History of Latvia

By ALFRED BILMANIS. A fully documented history extending from Baltic pre-history through the successive periods of domination by Germany, Poland, Sweden, and Russia, to the period of national awakening, the Republic's 20 years of independence, and its absorption into the U.S.S.R. Especially valuable is the analysis of the confused period of 1918-1919, which has never before received such thorough treatment. The author was professor of history at Riga College, and minister at Moscow and Washington. $6.00

The Soviets in World Affairs

By LOUIS FISCHER. A basic document in Russian history, first issued in 1930, covering the post-revolution period 1917-1929. A monumental work, based on sources no longer available, including a unique opportunity to work in the Soviet archives and many long interviews with such leaders as Chicherin and Litvinov. Mr. Fischer has written a new introduction, but the original text is reproduced without change. "Even more important for American readers than it appeared to be 21 years ago."—Saturday Review
