

The list originally appeared as an appendix to a report on a publication survey trip to Great Britain and the Netherlands which I made in early 1977. As part of my effort to locate centers of African research and organizations concerned with sub-Saharan Africa, I visited the headquarters of a number of groups in London, Amsterdam, and other cities. In my report, I describe the Nederlands-Zuidafrikaanse Vereniging and its affiliates as organizations whose "primary concerns are the cultural, historic, and linguistic ties between the Netherlands and South Africa." It is unfortunate that this address list, when reproduced in part in the Africana Libraries Newsletter and subsequently in the African Studies Newsletter, was incorrectly identified by the editors as relating only to "liberation support groups." A more correct title would have been "Organizations in Great Britain and the Netherlands Concerned with African Affairs."

Thank you for bringing this matter to my attention. A copy of my trip report is enclosed.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir/Madam,

With reference to the statement of the Current Issues Committee on the arrest and detention of Ngugi wa Thiong'o on p. 26 of the April Newsletter, and the University of Nairobi's vacancy announcement on p. 23, you may be interested to note the following item, culled from the [British] Association of University Teachers Bulletin no. 72, June 1978, p. 5, among the "News from Headquarters, by the General Secretary":

"POSTS IN KENYA

At its recent meeting AUT Council noted that the African writer Ngugi wa Thiong'o who is head of the Department of Literature at the University of Nairobi, has been imprisoned without trial in Kenya. AUT wishes to draw members' attention to this and before answering advertisements for academic posts at the University of Nairobi, contact should be made with AUT Headquarters."

Yours faithfully,
