
The British Journal of Aesthetics

The Journal of the British Society of Aesthetics

One of the leading organs for philosophical discussion on the international scene, providing a medium for study of the philosophy of art and the principles of aesthetic appreciation and judgement. Experience of both fine and applied art is examined from the point of view of the psychologist, the sociologist, the historian, the teacher and the general critic. By bringing together discussions of general philosophical aesthetics and articles on the principles of appraisal which apply in the various arts severally, the journal works towards a better understanding of the analogies and differences between them. Established 1960.

Philosophy

Editor: RENFORD BAMBROUGH

Lecturer in Philosophy, University of Cambridge

Published for the Royal Institute of Philosophy

The journal is concerned with the study of philosophy in all its branches: logic, metaphysics, epistemology, ethics, aesthetics, social and political philosophy and the philosophies of religion, science, history, language, mind and education. The journal is not committed to any particular school or method and contributors are expected to avoid needless technicality. There is a section on new books which includes reviews, book notes and a list of books received.

Journal of Philosophical Logic

Published under the auspices of the Association for Symbolic Logic

Editor-in-Chief

RICHMOND H. THOMASON

University of Pittsburgh, U.S.A.

The Journal of Philosophical Logic is the only journal specializing in philosophical logic and utilizes formal methods of dealing with topics in logical theory, including contributions to branches of logical theory directly related to philosophical concerns, contributions to philosophical discussions that utilize the machinery of formal logic, discussions of philosophical issues relating to logic and the logical structure of language, and philosophical work relating to special sciences with emphasis on foundational problems.
