ARCHÆOLOGICAL RECONNAISSANCES

IN NORTH-WESTERN INDIA AND SOUTH-EASTERN IRĀN

By SIR AUREL STEIN, K.C.I.E.

THE FINDS HAVE BEEN EXAMINED AND DESCRIBED WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF
FRED H. ANDREWS AND DISCUSSED IN AN APPENDIX OF R. L. HOBSON

Medium 4to. With 24 plates, 88 illustrations in the text, 18 plans and 2 skeleton maps.

About 50s. net.

The purpose of this publication is to record the explorations, mainly archaeological but intended also to serve geographical interests, which generous help received from a fund of Harvard University, supplemented by a grant from the Trustees of the British Museum, enabled me to carry out during the years 1931-3.—The Author.

THE HISTORY OF THE ARABS

By PHILIP K. HITTI

Professor of Semitic Literature, Princeton University.

With illustrations and maps.

31s. 6d. net.

"This learned and human book is a gift for which a large and varied public will be grateful. It is admirably balanced. . . . It contains twenty-one admirable maps and over half a hundred illustrations and a full and satisfying index. Professor Hitti's transliteration is throughout scrupulously scientific."—Times Literary Supplement.

"A masterly survey, fascinatingly and judiciously set out. . . . We know of no better picture of that flowering than this thorough and authoritative work by a man who has taught both in Syria and in the United States, and who unites with sympathy a prodigious degree of learning."—Great Britain and the East.

THE PALACE OF MINOS

A Comparative Account of the Successive Stages of the Early
Cretan Civilization as illustrated by the Discoveries at Knossos

By SIR ARTHUR EVANS, D.Litt., etc., F.R.S.

Vol. IV (the concluding Volume) in Two Parts

Crown 4to. With 966 figures in the text, plans, coloured and supplementary plates.

£9 9s. net.

Forty years after the beginning of the exploration it has been given to the author to complete this final volume. The work now forms a real Encyclopædia of Minoan art and culture.

"The great work is accomplished, the biggest piece of creative scholarship since the completion of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. For, different in kind as has been the life work of Sir Arthur Evans, in scale, originality, and range of learning it is comparable with that of Gibbon."—Professor W. R. Halliday (Manchester Guardian).

ALBINUS and the History of Middle Platonism

by

R. E. WITT

7s. 6d. net

Cambridge Classical Studies

This is the first exhaustive examination of the Didaskalikos of Albinus. This epitome of Plato is carefully considered as a typical product of "Middle Platonism," and its relations, both to the relevant philosophies of the pre-Christian era and to the Neoplatonism of Plotinus, are investigated.
