Under the general editorship of Richard H. Leach, of Duke University, this distinctive series includes major theoretical and applied studies relating to basic concepts in government and political science. Encompassing a wide range of issues, these classic works offer an abundance of valuable historical data and scholarly analyses. In many cases, eminent specialists have provided new introductions as a means of placing the works within the perspective of modern scholarship.

In addition to the above, several other titles were published in the 1972 series. Please write for detailed brochure.

Individuals ordering books for their own use may deduct 20% from the list price on prepaid orders. Johnson Reprint Corporation will pay postage and handling.

Help your clients give a little love where it's needed

Others may have said "unwanted" –but the Children's Society tries to see that the 5,000 children they'll look after this year (many of them in one of their 75 Homes) always feel loved and cared for. Please ask your Clients to remember our children in wills or with covenants.

WE GIVE A LITTLE LOVE WHERE IT'S NEEDED

Children's Society

Dept 13, Kennington Road London S.E.11 4QD.

Britain's largest adoption organisation: homes nurseries & special centres including schools for diabetic, maladjusted and physically handicapped children. Fostering, family casework etc.

A legacy

a lot to the limbless

18,000 limbless Ex-Service men depend on the British Limbless Ex-Service Men's Association.

BLESMA is not aided by the State. But we urgently need money to help these veterans conquer their handicap. And to equip and maintain homes in which they convalesce and are given care and comfort in their old age.

This is where you can help. A word from you to your client might give hope and encouragement to those who gave so much for their country. A legacy would mean a lot to them.

Final Appeal

A Study of the House of Lords in its Judicial Capacity

LOUIS BLOM-COOPER and GAVIN DREWRY

This is a unique study of a British legal institution, revealing the inner workings of the House of Lords as a final Court of Appeal. It places the judicial House of Lords in its historical context, guides the reader through the maze of procedural rules and conventions, and studies the way in which the Law Lords performed their Judicial and legislative role during the period 1952–68. A Theory of Justice

JOHN RAWLS

‘I think that this book is the most substantial and interesting contribution to moral philosophy since the war. . . . The substance of a critical and liberal philosophy is here argued with an assurance and breadth of mind that puts the book in the tradition of Adam Smith and Sidgwick.’—

STUART HAMPSHIRE in the New York Review of Books.

Legal Control of Government

Administrative Law in Britain and the United States

BERNARD SCHWARTZ and H. W. R. WADE

The rule of law is a primary article of faith in the British and American democracies. What it means in practice is determined by the rules of administrative law, which set numerous legal limits to the powers of government. This work compares the systems of the two countries, both in general and in detail. £3

Frederic William Maitland

A Life

C. H. S. FIFOOT

Renowned as scholar, teacher, and legal historian, Frederic William Maitland advanced the cause of legal history, opposing the idea that legal history was law and not history. Mr Fifoot traces the origin and development of Maitland's works, using them to show the man himself and his qualities of mind and spirit. Frontispiece £4.75 Harvard University Press
