THE WORLD TODAY

STUDENTS OF CURRENT AFFAIRS, to be well informed, need the facts. In THE WORLD TODAY, the monthly journal of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, experts bring to the general reader up-to-date and reliable information on world affairs.

Authoritative and objective, THE WORLD TODAY deals primarily with international problems but also includes articles on internal political and economic conditions in individual countries or regions, written by authors with first-hand knowledge. Short comment in 'Notes of the Month' puts current developments into perspective and provides a background to events of international significance.

Autumn – Winter Double Issue (118/119) 1983

Soviet Foreign Policy Active Measures and Political Strategy

This issue includes The Plot to Kill the Pope by Paul Henze which examines the evidence on the case and Soviet media treatment of it. Was the plot directed from the KGB Department of “Wet Affairs”? SURVEY provides an analysis of the historical background to Soviet techniques of terrorism and assassination abroad and explores Soviet disinformation practices.

It also surveys the overall context of present Soviet strategy in world affairs, focusing on some sensitive points in the global balance of power:

The USSR and the UN
Central America and the Lessons of Vietnam
De-coupling the Allies: Northern Europe and Japan
The Soviet Union, China and Cambodia
Will the Soviets Pull Out of Afghanistan?
Moscow's Disenchantment with Iran
Prospects in Africa

Theory and Society is an undogmatic bi-monthly journal of the social sciences, produced by a worldwide fellowship of scholars who seek, through synthesis of sociology and marxism, to deepen understanding of the 'present as history' and to renew critical social theory. It is published for critical sociologists, independent marxists, and for other unpacified intellectuals.

Theory and Society works to keep sociology and marxism open to one another, seeking to stimulate and to husband social theory's great traditions. Preserving the viable works of Max Weber, Emile Durkheim, and Karl Marx, we also develop them in creative directions. Rather than the partisan of some special theory, then, Theory and Society is the guardian of a larger theoretic culture.

Subsidized neither by professional associations, universities, nor private benefactors, Theory and Society has grown only because it publishes work of excellence and interest to its readers.

Comparative Studies in Society and History is a forum for presentation and discussion of new research into problems of change and stability that recur in human societies through time or in the contemporary world. It sets up a working alliance between specialists in all branches of the social sciences and humanities. Debate and review articles bring the general reader in touch with current findings and issues.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions may be descriptive, analytical or theoretical. Any article not in itself comparative may be accepted if it lends itself to comment that will place it in comparative perspective. Correspondence with the editors prior to the submission of articles will help to enable them to obtain such comment or a companion study. Emphasis in comparative studies may be either on similarities or, if these are significant enough and call for some recasting of generalizations, on differences. All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to the Editors, Comparative Studies in Society and History, Department of History, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109.

Two copies of each contribution, preferably accompanied by a stamped, addressed envelope, should be submitted. Both text and footnotes should be clearly typed with double spacing and wide margins; footnotes should appear on separate pages at the end of the article. Illustrations may be included by arrangement with the editors.

Contributors will receive 50 offprints. Any additional offprints must be ordered on receipt of the first proof.
