'see me' (www.seemescotland.org) is Scotland's national campaign to end the stigma and discrimination associated with mental illness. It is owned and run by an alliance of five mental health organisations and funded by the Scottish Government. 'see me' targets the general public using national and local advertising, work with the press, and local and national campaign activities. Discrimination is discussed in this issue by Thornicroft, pp. 53–59 and Byrne, pp. 60–62. Photograph by 'see me'. All rights reserved.
