to dominate thought for the intellectual cultures of the Greek Near East, the Latin West, and Arabic Islam for two millennia. In this volume, seven well-known scholars (Gareth Matthews, Deborah Black, E.J. Ashworth, Joseph Owens, Eleonore Stump, Norman Kretzman and Marilyn Adams) scrutinize this peripatetic legacy in original essays.

A Forum for Bioethics and Philosophy of Medicine

Founding Editor Edmund D. Pellegrino

Editor H. Tristram Engelhardt Jr.

Associate Editor Stuart F. Spicker

Assistant Editor Kevin W. Wildes S.J.

Managing Editor George Khushf

Editorial Secretary Linda Hunt

The Journal of Medicine and Philosophy came into existence in 1976 when the fields of bioethics and the philosophy of medicine were in statu nascendi. It was initially sponsored by the Society for Health and Human Values and sustained primarily by North American readers and authors. But now, over a decade later, bioethics and the philosophy of medicine have become fields of research and teaching around the world. The Journal's associations have grown so that it now has connections with the European Society for Philosophy of Medicine and Health Care and the Japanese Association for Philosophical and Ethical Research in Medicine; the Editorial Advisory Board has taken on an international character. In 1989 The Journal of Medicine and Philosophy expanded to a bi-monthly from a quarterly. The need for a scholarly vehicle encompassing the international scope of contemporary research, accommodating the scholar's writing on the subject and covering the topics that are now of daily concern is filled by The Journal of Medicine and Philosophy.

Journal of Philosophical Logic

Published under the Auspices of the Association for Symbolic Logic

Editors J. Michael Dunn, Krister Segerberg

The Journal of Philosophical Logic publishes papers that utilize formal methods or that deal with topics in logical theory, such as:

- Contributions to branches of logical theory directly related to philosophical concerns, such as inductive logic, modal logic, deontic logic, quantum logic, tense logic, free logic, logic of questions, logic of commands, logic of preference, logic of conditionals, many-valued logic, and relevance logics.
- Contributions to philosophical discussions that utilize the machinery of formal logic, as in recent treatments of abstract entities, non-existent possibles, essentialism, existence, propositional attitudes, meaning and truth.
- Discussions of philosophical issues relating to logic and the logical structure of language, such as conventionalism in logic, ontic commitment, logical or semantic paradoxes, the logic of hypotheses and of pre-suppositions, constructivism, and extensionality.
- Philosophical work relating to specific sciences (such as linguistics, history of logic, or physics), with an emphasis on foundational problems, and making use of logical theory. Some instances of recent work of this kind are the treatments of universal grammar, pragmatics, conceptions of possibility, theories and mathematical truth in the history of philosophy, formalization of scientific theories, or logical structure in quantum mechanics. The Journal of Philosophical Logic is published under the auspices of the Association for Symbolic Logic.

Biology and Philosophy

Editor Michael Ruse

Associate Editors J. Ayala, Robert H. Haynes, David Hull

The past two decades have witnessed fascinating and controversial advances in the biological sciences. One may think, for instance, of methods for analyzing the basic molecular units of heredity; of proposals and clarifications of the appropriate methods of classifying organisms; of exciting new ideas about the nature of the fossil record and their implications for the elucidation of evolutionary mechanisms; and of ways in which the biological study of behavior has been extended, theoretically and experimentally, and of supposed implications for humankind. To add to these internal issues, the outside world has also seen much debate on biology – in the world of education, for instance. These and other issues have made biology one of the most exhilarating areas of science, and have aroused in biologists and philosophers an awareness that there is a need for meta-theoretical analysis, both about the very nature of biology, as well as about its social implications. Biology and Philosophy is aimed at a broad readership, drawn from both the sciences and the humanities. The journal subscribes to no specific school of biology, nor of philosophy, and publishes work from authors of all persuasions and all disciplines. The editorial board reflects this attitude in its composition and its world-wide membership. Each issue of Biology and Philosophy carries one or more discussions or comparative reviews, permitting the in-depth study of important works and topics.

'...this journal is to be welcomed as a vehicle for serious exchange on the philosophical foundations of biology and the philosophical and conceptual implications of biological work. It is likely to become fairly important in fostering interdisciplinary interaction. It offers both biologists and philosophers a useful vehicle for publication and a reasonable centralized locus for following the interactions between their disparate disciplines.'

Philosophical Studies

An International Journal for Philosophy in the Analytic Tradition

Editor-in-Chief Stewart Cohen

Editor K. Lehrer (Special Editions)

Editorial Assistant Jim Hitt

Philosophical Studies was founded in 1950 by Herbert Feigl and Wilfrid Sellars to provide a periodical dedicated to work in analytic philosophy. The journal is devoted to the rapid publication of analytical contributions, particularly (but not exclusively) in epistemology, philosophical logic, the philosophy of language and ethics. Papers applying formal techniques to philosophical problems are particularly welcome. The papers published are models of clarity and precision, dealing with some significant philosophical issues; they are intelligible to philosophers whose expertise lies outside the subject matter of the article. A diligent reader of the journal will be kept informed of the major problems and contributions of contemporary analytic philosophy.

Philosophical Studies is surveyed by Bulletin Signaletique; Current Contents/Arts & Humanities; Arts & Humanities Citation Index; Informationsdienst für Philosophie; Linguistic & Language Behavior Abstracts; MLA International Bibliography; The Philosopher's Index; Referativnyi Zhurnal; Revue Philosophique de Louvain; IBZ/IBR; Mathematical Reviews; Centre Nationale de la Recherche; International Bibliography of Austrian Philosophy; Sociological Abstracts; Academic Abstracts; The Philosophical Review; Research Alert

Editor-in-Chief Jaakko Hintikka

Editors James H. Fetzer, Risto Hilpinen,

Synthese publishes articles in the theory of knowledge, the general methodological problems of science, such as the problems of scientific discovery and scientific interest, of induction and probability, of causation and of the role of mathematics, statistics and logic in science, the methodological and foundational problems of the different departmental sciences, insofar as they have philosophical interest, those aspects of symbolic logic and of the foundations of mathematics which are relevant to the philosophy and methodology of science, and those facets of the history and sociology of science which are important for contemporary topical pursuits.

Particular attention is paid to the role of mathematical, logical and linguistic methods in the general methodology of science and the foundations of the different sciences, be they physical, biological, behavioral or social.

Most of the issues of Synthese are organized into thematic issues, taking the character of symposia dealing with described themes.
