The British Journal of Psychiatry is published monthly under the auspices of the Royal College of Psychiatrists. The Journal publishes original work in all fields of psychiatry. All communications, including manuscripts for publication, should be sent to The Editor, British Journal of Psychiatry, 17 Belgrave Square, London SW1X 8PG.

Full instructions to authors are given at the front of the May 1992 issue.

Two copies of the manuscript should be submitted and the author should retain a copy. Articles must be typed on one side of the paper only, double spaced with wide margins.

Contributions are accepted for publication on the condition that their substance has not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere. The Journal does not hold itself responsible for statements made by contributors. Unless so stated, material in the Journal does not necessarily reflect the views of the Editor or the Royal College of Psychiatrists.

Published articles become the property of the Journal and can be published elsewhere, in full or in part, only with the Editor's written permission.

Diploma in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry
An International Course

A one year course leading to a Diploma in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry will start in January 1994. The course is designed for psychiatrists, paediatricians and psychologists from overseas and will be particularly suitable for those intending to set up or work in child mental health services in developing countries.

Course content covers assessment, diagnosis and management of children and adolescents with psychiatric disorders, including those with physical illness and chronic handicap; issues relating to planning or implementing services for child mental health with particular reference to the needs of the participants' own countries; research methodology.

Research Methods in Psychiatry

2nd Edition

Edited by

CHRIS FREEMAN and PETER TYRER

The popular first edition has been fully revised and updated. Sections on data collection and use of computers have been expanded to incorporate new developments in these fields, and there is additional information on meta-analysis and rating scales. Two new chapters have been added, on writing review papers and research into the history of psychiatry.

"...must become essential reading for those training in psychiatry..." Lancet
