

EDITORIAL COMMENT

This first issue of volume 7 of Seed Science Research brings some changes in the editorial personnel. Marc Cohn begins as the Associate Editor in North America, replacing Robert Hill. In addition to normal editorial functions, Marc will take a special interest in the journal's review articles. Rob has kindly agreed to remain on the Review Board which Eugene Vigil is leaving. A welcome is extended to Marc and our thanks and appreciation to Rob and Eugene for all the help that they have given.

Michael Black
