

New!

Homework

Historical and Contemporary Perspectives on Paid Labor at Home

Edited by Eileen Boris and Cynthia R. Daniels

"An important contribution to women's history, labor history, and the history of state policy. It also makes an excellent addition to a wide range of disciplines through the presentation both of case studies and of the broader theoretical and conceptual issues which underlie them."

— Nancy Hewitt, author of Women's Activism and Social Change.

Illustrated. Cloth, $32.50; paper, $12.95.

Working-Class America

Essays on Labor, Community, and American Society

Edited and with an introduction by Michael H. Frisch and Daniel J. Walkowitz

"This book represents the pick of a growing crop. The authors are academics . . . inspired by the belief in the capacity of ordinary people to overrule the directors of corporations and the state." — Michael Kazin, The Nation. A volume in the series The Working Class in American History, edited by David Brody, Alice Kessler-Harris, David Montgomery, and Sean Wilentz. Paper, $9.95.

Working for Democracy

American Workers from the Revolution to the Present

Edited by Paul Buhle and Alan Dawley

"The value of this book is indisputable. The issues it addresses are timeless, and I can think of no work in print that better serves its purpose." — Stephen G. Weisner, History. Illustrated. Cloth, $19.95; paper, $6.95.

Order toll free 800/666-2211 or from

University of Illinois Press

c/o CUP Services • P. O. Box 6525 • Ithaca, NY 14851

THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN UNIVERSITY PRESSES DIRECTORY 1988-1989

The Association of American University Presses has for over fifty years worked to encourage the dissemination of scholarly research and ideas. Today the ninety-nine members of the AAUP annually publish nearly 7,000 books and more than 400 periodicals. This directory offers a detailed introduction to the structure and staff of the AAUP and to the publishing programs and personnel of its member presses.

Among its useful features are

- a detailed description of each press with a summary of its publishing program and a list of the names and responsibilities of its key staff;
- complete address information, including telephone, fax, telex, cable numbers, and electronic mail addresses;
- a subject guide, with 136 categories, indicating which presses publish in a given area;
- an alphabetical index of all listed personnel;
- a listing of key contact persons at each press;
- advice to authors on the submission of manuscripts.

As an introduction and guide to the world of university presses, this directory will be an essential reference and resource to anyone who is or wants to be involved in scholarly publishing.

Order No. 0-945103-01-8 Paper $11.95 224pp
Distributed for the Association of American University Presses

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

Dept. CE /5801 South Ellis Avenue Chicago, IL 60637

Evolutionary Jurisprudence

Prospects and Limitations on the Use of Modern Darwinism throughout the Legal Process

John H. Beckstrom

As the study of social behavior of all organisms, including humans, sociobiology can have relevance for many controversial legal topics. In his 1985 book, Sociobiology and the Law, John Beckstrom addressed the potential for applying scientific theories to thorny social issues.

Now, in Evolutionary Jurisprudence, Beckstrom refines and expands his presentation, exploring additional legal areas to which biocultural science could apply, as well as its practical limitations. Beckstrom also demonstrates how judicial commentaries on human behavior, dating back over 300 years and stored in law libraries, may be used, in turn, to test contemporary Darwinian hypotheses.

"At last, Beckstrom makes a long overdue case for a biologically informed jurisprudence. The law always makes implicit assumptions about human nature. Now Beckstrom pleads for a legal system that explicitly incorporates modern human biology. I can only hope that lawyers will take notice." — Pierre L. van den Berghe, author of The Ethnic Phenomenon $24.95.

Order toll free 800/666-2211, or from

University of Illinois Press

c/o CUP Services • P. O. Box 6525 • Ithaca, NY 14851

To Chain the Dog of War

The War Power of Congress in History and Law

SECOND EDITION

Francis D. Wormuth and Edwin B. Firmage

U.S. presidents from Washington to Reagan have repeatedly committed acts of war without proper congressional authorization. With the advent of nuclear weaponry, some argue for the necessity of secrecy and dispatch in warring. In To Chain the Dog of War, Francis Wormuth and Edwin Firmage conclude that nuclear technology demands more—not less—restraint in the way America enters war.

This edition includes new material on recent events—including the Iran/Contra affair and the invasion of Grenada—and on the current situation in Nicaragua, the Persian Gulf, and El Salvador. Since the end of World War II, covert war has become the primary means of violence between cold war adversaries. While nuclear weapons have made all-out war unacceptable, ideological differences have fueled a ferocious struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union. Covert action—from intelligence-gathering to secret and unauthorized war—has become the characteristic form of violence between nations. The second edition contains new chapters on covert war and the relationship between law and the control of violence. Each chapter has been revised to include analysis of every act of war through the Reagan years.

“An important new book . . . that I wish every member of Congress and would-be president would carefully study.” — George McGovern

Cloth, $39.95; Paper, $14.95.

Order toll free 800/666-2211

University of Illinois Press

c/o CUP Services • P. O. Box 6525 • Ithaca, NY 14851

"Indispensable to scholars and teachers in this dynamic and growing field." — Lawrence M. Friedman, Stanford Law School

LAW AND HISTORY REVIEW

Edited by Michael H. Hoeflich and Bruce H. Mann

Published by the University of Illinois Press for the American Society for Legal History, Law and History Review is America's leading legal history journal. Encompassing American, English, European, and ancient legal history issues, LHR is essential for legal historians and for anyone seriously interested in the field. Each issue features essays and commentaries by international authorities as well as reviews of new and important books on legal history.

Published twice yearly in April and October.
Subscription price: institutions, $45.00 ($48.00 foreign); individuals, $25.00 ($28.00 foreign). The annual subscription fee also includes membership in the American Society for Legal History.

Send subscription orders to:

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

54 E. Gregory Drive
Champaign, IL 61820

Note to Contributors

The editors welcome unsolicited manuscripts, books for review, and suggestions concerning the Review. Manuscripts should be submitted to Michael Hoeflich at the College of Law, Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY 13244. The text should be typed, double-spaced, on 8½" x 11" paper with ample margins on all sides. Type on one side of the paper only. Footnotes should be typed double-spaced and separate from the text, and should conform to either the style found in the Chicago Manual of Style (13th ed.) or to A Uniform System of Citation (14th ed.); the Chicago Manual is preferred. Authors of accepted manuscripts should contact the editorial office regarding computer compatibility.

American Society for Legal History

Officers and Directors, 1989

Barbara Aronstein Black,
Columbia Law School,
President

Michael de L. Landon,
University of Mississippi,
Secretary

Lawrence M. Friedman,
Stanford Law School,
Vice-President

Craig Joyce, University of Houston Law Center,
Treasurer

Board of Directors

Norma Basch
Rutgers University

Henry J. Bourguignon
*University of Toledo
College of Law*

James W. Ely, Jr.
Vanderbilt University School of Law

Hendrik Hartog
*University of Wisconsin
College of Law*

R. H. Helmholz
University of Chicago Law School

Cynthia B. Herrup
Duke University

Laura Kalman
University of California, Santa Barbara

Bruce H. Mann
University of Pennsylvania Law School

Maeva Marcus
Documentary History Project of the Supreme Court

James C. Oldham
Georgetown University Law Center

Robert C. Palmer
*University of Houston
Law Center*

Edward A. Purcell, Jr.
New York City

Marylynn Salmon
Northampton, Massachusetts

Stephen D. White
Wesleyan University

William M. Wiecek
Syracuse University

Fellows of the American Society for Legal History

Honorary Fellows

David Daube
Charles Fairman
George Haskins

J. Willard Hurst
Stephan G. Kuttner
Richard Morris

John T. Noonan, Jr.
John Philip Reid
Samuel E. Thorne

Corresponding fellows

Raoul C. Van Caenegem
Helmut Coing
Robert Feenstra
Alfonso Garcia Gallo

Jean Gaudemet
Stroud F. C. Milsom
G. O. Sayles

Thomas G. Smith
Andre Tunc
Franz Wiecek

For further information about the American Society for Legal History, write: Michael de L. Landon, Department of History, University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677; telephone 601/232-7105 or 232-7148.