

CALL FOR PAPERS

ADVANCES IN ECONOMETRICS: Econometric Methods and Models for Industrial Organization

The editors of Advances in Econometrics, a research annual published by JAI Press, are currently soliciting abstracts for papers in the area of econometric methods and models for industrial organizations. Papers chosen for publication will appear in this 1990 volume.

This volume will publish papers that extend economists' ability to use quantitative techniques in analysis of industrial organization issues including:

-  Comparing effects of regulation and deregulation
-  Creating and assessing antitrust policies
-  Describing and measuring the impact of market shares on market structure
-  Simulating outcomes of policy proposals

Papers developing technique as well as papers presenting theoretical and empirical work will be considered.

Please send your proposed abstracts no later than March 15, 1989 to
