"This completely revised edition of Helmut Koester's History, Culture, and Religion of the Hellenistic Age provides what is missing from all other introductions to the New Testament: An authoritative, detailed analysis of the whole environment of the New Testament from Alexander the Great to the Roman Empire. This volume should be required reading as a cram course in the multifaceted world into which Christianity entered and had to make its way."

— James M. Robinson, Director, The Institute for Antiquity and Christianity, The Claremont Graduate School

"... an indispensable tool for scholars at every level."

— Hans Dieter Betz, Shailer Mathews Professor of New Testament Studies, University of Chicago

This monumental work has established itself as a classic text in the field of New Testament studies. Written in a readable, non-technical style, it has become an indispensable textbook and reference for teachers, students, clergy, and the educated layperson interested in a scholarly treatment of the New Testament and its background in the Judaic and Greco-Roman world. Volume 1 surveys not only the political and religious history of the Hellenistic and early Roman periods, but also discusses the economy, social world, and literature of both the pagan world and Judaism.

VOLUME 2: History and Literature of Early Christianity, Second Edition, is in preparation.

Theory and Method in Religious Studies

Contemporary Approaches to the Study of Religion

Edited by Frank Whaling

1995. vi + 427 pages.

Paper $24.95

ISBN 3-11-014254-6

Mouton de Gruyter

This volume contains a selection of articles that first appeared in the two volumes Contemporary Approaches to the Study of Religion: The Humanities and Contemporary Approaches to the Study of Religion: The Social Sciences, thereby making this important work available again to students and scholars of the subject. Treatment is given to the psychological, sociological, social and cultural, anthropological, and historical and phenomenological approaches to the study of religion. The book also includes chapters on myth and other religious texts, the scientific study of religion in its plurality, and the study of religion in a global context. A new introduction by Frank Whaling addresses the most recent developments in the study of religion and anticipates future developments.

Price subject to change.

ROMANS

The Righteousness of God
ADOLF SCHLATTER
TRANSLATED BY
SIEGFRIED S. SCHATZMANN

In his foreword to Schlatter's classic exegetical/theological commentary, Peter Stuhlmacher notes: "Schlatter endeavored to comprehend the apostle's message holistically and without strictures. . . . he obviously thereby did us in the present a service for which we ought to be grateful, regardless of how distanced we are to Schlatter."

SPEAKING OF GOD

Rhetoric of Text, Rhetoric of Sermon

JERRY CAMERY-HOGGATT

Camery-Hoggatt responds to the recent call for a closer interaction between the rhetorical movements of the text and the homiletical movements of the sermon and bridges the gap by describing the rhetorical factors of language in terms that make sense to the beginning or traditional exegete.
