The Nutrition of the Young Pig

BY

I. A. M. LUCUS AND G. A. LODGE

Technical Communication No. 22 of the Commonwealth Bureau of Animal Nutrition

The two authors, who have themselves made notable contributions to understanding of the nutrition of sows and young pigs, have gathered a wealth of material on the feeding of the pig between birth and 45 lb. liveweight. They deal both with pigs reared by the sow and with those weaned early.

ANIMAL BEHAVIOUR

Editor : Alastair N. Worden

Animal Behaviour is issued twice a year in April and October. It publishes original papers on animal behaviour and related subjects from contributors in many countries. Reports of researches, book reviews and correspondence are included, as are reports of the Proceedings of the Association for the Study of Animal Behaviour and the Section of Animal Behavior and Sociobiology (Ecological Society of America and American Society of Zoologists), of which it is the official journal.

The contents of the current issue include:

H. C. Chiang. Ecology of Insect Swarms.
I. Experimental studies of the behaviour of Anarete Johnsoni, felt in artificially induced swans (Cecidonayudae, Diptera).

R. Mitchell. Behaviour of the larvae of Arrencous fissicomis marshall, a water mite parasite on dragonflies.

Barbara Abercrombie and H. James. The Stability of the Domestic Chick's Response to Visual Flicker.

H. S. Siegel and P. B. Siegel. The Relationship of Social Competition with Endocrine Weights and activity in Male Chickens.

J. A. King. Swimming and Reaction to Electric shock in Two Sub-species of Deermice (Peromyscus maniculatus) during Development.

J. C. Kaufman and R. A. Hinde. Factors Influencing Distress Calling in Chicks, with special reference to temperature changes and social isolation.
