CONTENTS

Joint Statement

- 1 Collective Strength, Collective Action
Mary Lou Manning and Anthony D. Harris

Original Articles

- 2 Mucosal Barrier Injury Laboratory-Confirmed Bloodstream Infections (MBI-LCBI): Descriptive Analysis of Data Reported to National Healthcare Safety Network (NHSN), 2013
Lauren Epstein, Isaac See, Jonathan R. Edwards, Shelley S. Magill and Nicola D. Thompson
- 8 Transmission of Clostridium difficile During Hospitalization for Allogeneic Stem Cell Transplant
Mini Kamboj, Anna Sheahan, Janet Sun, Ying Taur, Elizabeth Robilotti, Esther Babady, Genovefa Papanicolaou, Ann Jakubowski, Eric Pamer and Kent Sepkowitz
- 16 Commentary: Clostridium difficile: The More We Learn, the Less We Know
Virginia R. Roth
- 19 Evaluating the Use of the Case Mix Index for Risk Adjustment of Healthcare-Associated Infection Data: An Illustration using Clostridium difficile Infection Data from the National Healthcare Safety Network
Nicola D. Thompson, Jonathan R. Edwards, Margaret A. Dudeck, Scott K. Fridkin and Shelley S. Magill
- 26 VRE and VSE Bacteremia Outcomes in the Era of Effective VRE Therapy: A Systematic Review and Meta-analysis
Chatura Prematunge, Colin MacDougall, Jennie Johnstone, Kwaku Adomako, Freda Lam, Jennifer Robertson and Gary Garber
- 36 Routine Use of Contact Precautions for Methicillin-Resistant Staphylococcus aureus and Vancomycin-Resistant Enterococcus: Which Way Is the Pendulum Swinging?
Dana Russell, Susan E. Beekmann, Philip M. Polgreen, Zachary Rubin and Daniel Z. Uslan
- 41 Universal vs Risk Factor Screening for Methicillin-Resistant Staphylococcus aureus in a Large Multicenter Tertiary Care Facility in Canada
V. R. Roth, T. Longpre, M. Taljaard, D. Coyle, K. N. Suh, K. A. Muldoon, K. Ramotar and A. Forster
- 49 Increasing Incidence of Extended-Spectrum  $\beta$ -Lactamase-Producing Escherichia coli in Community Hospitals throughout the Southeastern United States
Joshua T. Thaden, Vance G. Fowler, Jr, Daniel J. Sexton and Deverick J. Anderson
- 55 The Epidemiology of Carbapenem-Resistant Klebsiella pneumoniae Colonization and Infection among Long-Term Acute Care Hospital Residents
John P. Mills, Naasha J. Talati, Kevin Alby and Jennifer H. Han
- 61 National Survey of Thai Infectious Disease Physicians on Treatment of Carbapenem-Resistant Acinetobacter baumannii Ventilator-Associated Pneumonia: The Role of Infection Control Awareness
Aubonphan Buppajarntham, Anucha Apisarnthanarak, Thana Khawcharoenporn, Sasinuch Rutjanaweck and Nalini Singh
- 70 Indications and Types of Antibiotic Agents Used in 6 Acute Care Hospitals, 2009–2010: A Pragmatic Retrospective Observational Study
Theodoros Kelesidis, Nikolay Braykov, Daniel Z. Uslan, Daniel J. Morgan, Sumanth Gandra, Birgir Johannsson, Marin L. Schweizer, Scott A. Weisenberg, Heather Young, Joseph Cantey, Eli Perencevich, Edward Septimus, Arjun Srinivasan and Ramanan Laxminarayan

- 80 Surgical Procedure Characteristics and Risk of Sharps-Related Blood and Body Fluid Exposure
Douglas J. Myers, Hester J. Lipscomb, Carol Epling, Debra Hunt, William Richardson, Lynn Smith-Lovin and John M. Dement
- 88 Diabetes and Risk of Surgical Site Infection: A Systematic Review and Meta-analysis
Emily T. Martin, Keith S. Kaye, Caitlin Knott, Huong Nguyen, Maressa Santarossa, Richard Evans, Elizabeth Bertran and Linda Jaber

Concise Communications

- 100 Impact of Hospital Operating Margin on Central Line-Associated Bloodstream Infections Following Medicare's Hospital-Acquired Conditions Payment Policy
Michael S. Calderwood, Louise E. Vaz, Alison Tse Kawai, Robert Jin, Melisa D. Rett, Patricia S. Grant and Grace M. Lee
- 104 Rising Incidence of Clostridium difficile Related Discharges among Hospitalized Children in the United States
Chaitanya Pant, Abhishek Deshpande, Richard Gilroy, Mojtaba Olyae and Curtis J. Donskey
- 107 A Successful Vancomycin-Resistant Enterococci Reduction Bundle at a Singapore Hospital
Dale Fisher, Long Pang, Sharon Salmon, Raymond T.P. Lin, Cathrine Teo, Paul Tambyah, Roland Jureen, Alex R. Cook and Jonathan A. Otter
- 110 Perception vs Reality: Methicillin-Resistant Staphylococcus aureus Carriage Among Healthcare Workers at a Veterans Affairs Medical Center

About the cover:

The cover format of each volume of Infection Control & Hospital Epidemiology honors one of the many professionals throughout history who recognized not only how disease might be spread but also how the principles of epidemiology could be applied to reduce healthcare-associated infections.

Florence Nightingale (1820–1910) was named after the Italian city where she was born to affluent and well-educated English landowners. As a middle-class woman in Victorian England, Florence recognized that she was destined for a life of domesticity and “trivial occupations.” Her choice of nursing, given its reputation at the time as a vocation for poor elderly spinsters, was met with significant familial opposition. During her European travels, Ms. Nightingale visited the Deaconess Mutterhaus in Kaiserswerth, Düsseldorf, one of the most forward thinking nursing training schools of the day. She returned to Düsseldorf to complete her training and then studied with the Sisters of Charity in Paris. She later assumed the role of superintendent at a hospital for invalid gentlewomen in London.

In 1854, the Minister of War invited Ms. Nightingale to oversee the introduction of nurses at British Army hospitals in Scutari, Turkey. Up to that point, 20% of men who fought in the Crimean War died, and approximately 70% of those deaths were due to infections such as typhus, cholera, typhoid, and dysentery. The germ theory of disease had not yet been formulated, but Florence Nightingale recognized that most problems were caused by “inadequate diet, dirt, and drains.” She adopted the concept of “sanitary nursing” ensuring that patient care focused on prevention of infection through adequate diet, fresh air, light, warmth, and cleanliness. She was an early advocate for hand hygiene and the need for clean water, adequate ventilation, and appropriate sewage disposal. Each night, she traveled through more than 6 km of hospital wards carrying a Turkish lamp; thus the media referred to her as “The Lady with the Lamp.” With her interventions, mortality rates declined to 2%–6%.

In response, a grateful nation raised £50,000 for the Nightingale Fund, and the first professional training school for nurses at St. Thomas’ Hospital, London, was established under her direction. Florence Nightingale was one of the first to apply statistical analysis to her observations. She made important recommendations regarding the optimal design of hospitals and patient wards, saying, “The very first requirement in a hospital is that it should do the sick no harm.” Training schools have been established worldwide based on her ideas. Florence Nightingale was the first woman to receive Britain’s highest civilian decoration, the Order of Merit. She died at the age of 90 after many years of being bed-ridden due to chronic illness, possibly brucellosis.
