

GEOARCHAEOLOGY

An International Journal

Editor-in-Chief: Jack Donahue, Ph.D.

Department of Anthropology, University of Pittsburgh

GEOARCHAEOLOGY is the only journal to explore the critical interface between archaeology and the earth sciences. Recognizing that the fields are integrally aligned, the journal's interdisciplinary approach aims to promote better understanding of methodologies and applications of common interest to:

- archaeologists
- paleontologists
- and soil scientists.

GEOARCHAEOLOGY publishes all new information that reflects the interrelatedness of the fields, with emphasis on:

- original research reports on the environmental setting of archaeological sites and material analysis of artifacts

- synthesis discussing broader aspects of geoarchaeology, and
- methods papers describing new techniques and equipment.

In addition, GEOARCHAEOLOGY features: Book Reviews, Meeting Notes, Professional News, and Calendars of Events.

Don't miss out on this exciting resource in your field.

Reading the Isotopic Clocks.

Your research in age determination and stable isotopes requires reliable data and custom service. Teledyne Isotopes has the expertise and experience to meet these requirements.

We have been pioneers in the industry since 1955 and are the only commercial laboratory that offers all major age determination techniques.

These include:

Radiocarbon

Stable isotopes: $^{13}\text{C}/^{12}\text{C}$ • $^{18}\text{O}/^{16}\text{O}$ • H/D

K/Ar • Rb/Sr • U/Pb • Pb/Pb

We can assure you of reliable data because of well-staffed and well-equipped labs, intercalibration with major universities and government facilities, and through use of N.B.S. and international standards.

For the most reliable reading of the isotopic clocks, come to the experts.

The Chairperson of the Nominating Committee for the 1987 elections is Charles Cleland, Department of Anthropology, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI 48824. The other members are Leslie Wildesen, Colorado Heritage Center, 1300 Broadway, Denver, CO 80203; and Keith Kintigh, Department of Anthropology, University of California, Santa Barbara, CA 93106. The elections will be held in May 1987. Members are urged to participate by suggesting names of candidates to any member of the committee before September 15, 1986.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND CALL FOR NOMINATIONS THE SAA DOCTORAL DISSERTATION PRIZE

The Society for American Archaeology has established a prize to be awarded to individuals whose doctoral dissertations are judged to be particularly outstanding and important. The prize will consist of honorary lifetime membership in the SAA. In addition, the Society will endeavor to publish as many of these dissertations as possible.

Nominees must have defended their dissertations and have received their Ph.D. degrees in the three years prior to the current deadline (10/1/86) in order to be eligible. It is not necessary that a nominee already be a member of the SAA.

Non-student members of the SAA are encouraged to nominate students whose dissertations they consider to represent outstanding scholarship and original contributions to the field. At the time of nomination, nominees are to be informed of the fact, and they may then submit their papers in competition if they agree to adhere to the conditions of the competition and the prize (see American Antiquity 48[1] for details). All letters of nomination and three copies of all dissertations entered for consideration must be sent by October 1, 1986 to:

Stephen E. Plog, SAA Dissertation Prize Committee
Department of Anthropology
University of Virginia
Charlottesville, VA 22903
