TOWARD A WARLESS WORLD

The Travail of the American Peace Movement, 1887-1914

DAVID S. PATTERSON

This book tells the story of the generation of American pacifists who were active before the First World War. It is the first complete narrative history to relate developments in the peace movement to American foreign policies in the years the United States emerged as a major world power. Patterson describes the responses of the peace workers to Anglo-American understanding, the Spanish-American War and the resulting imperialism, the Hague Peace Conferences, arbitration and conciliation treaties, military preparedness, and American intervention in foreign states during the administrations of Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, and Wilson. As the peace movement was related to domestic reform in the progressive era, this study also provides a useful link between social and diplomatic history.

SOCIAL SCIENCE IN AMERICA

The First Two Hundred Years

CHARLES M. BONJEAN, LOUIS SCHNEIDER,

ROBERT L. LINEBERRY, Editors

This outstanding symposium concerns the development of the social sciences in America over the past two hundred years. Six prominent scholars representing history, economics, sociology, political science, anthropology and geography were invited to write essays about the general topic of the progress of the social sciences, and to pursue original lines of thought as well. The result is a coherent collection of considerable breadth and exceptional quality.

THE NEWBERRY LIBRARY CENTRE FOR THE HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN INDIAN BIBLIOGRAPHY SERIES

General Editor FRITZ JENNINGS

This series of bibliographies is a valuable guide to reliable sources and studies in particular fields of the general literature on the American Indian. Some of the volumes are devoted to culture areas; others treat selected individual tribes; and a third group will speak of significant contemporary and historical issues. Designed in a uniform format, these works are useful to both beginning students and advanced scholar. Each volume has two main parts: an essay and an alphabetical list of all works cited. All citations in the essay are directly keyed, by means of bracketed numbers, to the more complete information in the list. Also included for each volume is a list of fifteen works constituting a basic library collection for that subject area. The following are the first in the series:

Native American Historical Demography—£3.20 paper

The Indians of California—£3.20 paper

The Indians of the Subarctic—£3.20 paper

The Navajos—£3.20 paper

The Ojibwas—£3.20 paper

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
2. Articles should generally contain about 5000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
5. Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
6. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
7. For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Style Sheet (2nd ed.), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
8. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
9. Notes intended for the Editors or printer should be on a separate sheet.
10. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
11. Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
12. Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
13. Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
14. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
