
Notes for Contributors

The World's Poultry Science Journal publishes: review articles on all aspects of poultry science, reports on the development of poultry production from around the world, reports from constituent scientific working groups, book reviews, Association and Branch news, together with a listing of forthcoming events. Summaries of the review articles are published in French, German, Russian and Spanish. The journal does not usually publish the results or original research unless these form a minor part of an article that mainly reviews published work, or where they are contained in reports given at branch meetings or arise from the activities of Federation Working Groups. Among the characteristics considered important in a review paper are that it should be comprehensive, within the area defined by its title, and that it should take into account the validity of the results cited including critical assessments of the methods used and, where appropriate, the statistical significance of the results. The reviewer should use sound data to reinforce the points made in discussion and draw conclusions from the evidence that has been presented.

Typescripts

Typescripts should be in English and should be sent in duplicate to the Editor, World's Poultry Science Journal, Cropthorne Cottage, Gravel Path, Berkhamsted, Hertfordshire HP4 2PH, UK. Contributions, which will be subject to scrutiny by independent referees and editorial revision, should normally not be longer than the equivalent of 8–10 pages of the journal (or approximately 6000 words) including tables, illustrations and references. Longer reviews are accepted from time to time, but it is advisable for authors to contact the Editor before submission. Papers should be typewritten on one side of the paper only and the typing should be double-spaced between lines with ample margins on each side of the sheet. The automatic numbering of lines in the margin is a great advantage. Pages should be assembled in the order: title; name and postal address(es) of author(s); where applicable, name and address of institution where the work was done; summary of between 100 and 300 words; keywords (up to 8); text of paper; references; tables; figures; figure legends (on separate page); abbreviated title (for use as a running headline). The pages of the paper itself should be numbered in the upper right-hand corner and should only be fastened by means of a paper-clip.

To enable summaries to be translated into French, German, Russian and Spanish, contributions should be accompanied by an additional copy of the summary (in English) of 100–300 words, typed on a separate sheet of paper.

References

References to previous work should be cited in the text with the author's name and the year of publication in parenthesis, e.g. 'Brown (1957) showed that . . .'. At the end of the paper, the references should be listed in alphabetical order of the surnames of the first author with all authors included, e.g. 'Brown, A.B., Smith, C.D. and Jack, E.F. . .'. The titles of journals should be given in full and should include the first and last page numbers of the papers concerned.
