

AFRICAN STUDIES

REVIEW

VOLUME XVII, NUMBER 3
DECEMBER 1974

ARTICLES BY

ANDREW A. BEVERIDGE
STANLEY SHALOFF
LADUN ANISE
EDWARD H. BERMAN
AUGUSTUS A. ADEYINKA
OMOTUNDE E. G. JOHNSON

RESEARCH & TEACHING NOTES

RAYMOND F. HOPKINS
ROBERT C. MITCHELL
MICHAEL ARMER
WILLIAM M. O'BARR
MARSHALL H. SEGALL
W. ED WHITELAW

Published by the
AFRICAN STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Edited by the
PROGRAM OF EASTERN
AFRICAN STUDIES

Maxwell School, Syracuse University

AFRICAN STUDIES REVIEW is edited and published three times a year (April, September, and December) by the Program of Eastern African Studies, The Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University. The views expressed are the authors' and not necessarily those of the Association, its officers, or the Program of Eastern African Studies.

Editor

Alan K. Smith

Program of Eastern African Studies

Teaching Notes Editor

Evelyn Jones Rich

Director, School Services Division
African American Institute

Review Essay Editor

Hans E. Panofsky

Curator, Melville J. Herskovits Library
Northwestern University

Editorial Board: Rand Bishop (Literature, SUNY-Oswego); James L. Brain (Anthropology, SUNY-New Paltz); Ross Coates (Fine Arts, Russell Sage College); S. J. Cookey (History, Rutgers University); Neville Dyson-Hudson (Anthropology, SUNY-Binghamton); John D. Esseks (Political Economy, Northern Illinois); Judith L. Evans (Psychology, University of Massachusetts); Harvey K. Flad (Geography, Vassar College); Thomas H. Henriksen (History, SUNY-Plattsburgh); Milton R. Konvitz (Law, Cornell University); Germina Lubega (Economics, Hamilton College); Charles H. Lyons (Education, Teachers College, Columbia University); C. Chinwoke Mbadinuju (International Relations, SUNY-Cortland); Alvin Magid (Political Science, SUNY-Albany); David W. McDowell (Education, SUNY-New Paltz); R. A. Obudho (Geography, Rutgers University); Victor C. Uchendu (Sociology, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign); Norman Uphoff (Economics, Cornell); Warren Weinstein (Political Science, SUNY-Oswego); Claude Welch (International Relations, SUNY-Buffalo).

Review Secretary: Mrs. Sarah L. LaMar

The African Studies Review is a publication of the African Studies Association. Receipt of the Review, the African Studies Newsletter, and Issue (a quarterly journal of opinion on Africa) is automatic with Membership in the Association. For information on Membership, write the African Studies Association, 218 Shiffman Center, Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts, 02154.

Advertising information is available from the Association's office at Brandeis University.

Domestic claims for non-receipt of issues must be made to the Association's office within six months of the month of publication; overseas claims, one year.

AFRICAN STUDIES REVIEW

VOLUME XVII

NUMBER 3

DECEMBER 1974

- Economic Independence, Indigenization, and the African Businessman: Some Effects of Zambia's Economic Reforms
Andrew A. Beveridge 477
- The Africanization Controversy in the Gold Coast, 1926-1946
Stanley Shaloff 493
- Trends in Leadership Succession and Regime Change in African Politics Since Independence
Ladun Anise 507
- African Responses to Christian Mission Education
Edward H. Berman 527
- King Gezo of Dahomey, 1818-1858: A Reassessment of a West African Monarch in the Nineteenth Century
Augustus A. Adeyinka 541
- Contract Costs and the Liability Structure for Stranger-Tenant Damages in Sierra Leone's Customary Land Law: An Economic Analysis
Omotunde E. G. Johnson 549

RESEARCH NOTES

- Survey Research in Africa: The Viability of Survey Research in Africa—Some Propositions
Raymond F. Hopkins and Robert C. Mitchell 567
- Survey Research in Africa: A Sociologist's View
Michael Armer 575
- Survey Research in Africa: An Anthropologist's View
William M. O'Barr 577
- Some Observations on Observations on Observations
Marshall H. Segall 584
- An Economist's View of Survey Research in Africa: Observations on Tarzan, Fascism, the Measurement of Attitudes and Nonparametric Techniques
W. Ed Whitelaw 587

The assistant to the editor is Peter T. Dalleo.

ABOUT THE CONTRIBUTORS

Augustus A. Adeyinka is a lecturer in Education in the Department of Education, University of Ibadan, Nigeria. A specialist in history and philosophy of education, African history and Biblical studies, he has contributed many scholarly papers in his various disciplines to many local and foreign learned journals. His most recent publications include Essays on Old Testament History and Religion (Onibonoje, Ibadan, Nigeria, 1972) and A Textbook on Bible Knowledge for Nigerian Secondary Schools (Onibonoje, 1973).

Ladun Anise is an Assistant Professor of Political Science and African Studies at the University of Pittsburgh. His research interests center on African political ethnicity, the politics of national unification, and African liberation movements. His current works include The Politics of National Unification: Nigeria 1945-70, and The Geopolitics of African Liberation Movements: A Book of Readings.

Edward H. Berman is Associate Professor of Education and Associate Director, Center for International Education, University of Louisville. His latest book, African Reactions to Missionary Education, from which this article is adapted, will be published at the end of 1974 by Teachers College Press.

Andrew A. Beveridge is an Assistant Professor of Sociology at Columbia University. Specializing in the study of social change and sociological aspects of economic life, he is continuing his work on the role of indigenous entrepreneurs in the Third World.

Raymond F. Hopkins is an Associate Professor of Political Science at Swarthmore College and is currently on leave at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington, D.C. His most recent book is Structure and Process in International Politics (Harper and Row, 1973); he is currently completing a book on Kenyan politics and beginning a study of the internationalization of domestic bureaucracies.

Omotunde E.G. Johnson is an economist currently with the International Monetary Fund. The author of articles appearing in other scholarly journals, he is presently doing research on property rights, banking and other problems related to development in Africa.

Stanley Shaloff is a Visiting Associate Professor of History at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. He is the author of Reform in Leopold's Congo (John Knox, 1970) and several articles, some of which have appeared in African Affairs, the International Journal of African Historical Studies and Cahiers D'Etudes Africaines.