8.00 Practical Applications & Communications

Friday, September 24th: Departure.

There will be a Dialogue Mass for the Members of the Conference in the Priory Church at 8 a.m.

The subject for this year's conference has developed naturally from the previous conferences which began by considering the general spiritual needs of the day, continued with the special need of the sense of Community and of the Symbol in the Scriptures, and proceeds now to discuss the fundamental spiritual principles in relation to the scientific age in which we live. The majority of the papers read at these conferences have appeared in THE LIFE OF THE SPIRIT.

The tariff for the conference will be £2, with a booking fee of 5/-. Write to the Warden, Spode House, Rugeley, Staffs (Telephone: Armitage 331), for details of other week-ends and conferences taking place at Spode House.

The English edition of Arrigo Levasti's

Santa Caterina da Siena

MY SERVANT, CATHERINE

Although a number of lives of St Catherine have appeared in recent years we are confident that MY SERVANT, CATHERINE will achieve a wide sale because of the outstanding merits which the book possesses.

MY SERVANT, CATHERINE is the English translation of Arrigo Levasti's book, Santa Caterina da Siena, which was published in Turin in 1947. It has already been translated into French and German and acclaimed as a work of outstanding scholarship and profound piety. The author, one of the greatest living scholars in the field of medieval religious spirituality, has poured into this book the riches of a lifetime of study and has created a work which by its depth and clarity of perception is truly great.

In these pages come to life one of the most dramatic epochs in the history of the Church. Among the heroic souls who spread the life of the spirit in the fourteenth century, Catherine has a special claim to our love and admiration. She experienced extraordinary ecstasies and visions, but she was no enclosed solitary. From her visions she drew the strength for her life of self-sacrifice for others, for whom she was ready to shed her blood.

Whether the author describes the exalted events of her spiritual life, or with critical acumen analyses the Dialogue and the letters, or follows his heroine into the confusion and stress of life in the world, to see her engaged in manifold activity and dealing with the great ones of the Church and State—he always succeeds in pointing out the source of all her being and doing: a great love of God.

“THAT THE CHURCH MAY SPREAD AND INCREASE: this is the intention for which we must offer our prayers and our labours”, says Pope Pius XII in his encyclical on the Mystical Body.

The work of the Mill Hill Fathers in Africa, India, the Far East and New Zealand, has this one aim. You can work with them for the spread of the Church by fostering vocations to the missionary priesthood.

THE SPIRITUALITY OF THE OLD LOW COUNTRIES

BY STEPHANUS AXTERS, O.P.

Translated by Donald Attwater

Father Stephanus Axters' book is a clear and concise sketch of the doctrinal development of Low Countries spirituality, a study of the mystics Ruysbroeck, Thomas à Kempis, Louis de Blois, and others who have so greatly influenced the development of Christian thought. The author has succeeded in presenting an epic of the people of the Netherlands as they have sought God through the centuries, of value not only to the scholar but to all those Christian men and women who seek an increase of holiness in their own lives.
