

Acknowledgements

This book arose out of a project that was generously funded by the Leverhulme Trust through the grant of a Major Research Fellowship. I am grateful to readers of proposals and drafts, to reviewers, to the editors of the Law in Context series, to its commissioning editor, Tom Randall, and to Joshua Penney and Franklin Mathews Jebaraj for their work at the production stage. I am also grateful to readers yet to come. The writing stage of making has ended. The reading stage of making goes on.
