Think

Published for the Royal Institute of Philosophy

Editor

Stephen Law, Heythrop College, University of London, UK

Think has been created to forge a direct link between contemporary philosophy and the widest possible readership. The central aim of the journal is to provide to a very wide audience – encompassing undergraduates, 'A' level students, students in further education and the general public – highly accessible and engaging writing by philosophers pre-eminent in their fields. Think also aims to counter the popular impression that philosophy is pointless and wholly detached from everyday life. Its contributors sometimes expose some of the bad philosophy which currently passes as accepted wisdom in certain circles (e.g. religious, scientific, anthropological, etc). Perhaps most importantly, Think gives contemporary philosophers the chance to help nurture and encourage philosophers of the next generation.

Philosophy

Published for the Royal Institute of Philosophy

Editor

Anthony O'Hear, University of Buckingham, UK

Philosophy is the journal of the Royal Institute of Philosophy, which was founded in 1925 to build bridges between specialist philosophers and a wider educated public. The journal continues to fulfil a dual role: it is one of the leading academic journals of philosophy, but it also serves the philosophical interests of specialists in other fields (law, language, literature and the arts, medicine, politics, religion, science, education, psychology, history) and those of the general reader. Contributors are required to avoid needless technicality of language and presentation. Each issue contains an editorial on a topic of philosophical or public interest, and a 'New Books' section.

The institutional subscription includes two supplements and a subscription to Think.

Religious Studies

An international journal for the philosophy of religion

Editorial policy

Religious Studies is an international journal devoted to the problems of the philosophy of religion as these arise out of classical and contemporary discussions and from varied religious traditions. Space is devoted to articles, of which more than 25 are published each year, but the journal also contains a book review section, which may include review articles and shorter notes as well as normal-length reviews.

1. Submissions

All contributions must be submitted via the electronic submission system at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/rst>

For further details, please visit the journal's website: www.journals.cambridge.org/res

No article will be accepted for publication without blind review. The text of submitted articles must be ready for this and must bear no trace of the author's identity. Articles that are not ready for blind review will be rejected.

Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that it is unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Upon acceptance of a paper, the author will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to Cambridge University Press.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in their manuscript.

Books for review should be sent to Dr Christopher Hamilton at Department of Theology and Religious Studies, King's College London, Strand, London WC2R 2LS.

Books not selected for review will not be returned.

NB: Religious Studies does not accept unsolicited book reviews.

2. Manuscript preparation

Articles must be submitted as Word files to the journal and should not be more than 10,000 words long. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should be in English.

Each article must be submitted with an abstract of 100 words.

When an article has been accepted for publication, the author must prepare their manuscript according to the journal style guide which can be found at www.journals.cambridge.org/res. Articles and book reviews will be checked and copy-edited for journal style and UK English.

The manuscript must be supplied in electronic format as Microsoft Word accompanied by a pdf of the same file.

3. Proofs

First proofs are sent to contributors by e-mail as PDF files. Corrections will only be accepted if they are sent to the Editor without delay.

Typographical or factual errors only may be changed at proof stage. The publisher reserves the right to charge authors for correction of non-typographical errors.

4. Offprints

Complimentary offprints are not supplied. Each Author will receive a pdf file containing their contribution to the journal, for their own use. Authors of Articles will also receive a copy of the journal.
