

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

EL GOLPE DE ESTADO EN CHILE

Symposium

Sophia University, Tokyo

December 8, 1973

The Ibero-American Institute of Sophia University sponsored this Symposium on the reasons behind the fall of Allende's regime. Gustavo Andrade organized the program which included lectures by the following individuals: Yûzô Hamo, Aoyama University; Jun Nishigawa, Waseda University; Mutsuo Yamada, The Institute of Developing Economies; Gustavo Andrade, Sophia University, and Hajime Mizuno, Sophia University.

POPULATION GROWTH AND HUMAN PRODUCTIVITY

24th Annual Conference

University of Florida

February 17-20, 1974

The 24th Latin American Conference of the University of Florida was held in February 1974. Its theme focused within a framework of resource allocation on the relationship between population growth and three of the basic factors determining human productivity: composition of the labor force, education, and health. The Conference attempted to point out and reconcile differences between theories of diverse academic disciplines and their practical pay-off. Brazil, Colombia, Mexico, and Venezuela were selected as basic case studies.

Each session opened with an introductory formal presentation by the Minister (or a Minister's delegate if the Minister was unable to attend) of Health, Labor, or Education of one of the four countries. Following each Minister's introductory paper, one or two formal comments were given by analysts from different academic disciplines. The rest of the session was devoted to discussion of the theoretical points and possible applicability. Several panelists per subject participated in general round-table discussions. The following presentations were made:

- I. William Spellacy, University of Florida, presiding;
- Mario Machado de Lemos, Ministério de Saúde, Brasil, Priorities for Health in Brazil;
- Sheldon J. Segal, Population Council and Rockefeller University, analyst;
- José María Salazar, Ministério de Salud Pública, Colombia, Priorities for Health in Colombia;
- Jorge Villarreal, Federación Panamericana de Asociaciones de Facultadas de Medicina, Colombia, analyst;
- Héctor Acuña, Secretaría de Salud y Asistencia, México, Priorities for Health in Mexico;
- Jorge L. Somoza, Centro Latinoamericano de Demografía, Chile, analyst;
- J. J. Mayza Lyon, Ministério de Sanidad y Asistencia Social, Venezuela, Priorities for Health in Venezuela;
- Alfredo Lattes, Instituto Torcuato di Tella, Argentina, analyst.

Latin American Research Review

- II. Irving J. Goffman, University of Florida, presiding;
Jorge Efrén Domínguez, Secretaría del Trabajo y Previsión Social, México, Priorities for the Mexican Labor Force;
Gustavo Cabrera, El Colegio de México, and David T. Geithman, Russell Sage College, analysts;
Alberto Martini Urdaneta, Ministerio del Trabajo, Venezuela, Priorities for the Venezuelan Labor Force;
William P. McGreevey, Smithsonian Institution, and Alberto Ocando, Centro de Estudios Sociales, Venezuela, analysts;
Júlio Barata, Ministério do Trabalho, Brasil, Priorities for the Brazilian Labor Force;
Jacob Mincer, Columbia University and National Bureau of Economic Research and Joseph J. Spengler, Duke University, analysts.
- III. Solon Kimball, University of Florida, presiding;
Rafael Fernández, Ministerio de Educación, Venezuela, Priorities for Venezuelan Education;
Harvey Leibenstein, Harvard University, and John V. D. Saunders, Mississippi State University, analysts;
Juan Jacobo Muñoz, Ministerio de Educación Nacional, Colombia, Priorities for Colombian Education;
Hernan Peñalosa, Escuela Superior de Administración Pública, Colombia, and T. Paul Schultz, University of Minnesota, analysts;
Jarbas Gonçalves Jassarinho, Ministério da Educação, Brasil, Population Growth and Resource Allocation: Priorities for Brazilian Education;
Domingo Rivarola, Centro Paraguayo de Estudios Sociológicos, and Domingo Sánchez, University of Florida and Universidad de Chile, analysts.

For additional information, contact Manuel J. Carvajal, Conference Chairman and Director, Latin American Data Bank, Room 471, G.S.I.S., University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611.

SOUTHWESTERN COUNCIL OF
LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

7th Annual Meeting

Baylor University

February 21–23, 1974

Baylor's Latin American Studies Program co-sponsored this meeting with the assistance of Nuevo Progreso, a student service organization. Richard E. Greenleaf, Tulane University, presented a preliminary lecture on the Inquisition in Colonial Mexico: Heretical Thoughts on the Spiritual Conquest and a dinner session on Las Casas Vindicated? Spain's Indian Policy in America. The following presentations were made in formal sessions:

I–A. The Novel in Chile and Mexico

Gloria Aguila, Paul Quinn College, presiding:

Richard Allen, University of Houston, Eduardo Barrios' El Hermano Asno: A Novel of Spiritual Struggle;

Berta W. Cannon, Baylor, commentator;

Roberto Bravo-Villarreal, Texas Tech, Así en la Tierra como en el Cielo: Religión, Superstición y Magia en las Novelas de la Tierra de Agustín Yáñez;
 Ewart E. Phillips, Howard Payne, commentator;
 Lino García, Pan American University, El Tema Religioso en Al Filo del Agua de Agustín Yáñez;
 Bart L. Lewis, Sam Houston State University, commentator.

I–B. The Roman Catholic Church and the Winds of Change

David M. Vigness, Texas Tech, presiding;
 James D. Cochrane, Tulane, The Church in Latin America: Some Perspectives on It as an Agent of Modernization;
 C. Richard Waits, Texas Christian, commentator;
 William R. Garner, Southern Illinois, Carbondale, The "Politics" of Ivan Illich and Small Power Relationships at CIDOC—Cuernavaca, 1972;
 Gayle R. Avant, Baylor, commentator;
 Teodoro de la Torre, Dominican College, The Changing Church of Latin America;
 Ted R. Clark, Pan American, commentator.

I–C. Mexico and the Dominican Republic in the 19th Century

Robert Overfelt, Dominican College, presiding;
 Laurens B. Perry, University of the Americas, Roll-Call Voting in the Juárez Congress on the Issue of Federal Intervention in the States;
 Richard Sinkin, University of Texas, commentator;
 Stuart F. Voss, SUNY, Plattsburgh, A Tale of Two Cities—The Dynamics of State History in 19th Century Mexico;
 Michael Winecup, University of Texas, commentator;
 Jess H. Stone, Museum of New York, Spain and the Spiritual Reconquest of Santo Domingo, 1861–1865;
 Joffre Albert de La Fontaine, University of the Americas, commentator.

II–A. Religion and Culture in Mexico

H. Wayne Pipkin, Baylor, presiding;
 Vivian M. Gruber, Stephen F. Austin State University, The General and the Lady: Two Views of Religious Persecution in the Mexican Novel;
 Mary Patrick, Baylor, commentator;
 Harvey L. Johnson, University of Houston, The Virgin of Guadalupe in Mexican Culture;
 María Duke dos Santos, Southwest Texas State University, commentator;
 Manuel Mendoza, Stephen F. Austin State University, La Religión como Transfondo en la Vida Familiar del Mexicano: Respuesta a Oscar Lewis;
 Robert Bidwell, East Texas State University, commentator.

II–B. Protestant Churches in Latin America

Charles Frazier, Sam Houston State, presiding;
 Julian C. Bridges, Hardin-Simmons, Evangelical Expansion in Mexico;

Latin American Research Review

W. Kennedy Upham, Texas A & M, commentator;
Richard Millett, Southern Illinois at Edwardsville, Post World War II Latin American Protestantism: The Perils of Success;
A. Ben Bedford, Argentina, commentator;
John L. Robinson, Abilene Christian College, Historical Factors in Protestant Church Growth in Brazil;
B. J. Chandler, Texas A & M, commentator.

II-C. Mexico's Agrarian Problem

Allan N. Cook, Baylor, presiding;
James L. Hamon, University of the Americas, The Mexican Agrarian Problem in the Writing of Andres Molina Enríquez;
Beatrice Rojas Nieto, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, commentator;
Stephen R. Niblo, University of the Americas, The Mexican Agrarian Problem in the Writing of Wistano Luis Orozco; Eduardo Blanquel, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, commentator.

III-A. Religion in Literature and Political Thought: Chile, Colombia, and Peru

Nieves del Rosario Rubio, Baylor, presiding;
S. Alan Schweitzer, Texas A & M, The Limits of Exorcism in the Poetry of Humberto Díaz Casanueva;
Toby W. Rigby, Baylor, commentator;
Bertie N. Acker, University of Texas at Arlington, Religion in Colombia as Seen in the Short Narrative of García Márquez;
Robert G. Collmer, Baylor, commentator;
Judith Palmer, Dominican College, The Influence of González Prada on the Attitudes Toward Religion of Mariategui and Haya de la Torre;
Albert Bagby, University of Texas at El Paso, commentator.

III-B. The Editors Speak

Robert T. Miller, Baylor, presiding;
Felicity Trueblood, University of Florida, Editing the LASA Newsletter;
Thomas F. McGann, University of Texas, Editing the Latin American Research Review;
Max Jennings, Arizona State, Editing the Latin American Digest;
James Leo Garrett, Jr., Baylor, Editing the Journal of Church and State;
Richard Graham, University of Texas, Editing the Hispanic American Historical Review.

III-C. Brazil

Ann Q. Tiller, St. Thomas, presiding;
C. Gary Lobb, California State, Northridge, The Jesuit Settlement Frontier in Southern Brazil;
Joe C. McElhannon, Baylor, commentator;

Thomas Niehaus, Grinnell College, and Brady B. Tyson, American University, The Catholic Right Since 1960: The Brazilian Society for the Defense of Tradition, Family, and Property (TFP);

Norman M. Potter, University of Texas, commentator;

Tarcisio Beal, Incarnate Word College, The Roots of the Brazilian Regalism;

Andrew Szarka, Baylor, commentator.

IV–A. Philosophy: Mexico, Argentina, and Brazil

Robert M. Baird, Baylor, presiding;

John H. Haddox, University of Texas at El Paso, Octavio Paz: Mexico, United States, and the World;

Elmer H. Duncan, Baylor, commentator;

Niels C. Nielsen, Rice, Time and Eternity in Victor Messuh's Philosophy of Religion;

William J. Kilgore, Baylor, commentator;

Don R. Whitmore, Hardin-Simmons University, Positivism and the Brazilian Military;

William Dudley, Southern Methodist, commentator.

IV–B. Baylor University's Texas Collection and Program for Oral History (tour).

IV–C. Baylor University's John K. Strecker Museum (tour).

IV–D. Baylor University's Armstrong Browning Library (tour).

V–A. The Theater

Thomas F. Walker, Baylor, presiding;

Norris MacKinnon, Austin Community College, Calderón de la Barca in Nahuatl;

Pedro P. Bermúdez, University of Houston, commentator;

Katharine Richards, Texas A & M, The Mexican Existentialism of Solórzano's Los Fantoches;

Joseph F. Velez, Baylor, commentator;

Carlos Monsanto, University of Houston, El Teatro como Instrumento de Enseñanza Objetiva en Hispano América;

Robert Morris, Texas Tech, commentator.

V–B. Recent Political Developments in Colombia and Argentina

William L. Wipfler, National Council of the Churches, presiding;

Steven J. Brzezinski, University of Wyoming, The Catholic Church and Political Development in Colombia;

John Hovel, University of Texas at El Paso, commentator;

Michael Dodson, Texas Christian, Catholic Radicalism and the Politics of Change in Argentina;

David F. D'Amico, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, commentator;

Latin American Research Review

Elizabeth Davis, Stephen F. Austin State University, Juan Perón's Women: Their Role in Argentina;

Emma González, Paul Quinn College, commentator.

V-C. Church-State Conflict in Mexico: 20th Century

Glenn O. Hilburn, Baylor, presiding;

Roberto Cortes, The Christero Rebellion, 1926-1929;

Lyle C. Brown, Baylor, commentator;

Maria Ann Kelly, College of Saint Rose, Mexican Catholics and Socialist Education of the 1930's;

Robert L. Gold, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, commentator;

Alan Kirshner, Ohlone College, Tomás Garrido Canabal and the Repression of Religion in Tabasco;

Ward S. Albro, Texas A & I, commentator;

Harriet Denise Joseph, North Texas State, Church and State in Mexico, 1931-1936. An Overview;

David N. Johnson, Texas Tech, commentator.

V-D. Texas under Spain and Mexico

Hugh Davis, Baylor, presiding;

Malcolm D. McLean, Texas Christian, The Spanish Texas Microfilm Center;

Ellen Kuniyuki, Baylor, commentator;

Tommy L. Short, Baylor, Spanish Interest in La Bahía del Espíritu Santo, 1670-1684;

Tony Duty, Waco, commentator;

J. Eugene Pruitt, Baylor, With a View Toward the Acquisition of Texas: Jackson, Houston, and Texas, 1829-34;

Robert C. Cotner, University of Texas, commentator.

VI-A. International Relations

Charles S. Edwards, Baylor, presiding;

Robert S. Allman, Baylor, Conservation of Marine Food Resources: A Problem in United States-Latin American Relations;

Karl M. Schmitt, University of Texas, commentator;

Nancy Beseda, Baylor, Illegal Traffic in Antiquities: A Problem in United States-Latin American Relations;

Paul A. Kemp, Baylor, commentator;

Darrell Filler, Baylor, Government-Sponsored Research Abroad: Project Camelot and Resulting Problems;

Antonio Aguila, Paul Quinn, commentator.

VI-B. Education for Mexican Americans

Leo Estrada, North Texas State, presiding;

Diana Drake, University of Wisconsin, Madison, On Power, Listening, and Bilingual/Bicultural Education;

Lawrence G. Felice, Baylor, commentator;

Hubert J. Miller, Pan American University, The Tinker Pamphlet Series for the Teaching of Mexican American Heritage;
 Rosa Omega Estrada, Connally High School, and José Mata, Tarrant County Independent School District, commentators;
 Joyce Langenegger, Baylor, Politics and Public Education in Crystal City, Texas, 1970–1972;
 Guadalupe Quintanilla, University of Houston, commentator.

VI-C. Significant Chapters in Church History

Nettie Lee Benson, University of Texas, presiding;
 Jerrold S. Buttrely, Saint Edward's University, The Inquisition and the Enlightenment Library of Antonio Nariño: The Failure of Institutionalized Orthodoxy;
 Don M. Coerver, Texas Christian, commentator;
 Gerald Theisen, University of Albuquerque, The Church in the Mexican Period of New Mexican History;
 Angela Moyano, Universidad Iberoamericana, commentator;
 Robert D. Wood, St. Mary's University, The Colonial Education and Indoctrination of the Andean Indians;
 Mary Ellen Proudfit, Baylor, commentator.

VI-D. Contemporary Social Thought in Latin America

Dan McGee, Baylor, presiding;
 Walter Redmond, University of the Americas, Some Themes of Christian Social Thought in Latin America Today;
 Brady Tyson, American University, David Parker, University of Texas, John Hardi, North Texas State, Nelson DeVega, Austin College, and Gustavo M. Quesada, Texas Tech, commentators.

TEXAS SYMPOSIUM ON ROMANCE LINGUISTICS
 University of Texas
 March 7–9, 1974

The University of Texas hosted the fourth in a series of major international symposiums dealing with contemporary linguistics. Scholars from five different countries gathered to exchange ideas and encourage contribution in ways of studying and teaching Romance languages. The following papers were considered:

Tracy Terrell, California, Irvine, On Assertion and Presupposition in Spanish;
 Maria-Luisa Rivero, Ottawa, Saber and conocer: the Grammar of Knowledge in Spanish;
 Gilles Fauconnier, California, San Diego, Syntax and Semantics of menacer;
 Antonio A. Martins Querido, Montreal, The Semantics of Copulative Constructions in Portuguese;
 James Harris, M.I.T., Stress-Assignment Rules in Spanish;
 Sanford A. Schane, California, Spanish Verb Stress and Truncation Revisited;

Latin American Research Review

David M. Perlmutter, M.I.T., Object Raising and Infinitive Agreement in Portuguese;
Antonio Carlos Quicoli, Campinas, Brazil, Missing Subjects in Portuguese;
Roberta Yankiver Long, Indiana, Redundant Indirect Pronouns in Spanish; Victord Sánchez de Zavala, Madrid, Facts and Problems about the Absence of the Article in Spanish;
Mark G. Goldin, Indiana, Spanish be-predicates and the Feature state vs. action;
Heles Contreras, Washington, Is Subject-Formation a Movement Rule in Spanish?

FEMININE PERSPECTIVES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH IN LATIN AMERICA

Buenos Aires, Argentina
March 18–23, 1974

June Nash, CUNY, and Helen Safa, Rutgers, organized this Conference sponsored by the Social Science Research Council and held at the Instituto Torcuato di Tella. The program focused on developing new models for analyzing Latin American society from a feminine perspective. Yolanda Ortiz, Secretaria de Estado de Recursos Naturales y Ambiente Humano, was the keynote speaker. Papers presented at the Conference will appear in the Revista Latinoamericana de Sociología, published by the Instituto Torcuato di Tella. The following presentations were made:

I. The Ideology of Development and the Exploitation of Women in Industrialization

Esther Hermitte, Instituto Torcuato di Tella, Sex Role Identity in a Situation of Changing Division of Labor: Northern Argentina;

Elizabeth Jelin, Argentina, La bahiana en la Fuerza de Trabajo: Actividad doméstica, producción simple y trabajo asalariado en Salvador, Brazil;

Neuma Aguiar, Instituto Universitário de Pesquisas, Brasil, Impact of Industrialization on Women's Work Roles in Northeast Brazil;

Heleieth Iara B. Saffioti, Universidade de Araraquara, Sex and Social Class Relations in Capitalist Societies;

Gloria Gonzáles Salazar, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, La Participación de la Mujer en la Actividad Laboral de México;

María del Carmen Elu de Leñero, Instituto Mexicano de Estudios Sociales, El Trabajo de la Mujer y la Fecundidad;

Elsa Chaney, Fordham, Going from Bad to Worse: Women and Modernization.

II. Stereotypes and Reality of Women's Participation in Political Movements

June Nash, City College, CUNY, A Critique of Social Science Models of Contemporary Latin America: a Woman's Perspective;

Morris J. Blachman, University of South Carolina, Male-Female Perspectives in Social Science Research;

Marysa Navarro, Dartmouth, Evita y el Peronismo en el Poder;

Michele Mattelart, Paris, and formerly CEREN, Chile, Mujer y Linea de Masa: La Experiencia de Chile;

Gabriela Videla, formerly with Desarrollo Social, Chile, La Mujer Pobladora y el Proceso Revolucionario; Isabel Picó, Universidad de Puerto Rico, La Mujer Puertorriqueña y el Proceso Político.

III. Ideology and Sex Role Perspectives

Jorge Gissi Bustos, Escuela de Trabajo Social, Universidad Católica, La Mitología de la Mujer;
 Irma Mazelis, Venezuela, Branch for the Promotion of Equality between Men and Women, United Nations, Social Functions of Sexual Repression;
 Virginia Gutiérrez de Pineda, Asociación de Facultades de Medicina, Bogotá, Roles e Imágenes de Hombre y de Mujer en Colombia.
 Aurelia Guadalupe and Betsie Hollants, Coordinación de Iniciativas para el Desarrollo de América Latina (CIDAL), Cuernavaca, Arquetipos y Estereotipos Religiosos Contemporáneos;
 Judith Shapiro, University of Chicago, Sexual Hierarchy among the Yanomama;
 Ximena Bunster, Universidad Católica de Chile, La Mujer Mapuche; Arakey Martins Rodrigues e Else Berquó, CEBRAP, Brazil, Componentes Ideológicos da Mulher no Comportamento Reprodutivo.

IV. Women's Attempts to Break Cliches: Familial and Non-Familial Roles

Verena Martínez Alier, Universidade de Campinas, Family Structure, Sexual Roles and Social Change;
 Nora Scott Kinzer, Purdue University, No. Central Campus, Destroying the Myth: The Porteña Professional;
 Reina Torres de Araúz, Instituto Nacional de Cultura y Deportes, Profesionalismo Femenino en Panamá: Proyecciones Económicas y Sociales;
 Helen I. Safa, Rutgers, Working Class Consciousness and Women's Participation in the Labor Force;
 Hilda Araujo, Instituto Nacional de Investigaciones Educativas, Perú, Criterios y Líneas de Investigación en la Problemática de la Mujer;
 Vivian Mota, República Dominicana and Cornell University, El Estado de la Investigación sobre la Mujer en la República Dominicana: Recuento Histórico y Perspectivas Futuras; Meri Knaster, Latin American Studies, Stanford, A Report on the State of Research on Latin American Women in the U.S.

A seminar on the same topic was held in Cuernavaca, Mexico, during the summer of 1974, also sponsored by the S.S.R.C. The seminar was organized in cooperation with CIDAL (Centro Interamericano de Documentación sobre la América Latina), and included Aurelia G. Sánchez Morales, Elsa Chaney, and Helen I. Safa as co-organizers.

Latin American Research Review

RESISTANCE AND REPRESSION IN LATIN AMERICA AND CARIBBEAN
SUNY, Binghamton
March 20–23, 1974

The Latin American Student Union and the Latin American and Caribbean Area Studies Program of SUNY, Binghamton, sponsored this SULA Conference in cooperation with the State University Latin Americanists. Sessions focused on the literature of resistance and repression and socio-economic aspects of resistance and repression. Three panel discussions were held on: Chile: Resistance and Repression; Overseas Academic Programs in Latin America and the Caribbean; and Secondary School Programs: Latin America and the Caribbean. The following speakers made presentations:

Tony Martin, Wellesley, West Indies;
José Moreno, Pittsburgh, Dominican Republic;
Maurice Zeitlin, Wisconsin, Cuba;
John Womack, Harvard, Mexico;
Angel Quintero, Puerto Rico, Puerto Rico.

For more information on the Conference write: George W. Schuyler, SUNY, Library 340, Ibero-American Studies, Stony Brook, NY 11790.

18TH CENTURY FLORIDA: LIFE ON THE FRONTIER
Florida Technological University
March 22–23, 1974

The American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Florida in cooperation with the Department of Florida Technological University held this symposium as part of the program for the observance of the 200th anniversary of US independence. The symposium was planned by the Bicentennial Commission's Committee on Publications and Research in cooperation with the Department of History, FTU. The following three sessions made up the program:

I. Loyalism in Florida and the South

Edmund F. Kallina, Florida Technological University, presiding;
Robert M. Calhoun, North Carolina at Greensboro, The Floridas, the Western Frontier, and Vermont: The Territorial Ingredient in American Loyalism;
Geraldine M. Meroney, Agnes Scott College, Some Early Loyalists on the Southern Frontier;
Mary Beth Norton, Cornell University, commentary.

II. Minorities on the Florida Frontier

Paul W. Wehr, Florida Technological University, presiding;
Bertram W. Worn, Hebrew Union College, Jews in Eighteenth-Century West Florida;
James H. O'Donnell III, Marietta College, The Indian Frontier in Revolutionary Florida: Abode of the Blessed or Field of Battle?
Roland C. McConnell, Morgan State College, Black Struggle for Freedom, 1740–1845.

III. Theatre and Music in the Colonial South

Elmar B. Fetscher, Florida Technological University, presiding;

David D. Mays, Florida Technological University, The Drama Can't get here from there: Geographic Influences on Theatres in Early Florida;

David Z. Kushner, University of Florida, Music on the Eighteenth-Century Southern Frontier.

R. Don Higginbotham, North Carolina at Chapel Hill, gave the luncheon address, Why the Need for another Washington Biography? The Department of Theatre, FTU, presented The Beaux Stratagem, a play by George Farquhar. Samuel Proctor, University of Florida, chaired the symposium, with the aid of Jerrell Shofner, FTU. For more information write: Educational Conferences, Florida Technological University, Box 25000, Orlando, FL 32816.

CONFERENCE ON INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

University of New Mexico

March 24–26, 1974

The University of New Mexico sponsored this Conference with the cooperation of US AID. Peter Gregory and Gerald Slavin organized the program. Herman Kleine, AID, was the principal guest speaker and presented a lecture on the topic, Development, Perspectives, Issues, and Policies.

Two seminars focused directly on Latin America: U.S. Role in Latin American Development; Contrasts with Experience in Asia and Africa, Lawrence Harrison, AID, presiding; and Seminar on Development in Latin America: 50's, 60's, 70's and Beyond, Harrison and Antonio Gayoso, AID, presiding. The other seminars focused on development problems generally.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

First Symposium

University of North Carolina at Greensboro

April 3, 1974

The Department of Romance Languages and the Latin American Studies Committee of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro presented the first U.N.C.–G Symposium on Latin American Studies on the topic: Literature of Protest and Testimony of Latin America. Ramiro Lagos coordinated the panel. The following panelists made presentations:

Néstor Moreno, South Carolina, The Social Political Novel in Hispanic America;

Joaquín Roy, Emory, Essayistic Traits in the Latin American Novel;

Lucila Inés Mera, Virginia, La destrucción de un sistema social visto a través de dos novelas hispanoamericanas: Pedro Páramo y Cien años de soledad;

David Suárez-Torrez, Georgetown, La muerte de Artemio Cruz, aldabazo a la post-revolución mexicana.

Special events filled the week of March 30–April 7, Spanish American Week, in connection with this symposium, including a fiesta, round table discussions, slide presentations, an international banquet, films, and a Tertulia Hispánica.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE POLITICAL ROLE OF THE SOUTH AMERICAN MILITARY

University of New Mexico
April 4–6, 1974

This symposium, sponsored by the Latin American Center of the University of New Mexico, brought together a multi-disciplinary (and multi-national) group of scholars to analyze and assess contemporary trends in South American militarism, with special reference to the cases of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and Peru. Carl Herbold, Jr. coordinated the program of this symposium. The following topics were presented:

- Edwin Lieuwen, Recent Trends: Characteristics and Significance;
Tulio Halperin-Donghi, California, Berkeley, Perón, the Military, and the Guerrillas (The Argentine Case);
Carlos Astiz, SUNY-Albany, The Military and Brazil's Geopolitical "Mission" (The Brazilian Case);
Jorge Nef, California, Santa Barbara, Military Revolt . . . or Counterrevolution? (The Chilean Case);
Abraham Lowenthal, Princeton, The Military and the Restructuring of Social and Political Institutions (The Peruvian Case);
Harley Hinrichs, U.S. Naval Academy, U.S. Policy, and the Junta Interamericana de Defensa, and South American Regimes (Hemispheric Implications).

For further information contact: Carl Herbold, Jr., The Latin American Center, Ortega Hall, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, NM 87131.

REPRESSION AND DEVELOPMENT IN BRAZIL AND LATIN AMERICA

Madison, Wisconsin
April 4–6, 1974

Community Action on Latin America, Madison, and the Ibero-American Studies Program of the University of Wisconsin sponsored this Conference to inform and educate representatives of community groups, churches, high schools, and universities about the Brazilian model of repression and development, and the use of the model to further U.S. interests in Latin America. Stated goal of this conference also included: To build a constituency which will take actions against U.S. policies perpetuating this model and to initiate specific action against the model in cooperation with the work of the Bertrand Russell Tribunal. The following five panels comprised the program:

I. The Brazilian Economic "Miracle"

Albert Fishlow, California, Berkeley, Economic Growth and Income Distribution: the Brazilian Model;

Marsha Miliman, formerly of NACLA, The Opening of the Amazon;

Samuel Morley, Wisconsin, The Brazilian Corporate Elite;

Paul Silberstein, NACLA Brazil Project Multinationals and Economic Growth in Brazil.

II. Repression and Resistance

Brady Tyson, American University, Repression and Resistance in Brazil: an Overview;
 Thomas Quigley, U.S. Catholic Conference, The Church in Brazil;
 Timothy Harding, California State University, Repression and Resistance of the Brazilian Working Class.

III. Imperialism and Sub-Imperialism

Jan Black, American University, U.S. Influence in Brazil and Bolivia;
 E. Bradford Burns, UCLA, Post-Coup Chile and the Brazilian "Model";
 Brady Tyson, Brazil's Foreign Policy and Sub-Imperialism in L.A.;
 Maurice Zeitlin, Wisconsin, The Lessons of Chile in a Comparative Perspective.

IV. Studies on Imperialism and Political Organizing

Al Gedicks, CALA Research Director, Copper Research Project: Mining Development and the Kennecott Corporation in Wisconsin;
 Ahamed Idris, Deltec Research Project, The Deltec Research Project;
 Lynda Ann Ewen, Motor City Labor League, Anti-Imperialism and Working Class Organizing;
 Tom Bamat, Rutgers Transnational Corporation Research Project, Educational Workers and Political Organizing;
 Mary Kay Vaughn, Illinois-Circle Campus, Multinationals, Runaway Shops and Workers in the U.S.

V: Organizing for Action

Gianni Tognoni, Bertrand Russell Tribunal, The Bertrand Russell Tribunal: Building a U.S. Constituency;
 Harry Strharsky, Common Front for Latin America, Mobilization of the National Support Committee for the Tribunal.

Workshops in the above topics followed presentation of the papers. Participants also viewed a film, Brazil: No Time for Tears. For more information on the Bertrand Russell Tribunal or this conference write: CALA, Madison Campus Ministry, 731 State Street, Madison, WI 53703.

ASSOCIATION OF CARIBBEAN HISTORIANS

Sixth Annual Conference
San Juan, Puerto Rico
April 4-9, 1974

The Instituto de Cultura Puertorriqueña of the University of Puerto Rico sponsored this Conference on the topic: Social Groups and Institutions in the Development of Caribbean History. Thomas Mathews organized the program which included the following presentations:

Manuel Moreno Fraginals, Instituto de Historia, Cuba, Patrones Familiares en las Plantaciones Cubanas;
 Guillermo Baralt, Universidad de Puerto Rico, Conspiraciones, Sublevaciones y Revueltos de Esclavos en Puerto Rico, 1796-1848;

Latin American Research Review

- Jorge Palacios, Universidad Pedagógica y Tecnológica de Colombia, Cartagena de Indias, Gran Factoría de la Mano de Obra Esclava en el Caribe;
- Germán Carrera Damas, Universidad Central de Venezuela, La plantación como Institución Socio-Económica;
- Jerome Handler, Southern Illinois University, The Social Position of Freedom in the Slave Society of Barbados;
- Bernard Marshall, Brandeis, The Freedmen in the Slave Society of the Ceded Islands to 1824;
- Bridget Brereton, University of the West Indies, The Emergence of a Black Middle Class in Trinidad after 1838;
- Carl Campbell, University of the West Indies, The Death of the Cabildo of Port of Spain, 1832–1840;
- Mary Reckord, Dalhousie University, The Jamaican Assembly and the Assimilation Policy;
- Y. Knowles, Inter-American University, Pitfalls of the Concept of Federation;
- W. Marshall and T. Marshall, University of the West Indies, The Origins of a Barbados Peasantry 1880–1930;
- Blanca Silvestrini, University of Puerto Rico Durante la Década de 1930–1940;
- B. Samaroo and M. Ramesar, University of the West Indies, East India in Trinidad Society up to 1938;
- K. Hunte, University of the West Indies, Church and Society in XVIII Century Barbados;
- L. Figueroa, University of Puerto Rico, Los Abolicionistas en Puerto Rico;
- H. Bangou, Ville de Pointe-a-Pitre, Guadeloupe, Groupes et institutions dans la Caraïbe;
- M. Adelaide, Centre Universitaire des Antilles, Les Hommes Politiques de Guadeloupe debut la 3eme Republique, 1870–1880;
- R. Acheen, Centre Universitaire des Antilles, Les Institutions de 3eme Republique Les Antilles;
- S. Proctor, University of Florida, C. Crawford, Oral History Association, and F. Pogue, Smithsonian Institute, Technical Aspects of Oral History;
- F. Innes, University of Windsor, Interviews of Small Farmers on Barbados and Jamaica;
- M. Crayton, University of Waterloo, Perceptions of Slavery: A Preliminary Excursion into Oral History and Rural Jamaica;
- E. Brathwaite, University of the West Indies, Oral History in the Caribbean: A Perspective.

These papers will be published by the Association of Caribbean Historians. For more information write: Association of Caribbean Historians, c/o Department of History, University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus, Barbados.

THE INTERRELATIONS OF CULTURE,
TECHNOLOGY, AND DEVELOPMENT IN LATIN AMERICA

Lincoln, Nebraska

April 18–19, 1974

The Institute for International Studies of the University of Nebraska and the Organization of American States co-sponsored this symposium. Roberto Esquenazi-Mayo, Nebraska, and Armando Correia Pacheco,

OAS, organized the program on various aspects of culture, technology, and development in Latin America. This is the first time that the OAS has co-sponsored a symposium of this type with an American university. It is expected that the proceedings of this symposium will be published in their entirety at a later date. The following participants made formal presentations:

German Arciniegas, Ex-Colombian Ambassador to Italy and Venezuela, and Ex-Minister of Education, Culture and Technology;
Donald Dozer, California, Santa Barbara, Culture and Development;
Vianna Moog, Conselho Federal de Cultura, Brazil, Humanism and Technology;
Marcel Roche, Ex-Director of the Instituto Venezolano de Investigaciones Científicas, Culture and Development;
William Sabel, Oxford Polytechnic Institute, Culture and Technology.

For additional information write: Institute for International Studies, 1034 Oldfather Hall, University of Nebraska–Lincoln, Lincoln, NB 68508.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION MEETING

El Paso, Texas

April 25–27, 1974

Edward C. Epstein organized the panel on, Peronism: Past and Present of the Rocky Mountain Social Science Association Meeting. The following papers were presented:

Carlos Astiz, SUNY, Albany, Argentina Foreign Policy under Perón;
Eldon Kenworthy, Cornell, Origin of Peronism in the 1940's: The Popular Base;
Gilbert Merckx, New Mexico, A Social Definition of Peronism.

LATIN AMERICAN CONFERENCE

Second Annual

Flagstaff, Arizona

April 26–27, 1974

Northern Arizona University hosted this second annual Latin American Conference. Guy Bensusan, NAU, chaired the planning committee. Special presentations included a Latin American Reader's Theatre, Curt Olson, Director; a special film, "Obregon Revolucionario"; musical presentations; and a dinner speech, Civil Law and Common Law in Inter-American Relations, by Donald M. Dozer, American Graduate School. The following sessions were held:

I. Cultural Pluralism

Robert R. Anderson, U.A., Preliminary Remarks Toward a Definition, presiding;

Latin American Research Review

Miguel Mendez, Pima County College and U.A., Posibilidades Literarias Del Autor de Habla Hispana en U.S.A.;

Gilbert E. Evans, U.A., Mexican Literature is Something Else.

II. Spanish Teaching

Martin M. Durrant, Phoenix College, presiding;

María Vega, Phoenix Union High School, El Programa Bilingüe En Phoenix Union;

Bonesa De Laub, Yavapai College, Pronunciation and Grammar Through Music, and Gesture Language of Mexico;

Dolores Brown, U.A., Oral History: Its Use in a Language Class.

III. Brazil

Lewis A. Tambs, ASU, presiding;

Leo R. Barrow, U.A., Novelistic Commentary on Brazilian Sexuality;

Esther Crampton, Cochise College, Amazonia: Myth and Reality;

Brent W. Brown, A.S.U., The Impact of the Revolution of 1964 on Local Administration in Brazil: The Case of Porto Alegre.

IV. Third World Consciousness

Virginia Foster, Phoenix College, presiding;

Judy Bissett, A.S.U., La Estructura Del Mundo Onírico en El Señor Presidente;

Robert Sullivan, Phoenix College, Third World Consciousness and the Worker Priest in Bolivia, A Personal Experience;

Maureen Ahren, A.S.U., Third World Consciousness in Contemporary Peruvian Poetry.

V. Economic Development

Jack Shroll, International Investments, Phoenix, presiding;

Robert S. Tancer, Attorney, Phoenix, Tourism in Latin America;

Jerry Ladman and Breeda Dotzler, A.S.U., Women in the Mexican Labor Force: 1960–1970

VI. Mexico

Frank Sicilano, U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, presiding;

Vincent Morales, Cochise College, A Study of Border Industries . . . Douglas/Agua Prieta;

Richard V. Salisbury, A.S.U., Mexican Influence in Central America: A Case Study.

VII. Indo America

William Griffen, N.A.U., presiding;

James D. Saxon, N.A.U., Education and Acculturation in Two Highland Guatemalan Towns: San Juan la Laguna and Panajachel;

Gordon V. Krutz, U.A., Dingavi, An Important Cultural Process in the 1906 Oraibi Split;

Henry F. Dobyens, Indian Tribal Series, Interethnic Violence in Maintaining Socio-political Power in Peru.

VIII. Popular Culture

David Foster, A.S.U., presiding;

Guy Bensusan, N.A.U., Ten Years of Latin American Vernacular Mass, 1963–1973;

Ana Hotley, A.S.U., Sociocultural Values in an Argentine Comic Strip.

IX. Mexican American Issues

José Torres, Mesa Community College, presiding;

Luis Baiz, Phoenix College, Elements of Mexican American Art;

Roberto M. Acevedo, A.S.U., The Language of the Mexican American;

John B. Regnell, A.S.U., and Gordon O. Packard, Jr., U.A., The Crisis of the Mexican Illegal Immigration in the U.S., 1964–1974.

Spanish and bilingual media programs were presented by courtesy of KUAT-TV and Great Plains National Instructional Television Library, and coordinated by E. B. Eiselein. A panel discussion was held on the topics: Politics and Press. Two open forums focused on Disciplinary and Interdisciplinary Enhancement and Argentina and Chile.

SPANISH LANGUAGE MATERIALS FOR CHILDREN AND YOUNG ADULTS
Austin, Texas
April 26–28, 1974

The Committee on Library Materials for the Spanish- and Portuguese-Speaking in the U.S. of the Seminar on the Acquisition of Latin American Library Materials, the Institute of Latin American Studies of the University of Texas, and the Organization of American States sponsored this first symposium on Spanish language materials for children and young adults. Susan Shattuck Benson, OAS, chaired the program committee; Mauricio Charpenel, University of Texas, coordinated the symposium. The following sessions were held:

I. Introduction to the Materials

Susan Shattuck Benson, moderator;

Kay Past (with Mariana), University of Texas, A Two-Year Old Learns about Reading and Books;

Martha Lequerica, Maimonides Medical Center, Brooklyn, An Auditory-Visual Kit for Reading Spanish;

Marion McClatchy, Santillana Publishing Co., Audio-Visual Presentation.

II. Acquisition Problems and Methods

Peter T. Johnson, University of Minnesota, moderator;

Nettie Lee Benson, University of Texas, Latin American Publishing for Children and Young Adults: A Historical Perspective;

Emanuel Molho, Spanish Book Corporation of America, and Don Heffernan, Heffernan School Supply Co., North American Distributors of Latin American and Spanish Imprints: Problems of Obtaining and Supplying Materials;

Martha Cotera, National Migrant Information Clearing House, A Librarian Reacts.

Latin American Research Review

III. Literature for Children

Mauricio Charpenel, moderator;

Peter Garvie, University of Texas, The Unique Disguise;

Thomas F. McGann, University of Texas, Two Authors Speak: An American Point of View;

Eduardo Blanquel, El Colegio de México, Two Authors Speak: A Mexican Point of View;

Phyllis Procter, The Educational Possibilities of the Comics;

Socorro Merlin, Center for Children's Theatre, Mexico, Literature and Children's Theatre;

Catherine Franklin, University of Texas, Questions About Literature for Children in the Spanish Language;

Anne Pellowski, U.S. Committee for UNICEF, Answers About Literature for Children in the Spanish Language.

IV. Selection

Martha V. Tomé, OAS, moderator;

Toni de Gerez, Escuela Interamericana de Bibliotecología, Colombia, Lourdes de Deya, Louisiana State, José Luis Bueno, Organización Editorial Novaro, Mexico, and Antonio Ruano Fernández, Aguilar Mexicana de Ediciones, How, What, and Why to Select Books in Spanish for Children and Young Adults;

Frances López Beckers, Materials Acquisition Project, San Diego, Ralph Robinett, Spanish Curriculum Development Center, Miami Beach, and Juan Solís, Dissemination Center for Bilingual Bicultural Education, Austin, Major Projects on Acquisition, Evaluation and Production of Materials in Spanish Funded by the Federal Government;

Cynthia Baird, Latin American Library, Oakland, María Herrera, McAllen Memorial Library, McAllen, Texas, Leticia García, Mexican American Library School, Fullerton, California, José G. Taylor, Los Angeles Public Library, Los Angeles, California, and Santonio Arroyo, Mexican American Library School, Fullerton, Problems and Experiences that Educators and Librarians are having in the Selection of Materials in Spanish.

V. Reaching Children and Adolescents

Joseph Aguyo, Children's Television Workshop, New York, A Multimedia Approach to Bilingualism: The Experience of "Sesame Street" and "The Electric Company".

A panel discussion was held on the Principal Problems of Publishing Materials for Children and Young Adults and of Supplying U.S. Libraries. The following individuals made up the panel: Alfredo Montalvo, Editorial Inca, J. Noé Herrera, Librería de Colombia y Latino-América, Herta Berenguer, Berenguer Publicaciones, Elena Rodríguez, Materiales Académicos de Consulta Hispanoamericana, and Francisco Porrúa, Libería de Porrúa y Cía. A banquet address was given by Alejandro Portes, University of Texas. Anne Pellowski gave the keynote address. For additional information contact: Mauricio Charpenel, Institute of Latin American Studies, The University of Texas, Sid W. Richardson Hall, I.310, Austin, Texas 78712.

PARTNERS IN THE AMERICAS

Washington, D.C.

April 30–May 1, 1974

The Partners of the Americas and the Partners Rehabilitation and Education Program sponsored this conference in conjunction with the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Karen Felgner organized the program on the topic, Rehabilitation in the Americas. Rehabilitation specialists for the mentally, physically, and socially handicapped from 16 nations of Latin America and the Caribbean and from 36 U.S. "Partner" states participated. For additional information contact: Partners of the Americas, 2001 S Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009.

COMPARATIVE STUDY OF PEASANT MOVEMENTS IN ASIA, AFRICA, EUROPE AND LATIN AMERICA

Michigan State University

May 1–2, 1974

Michigan State University sponsored this symposium on the current state of and tendencies in peasant socio-political mobilization in Asia, Africa, Europe and Latin America. Participants included:

Friedrich Katz, University of Chicago, Latin America;
Richard Adams, University of Texas, general commentator;
Charles Tilly, University of Michigan, Europe;
John Saul, University of Toronto, Africa;
John Broomfield, University of Michigan, Asia.

For additional information write: Department of Anthropology, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI 48824.

AFRICA, THE CARIBBEAN, AND THE SOUTHERN U.S.—LINKAGES

University of Florida

May 10–11, 1974

The Social Science Research Council with the Graduate School, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the Center for African Studies of the University of Florida, Gainesville, sponsored this Fifth Florida Regional Seminar on Africa. Lloyd Best, University of the West Indies, Trinidad, presented a luncheon address on, Plantation Economy-Parallel Developments. The following papers with Latin American content were presented:

Philip D. Courtin, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Human Links: The Atlantic Slave Trade;

Boniface I. Obichere, University of California, LA, 19th Century Returnees from the New World to West Africa: A Comparative Analysis;

Latin American Research Review

Nicole X. Cauvin, University of Florida, The Transformation of African Cults in the New World: The Case of Haiti;

Mary Arnold Twining, Atlanta University, Reaffirmations of Materials and Non-Material Culture Traits in the New World;

Ira E. Harrison and Kay Fitts, Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Health Status and Healing Practices—Continuations from an African Past;

Hollis Lynch, Columbia and currently Hoover Institution, Intellectual Links.

For additional information write: Center for African Studies, 470 Graduate School, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611.

NEW DIRECTIONS OF URBAN RESEARCH IN LATIN AMERICA
Austin, Texas
May 16–18, 1974

The Institute of Latin American Studies of the University of Texas at Austin sponsored this interdisciplinary seminar on urban research.

The goal of this seminar was to assess the lessons and difficulties met by urban research during the last decade and attempt to identify major guidelines for such research in the future. The following sessions were held:

I. National Urban Hierarchies: Inter-City Patterns of Exchange and Dependence

Jorge Balán, Instituto Torcuato di Tella, presenter;

John Walton, Northwestern University, presenter;

Harley Y. Browning, University of Texas, discussant;

Michael E. Conroy, University of Texas, discussant.

II. Small and Mid-Size Cities and their Hinterlands: Interactions and Mutual Influences

Nelson Amaro, United Nations, presenter;

Bryan Roberts, University of Manchester, presenter;

Richard P. Schaedel, University of Texas, discussant;

Antonio Ugalde, University of Texas, discussant.

III. Social Networks of Migration in Urban and Rural Contexts

Henry A. Dietz, University of Texas, presenter;

Darissa Lomnitz, Universidad Nacional de México, presenter;

Allan G. King, University of Texas, discussant;

Alejandro Portes, University of Texas, discussant.

IV. Economics of Urban Poverty: Unemployment and the Labor Market

Arthur L. Silvers, Resources for the Future, presenter;

Richard Webb, Princeton University, presenter;

Henry A. Dietz, discussant;

Richard U. Miller, University of Wisconsin, discussant.

V. Policy Research in the Uses of Urban Land

Guillermo Geisse, Universidad Católica de Chile, presenter;

Oscar Yujnovsky, Instituto Torcuato di Tella, presenter;
 Richard Symanski, University of Texas, discussant;
 Alberto Harth Deneke, Fundación Salvadoreña de Desarrollo y Vivienda, discussant.

VI. Perspectives for Long Term Co-Sponsored Research on Urbanization
 Ramon Cardona G., Corporación Control Regional de Población, presenter;
 Domingo M. Rivarola, Centro Paraguayo de Estudios Sociológicos, presenter;
 Lawrence F. Salmen, Inter-American Foundation, presenter;
 Richard N. Adams, University of Texas, discussant;
 Michael E. Conroy, discussant.

Harley L. Browning, Urban Studies Group of the University of Texas Institute of Latin American Studies, made a summary statement at the closing of the conference. For additional information contact: Alejandro Portes, Coordinator of the Urban Research Workshop, Institute of Latin American Studies, University of Texas, Sid W. Richardson Hall, I.310, Austin, TX 78712.

MEXICAN CULTURE AND THE HEALING ARTS

San Antonio, Texas
 October 3-5, 1974

The Department of Psychiatry of the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio in cooperation with the University of Mexico at Mexico City sponsored this Second International Film Festival on Culture and Psychiatry. This year the film festival featured Indian and Mexican Roots of American Culture and was held at the auditorium of the University of Texas Health Science Center.

The ancient and modern cultures of Mexico were portrayed by film, works of art, lectures, informal discussions, dance, music, food and drink. The festival attempted to focus attention on the inter-relationships of the Indian, Mexican, Spanish and American cultures and traditions, particularly as they are manifest in folk medicine, magic, superstition, belief, faith and science. John Laney and Bruce Jewell presented a prefest program on, The Native American Church, The Peyote Ritual, Symbolism and Music. The following sessions were conducted:

I. Myth, Ritual, Witchcraft in Folk Medicine in Mexico and Southwestern United States

George G. Meyer, UT Health Science Center, Introduction to Scientific Program;
 Horatio Fabrega, Michigan State, Illness and Shamanistic Medicine;
 Guido Belsasso, Centro Mexicano de Estudios en Farmacodependencia, Studies of Drug Dependence in Mexico;
 Howard P. Rome, Mayo Clinic, Folk Medicine: Mushrooms and Psychiatry;
 Howard P. Rome, presiding, Guido Belsasso, Jorge M. Velsasco Alzago, Hospital IMAN, Mexico, and Ramon Parres, American Psychiatric Association, panel on Folk Medicine and Interface of Modern Medicine in Mexico;
 Film, Ritual of the Dead by Guy Sresser Pean;

Latin American Research Review

Robert L. Bergman, U.S. Indian Health Service, The Modern Indian Medicine Man and Psychiatrist;

Mario E. Ramirez, To Live and Work in Roma, Texas, included a film: Instead of El Dorado;

Daniel Saenz, UT Health Science Center, comments;

George G. Meyer, comments;

Film: Los Aires (Curing of Bad Air) and Peyote Pilgrimage by Scott S. Robinson; Scott S. Robinson, Mexico, discussion of the above films.

II. Fiesta and Films under the Stars

Film: Sentinels of Silence;

Ricardo Montalban, actor, commentary and reply;

Film: Portrait of Mexico, directed by Harry Atwood, Arizona;

Film: Tamayo Murals by Manuel Gonzales Casanova.

III. Mexican Culture

Film: Une Statuette directed by Carlos Villardebo;

Film: Frida Kahlo;

Film: Posada (Artist Jose Guadalupe Posada), produced by José Pavon;

Film: Reed: Mexico Insurgente directed by Paul Leduc;

Film: Latin America (original footage of Mexican Revolution);

Stanley R. Ross, University of Texas, Mexican Revolution—Forging a Nation;

Raul Ortiz y Ortiz, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, response.

IV. Films on Cultural Rites and Rituals

Film: To find our Life: The Peyote Hunt of the Huichol Indians by Peter Furst, SUNY;

Manuel Gonzeles Casanova and Scott S. Robinson, discussion on the documentary film;

Film: Shunka's Story by Stephanie Krebs;

Film: La Manda;

Donald L. Weismann, University of Texas, Stanley R. Ross, Scott S. Robinson, and Manuel Gonzales Casanova, par.el discussion and questions.

V. Art, History, Ritual and Legend

Film: Memorias de un Mexicano by Salvador Toscano;

Richard E.W. Adams, University of Texas at San Antonio, Genesis of Mesoamerican

VI. The Chicano

Jacinto Quirarte, University of Texas at San Antonio, Creative Art as Ritual. Civilization;

Selected sequences from the following films: El teatro campesino, America tropical, Yo soy Chicano, The Most Hated Man in Mexico, Mexican American—The Invisible Minority, and Huelga;

Cervando Martinez, panel moderator with Tomas Rivera, University of Texas at San Antonio, Melesio Casas, San Antonio, College, and Ricardo Montalban, The Chicano from the Perspective of the United States;

Film: Henry, Boy of the Barrio produced by Bernard S. Selling;

Film: I Am Joaquin produced by Luis Valdez;

Raul Ortiz y Ortiz, panel moderator, with Ramon Parres, Guido Belsasso, Jorge Velasco Alzaga, and Manuel Gonzales Casanova, The Chicano from the Perspective of Mexico.

On Friday evening a candlelight dinner was served in the courtyard of the San Jose Mission. Lee Marvin and Ricardo Montalban presented extemporaneous comments. Patrick F. Flores, Auxiliary Bishop of San Antonio, spoke on The Church and Mexico. Following dinner, entertainment in the chapel included songs of Mexico. Three films: The Orozco Murals: Quetzalcoatl, Siqueiros, "El Maestro"; March of Humanity in Latin America, and In Search for the Lost World were shown at the Health Science Center for those not attending the dinner.

For additional information write: International Film Festival, News and Information Office, University of Texas Health Science Center, 7703 Floyd Curl Drive, San Antonio, TX 78284.

FUTURE MEETINGS

THE NEW WORLDS AND THE OLD: RECIPROCAL INFLUENCES IN THE AGE OF DISCOVERIES, University of Michigan, October 31–November 1, 1974. This Conference will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Society for the History of Discoveries. For additional information write Clements Library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48104.

FIRST IMAGES OF AMERICA: THE IMPACT OF THE NEW WORLD ON THE OLD, University of California, Los Angeles, February 6–9, 1975. The projected program includes twenty-two panels, broadly divided into three areas: the impact on the European imagination (art and literature); the impact on political institutions, legal concepts, and historiography; and the impact on economics, agriculture, science, and technology. For further information write: The Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies, Bunch Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

PROBLEMS OF LAW AND POLITICS IN LATIN AMERICA, University of Houston, March 7, 1975. For details contact Philip B. Taylor, Jr., Latin American Studies Program, University of Houston, Houston, TX 77004.

INTER-AMERICAN MEETING OF AGRICULTURAL LIBRARIANS AND DOCUMENTALISTS, Mexico City, April 8–11, 1975. This 4th annual meeting is open to all specialists and institutions interested in the development of agricultural librarianship, documentation, and information in Latin America. The meeting is organized by the Asociacion Interamericana de Bibliotecarios y Documentalistas

Latin American Research Review

Agrícolas and will focus on the general theme: Establishment and operation of agricultural information networks in Latin America. This meeting will be followed immediately by the V World Congress of the International Association of Agricultural Librarians and Documentalists. For information on these two meetings write: Mrs. Ana María Paz de Erikson, Executive Secretary of AIBDA, IICA/CIDA, Turrialba, Costa Rica.

XVII CONGRESO DEL INSTITUTO INTERNACIONAL DE LITERATURA IBERO-AMERICANA, Madrid, Spring 1975. The theme for the Congress will be: El Barroquismo y el Neobarroco en la literatura hispanoamericana. A suggested length for papers is 8–10 pages. For further details contact: Francisco Sánchez-Castañer, Presidente del XVII Congreso en Madrid del Instituto de Literatura Iberoamericana, Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, Universidad Complutense, Madrid, Spain.

XIV CONGRESO DE CIENCIAS HISTÓRICAS, San Francisco, California, August 22–29, 1975. For information contact: Richard Schlatter, Executive Director of the Congress, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ 08903.