Conference on British Studies Biographical Series

George Joachim Goschen

The Transformation of a Victorian Liberal

THOMAS J. SPINNER, Jr.

"This work provides a thorough, stimulating analysis of Goschen's career. . . . [It] fills a need for a modern life of Goschen, replacing Arthur R. D. Elliott's outdated The Life of George Joachim Goschen (1911), and also serves as an elucidation of political conditions in an age of transition." — Library Journal $14.50

Radical Journalist:

Henry W. Massingham, 1860-1924

ALFRED F. HAVIGHURST

The first biography of the editor of the Star, the Daily Chronicle and the Nation who played an important role in English society and political history. Professor Havighurst clearly demonstrates Massingham's influence in the formation of progressivism. $19.50

John Cartwright

JOHN W. OSBORNE

An analysis of the political plans of Major John Cartwright (1740-1824), showing how his ideas became a prime factor in the Chartist Movement. Dr. Osborne shows that Cartwright tried to understand the changing times, yet remained basically a traditionalist. $12.95

A detailed account of the changing face of England from the coming of the Anglo-Saxons to the early twentieth-century. $38.50

Studies of Field Systems in the British Isles

Editors: ALAN R. H. BAKER and
ROBIN A. BUTLIN

This volume, covering field systems from Anglo-Saxon times to the break-up of the medieval pattern, synthesizes and advances the enormous amount of research undertaken since H. L. Gray's classic work was published more than a half century ago. $32.50

Cambridge University Press

32 East 57th Street, New York, N. Y. 10022

---

Popular Recreations in English Society 1700-1850

ROBERT W. MALCOLMSON

The holiday festivities and rugged sports of English laboring people are vividly described and placed within their social context. The author then discusses the cultural and economic changes that led to their decline. $11.95

Popery and Politics in England 1660-1688

JOHN MILLER

The first serious attempt to analyze anti-Catholicism in seventeenth-century England, based on public and private sources and contemporary pamphlets. $14.50

The Survival of English

Essays in the Criticism of Language

IAN ROBINSON

The author contends that the debasing of English is deforming our values, and uses as examples the new Bible translations, The Times (of London), the current language of love and the language of politics. $11.50

The Birth of the English Common Law

R. C. VAN CAENEGEM

An interpretation of the emergence of the Common Law in Anglo-Norman England, seen against the background of the development of legal institutions in Europe generally. $8.50

Island Refuge

Britain and Refugees from the Third Reich 1935-1939

A. J. Sherman

The acrimonious debate over British policy toward refugees from Nazi Germany has scarcely died down even now. It has, however, become possible to investigate the truth of these charges and to analyze the British reaction to these refugees. This first authoritative account is based on government and private papers only recently released for public scrutiny.

LC: 73-86850 288 pages $11.50

Lord William Bentinck

The Making of a Liberal Imperialist, 1774-1839

John Rosselli

This first full account of the life of Lord William Bentinck, a reforming Governor-General of India in 1828-35, studies his whole career in its historical setting. Mr. Rosselli avoids straightforward biography and chronological narrative; instead he provides a series of essays on historical problems that Bentinck's career illuminates.

LC: 72-95302 384 pages Maps Illustrations $15.00

Newcastle: A Duke Without Money

Thomas Pelham-Holles, 1693-1768

Ray A. Kelch

The Duke of Newcastle, a great manipulator of eighteenth-century politics, and the epitome of the 18th-century "man of business," has had, until now, no biographer. Mr. Kelch examines Newcastle's correspondence, estate accounts, and even bank accounts, and relates this material to his place and function in the political and social life of the time.

LC: 73-83064 240 pages $12.00

Robert Baillie and the Second Scots Reformation

F. N. McCoy

This is the first scholarly biography of Robert Baillie, the Scottish minister, historian, and participant in the revolutionary Covenanter movement. Baillie's life (1602-1662) spans the most important period in the history of Scotland as an independent state.

THE JOURNAL OF BRITISH STUDIES
TRINITY COLLEGE
HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

The Journal of British Studies, founded in 1961, is published at Trinity College under the auspices of the Conference on British Studies. It was the result of the imaginative generosity of a Trinity alumnus, Frederick E. Hasler (Hon. LL.D. 1957) who contributed funds to the College for the specific purpose of establishing a learned periodical in the field of British history. Several Trinity alumni subsequently contributed to the fund and Trinity College now supports the publication of the Journal.

The Conference on British Studies is the official organization in the United States and Canada of scholars working in the field of British history and culture; its status as such is recognized by the American Historical Association of which it is an affiliate. Its nearly eight hundred members are drawn from forty-eight states and five provinces. It convenes twice each year, usually at New York University.

The Conference awards a prize triennially for the best first book by an American or Canadian scholar.

The Conference sponsors a considerable publications program. It publishes the Journal of British Studies at Trinity College; the British Studies Intelligencer, a newsletter, at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas; and Archives in British History and Culture, a series devoted to the publication of documents, at West Virginia University, Morgantown; and Current Research in British Studies, a quadrennial survey of research in progress in the United States and Canada, published at Southern Methodist University. The Conference has begun a new series, to be published by the Cambridge University Press, of biographical and historical studies of men and women who were makers and shapers of the English experience.

In addition to the Conference on British Studies, there are several affiliates: the Pacific Coast Conference on British Studies, Pacific Northwest Conference on British Studies (who publish Albion twice a year), the Midwest Conference on British Studies, the Southern Conference on British Studies, and the New England Conference on British Studies. Each of these vital autonomous groups has its own officers, programs, and other activities. There are also local groups centered in Los Angeles, Detroit, and Pittsburgh.

The Journal of British Studies appears twice in the academic year, in the autumn and in the spring. The annual subscription is $6.00. Checks for subscriptions and enquiries concerning advertising rates should be directed to the Business Manager, British Studies, Box 1315, Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, 06106.

Volume XIV, No. 1 will be published in November 1974.

CONFERENCE ON BRITISH STUDIES PRIZE

The Conference on British Studies will award its fifth quinquennial prize of three hundred dollars in November, 1974. The prize will be given for the best book published between January 1, 1969 and December 31, 1973, by an American or Canadian scholar. It must be the author's first book. Its subject must lie either within the field of British or Commonwealth History and Culture.

Nominations should be sent to Professor Thomas Peardon, Bridgewater, Connecticut, Chairman, Conference on British Studies Prize Committee. Other committee members are R. J. Brentano, University of California, Berkeley, and H. J. Hanham, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The past recipients of the prize are: Philip P. Poirier, Ohio State University, 1960; C. Warren Hollister, University of California, 1963; Melvin Richter, Hunter College, 1966; Isaac Kramnick, Yale University, 1969.
