

CAMBRIDGE ARCHAEOLOGICAL JOURNAL

Vol. 9, No. 1, APRIL 1999

CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- |                                    |   |        |
|------------------------------------|---|--------|
| Kent V. Flannery                   | Process and Agency in Early State Formation   | 3-21   |
| A. Martin Byers                    | Communication and Material Culture:Pleistocene Tools as Action Cues                                 | 23-41  |
| Mike Parker Pearson                | Food, Sex and Death: Cosmologies in the BritishIron Age with Particular Reference to East Yorkshire | 43-69  |
| Bettina Arnold                     | 'Drinking the Feast': Alcohol and the Legitimationof Power in Celtic Europe                         | 71-93  |
| Edward M. Luby &Mark F. Gruber | The Dead Must be Fed: Symbolic Meanings of theShellmounds of the San Francisco Bay Area             | 95-108 |

VIEWPOINT

- |                         |   |         |
|-------------------------|---|---------|
| John Gage et al. | What Meaning had Colour in Early Societies? | 109-126 |
|-------------------------|---|---------|

SHORTER NOTES

- |                                 |   |         |
|---------------------------------|---|---------|
| Jeffrey D. Sommer               | The Shanidar IV 'Flower Burial': a Re-evaluationof Neanderthal Burial, Ritual | 127-129 |
| Yosef Garfinkel                 | Facts, Fiction, and Yarmukian Figurines   | 130-132 |
| Avi Gopher &Estelle Orrelle | Coffee Beans, Cowries and Vulvas: a Reply toComments by Y. Garfinkel          | 132-137 |

REVIEW ARTICLES

- |                  |  |         |
|------------------|--|---------|
| Bruce G. Trigger | Reconnoitring Religion   | 139-142 |
| David S. Whitley | Heart and Soul   | 142-144 |
| Stephen L. Dyson | Roman Gaul   | 144-146 |
| Ian W.F. Baxter  | On the Path to Enlightenment: Power andKnowledge at Stonehenge | 146-149 |
| Chris Scarre     | Ancestral Traditions   | 149-152 |
| Philip Duke      | The Limits of Archaeology  | 152-154 |
| Andrew Sherratt  | Creations of Mind  | 154-160 |

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

0959-7743(199904)9:1;1-R