

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville
Blount National Bank Professor of Finance
College of Business Administration

The College of Business Administration invites nominations and applications for the Blount National Bank Professorship of Finance. Applicants and nominees for the Distinguished Professorship should be scholars with active research programs in the area of financial institutions and markets. Younger applicants with a clearly demonstrated record of research are encouraged to apply.

Teaching responsibilities will be at the MBA and doctoral levels, and the successful candidate will be expected to be active in guiding graduate students and working with junior faculty. In addition to academic achievements, candidates should be willing to engage in activities fostering an interaction between the College and the financial community. Salary is competitive, and the position includes the resources and support necessary for a continuing high level of research activity.

Nominations and applications should be submitted by September 15, 1986 to:
