Gorbachev's Russia and American Foreign Policy edited by Seweryn Bialer and Michael Mandelbaum

"There is no more important current issue in American foreign policy than that of understanding and responding to the rise of Mikhail Gorbachev. This is the best book yet on the subject."

—McGeorge Bundy

"A timely, important, and comprehensive collection. It raises the right issues and offers some controversial answers regarding the world's most sensitive relationship."

—Zbigniew Brzezinski

"This is an extremely thoughtful book by some of the world's foremost scholars."

—Henry A. Kissinger

TO THOSE WISHING TO SUBMIT MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts for consideration should be submitted in four double-spaced typed copies. Both indented quotations and footnotes should be double-spaced; footnotes should be placed at the end of the manuscript. Manuscripts are sent to referees anonymously and should be prepared accordingly. Library of Congress transliteration and the Chicago Manual of Style should be followed; manuscripts will be edited to conform to these styles or will be returned to the author for editing. In general, articles should not exceed twenty-five pages $8\frac{1}{2} \times 11$ inches in dimension. Manuscripts will not be returned unless postage is included.

The policy of the Slavic Review is not to consider materials that have been published or that are being considered for publication elsewhere.

Publication of articles in the Slavic Review is ordinarily limited to submissions by members of AAASS. Nonmembers wishing to submit manuscripts are asked to request a membership application.
