Notice to contributors

The Psychiatric Bulletin concentrates on provision of services to people with mental disorders, and psychiatric training. It operates an independent peer review system.

Please send three copies of all submissions, typed double-spaced with wide margins. A good length is 1200 words. Key references must be listed using the Harvard system, as in the British Journal of Psychiatry. A summary of up to 100 words should be supplied with original articles.

Submissions to the audit section should demonstrate a completed audit cycle and must be preceded by a structured abstract of up to 100 words. Correspondence on subjects of topical interest is welcome; letters should be no more than 350 words, with up to three references, and should not include diagrams or tables.

If an individual patient is described, his or her consent should be obtained, and the patient should read the report before submission. Where the patient is not able to give informed consent, it should be obtained from an authorised person. If consent is refused, a case study can only be written up if all personal details, dates and other identifying information are omitted to ensure that there is no breach of confidentiality. Contributors should be aware of the risk of complaint by patients in respect of defamation and breach of confidentiality.

All material submitted should be accompanied by a covering letter to the editor signed by all authors. Contributions are accepted for publication on the condition that their substance has not been published or submitted elsewhere.

The Psychiatric Bulletin is published monthly by the Royal College of Psychiatrists, 17 Belgrave Square, London SW1X 8PG. (Registered charity no. 228636.)
