

“An impressive panoramic history of the American criminal justice system...

from the Salem witchcraft trails to the acquittal of four Los Angeles police officers in the first Rodney King beating case.”

—Yale Kamisar, New York Times Book Review

“Likely to be the standard introduction to the history of criminal justice in this country well into the 21st century.”

—Stephen B. Presser, Chicago Tribune

“Destined to become a classic... easily the best single volume history of the subject available.”

—John J. DiIulio, Insight

“A major contribution to both American historical studies and contemporary studies of criminal justice.”

—Franklin Zimring, University of California at Berkeley

The Association of AMERICAN UNIVERSITY PRESSES
Directory 1993-1994

As an introduction and guide to the world of university presses, this directory is an essential reference and resource for anyone who is, or wants to be, involved in scholarly publishing.

The Association of American University Presses has for over fifty years worked to encourage the dissemination of scholarly research and ideas. Today the 114 members of the AAUP annually publish nearly 9,000 books and more than 800 periodicals.

Among its useful features are:

- Information on 114 university presses in the U.S., Canada, and overseas
- Complete addresses, phone and fax numbers
- Names and responsibilities of key staff
- Subject area guide with 136 categories, indicating which presses publish in a given area
- Advice for authors on the submission of manuscripts

MODERN POLICING

Edited by Michael Tonry and Norval Morris

These ten essays examine the diverse factors that have shaped the modern police force, focusing on how law enforcement functions and how it has developed into its current state. Historical, technological, and political overviews by leading scholars connect theory, policy, and research from a variety of fields. Much of this valuable information explores new insights which are critical for a more informed understanding of policing issues that face a changing and complex society.

Modern Policing will be a welcome review of current research for scholars of public policy, sociology, psychology, criminology, and legal studies.

Modern Policing in Perspective, Norval Morris and Michael Tonry

Police Organization in the Twentieth Century, Albert J. Reiss, Jr.

The Relationship between Public and Private Policing, Clifford Shearing
