

ROYAL MUSICAL ASSOCIATION

Volume 136 Part 1 2011

CONTENTS

Editorial	i
Defining the City 'Trumpeter': German Civic Identity and the Employment of Brass Instrumentalists, c.1500 Helen Green	1
Handel and Homosexuality: Burlington House and Cannons Revisited Thomas McGeary	33
The Expansion of Symphonic Space in Mahler's First Symphony Thomas Peattie	73
Hispanic Traditions in a Cross-Cultural Perspective: Raoul Laparra's La habanera (1908) and French Critics Samuel Llano	97
Musical Emergence in Björk's Medúlla Victoria Malawey	141
Review Articles
The Twentieth Century: Un siècle de musique . . . russe? Richard Taruskin, On Russian Music ; Philip Ross Bullock, Rosa Newmarch and Russian Music in Late Nineteenth and Early Twentieth-Century England Katerina Levidou	181
Utilité publique and Public Utility Jann Pasler, Composing the Citizen: Music as Public Utility in Third Republic France Cormac Newark	195
The Dent Medal	201
Contributors	205
Correspondence	206