

Article: 1545

Topic: EPV23 - e-Poster 23: Posttraumatic Stress Disorder

Traumatic Behavior Deviance of Individual Within Social Contexts.

S. Ibrahimi¹, R. Gordon²

¹Psychology, Albanian University, Tirana, Albania ; ²Psychology, The Intitute for Advanced Psychological Training, Allentown, USA

*Introduction:*In the social context individuals and society are in a complex combination for they can not exist apart one-another.The way these paralellic identities combine in a time and space with brand new dimensions is the core question held in this paper. Surely individuals gains from society space and time and gives space and time to it ,as well. At the point these interchanges occur,there is the combination of the identity states staded.

Even though in such a complexity, the tendency to distinguish clearly the psycholocial from filosofical and social dimension is on the first core aims of the paper.

Objectives: As the core of the paper are psychological deviances ,this will be the central question with branches of Heideggerian dasein identity, the social level according to Durkheim with an analitical viewpoint of Other(s) as to Decombes.

*Aims:*The aim of this paper is to bring a psychological,social and philosophical viewpoint of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder model based on what Albanian Society has been through in the past and present contextes .The social interaction stands on these behavioral malfunction identities.

*Methods:*The selected topic is based on analitical viewpoint of Traumatic Form through related models of existece.

*Conclusions:*Theoretical conclusions given in this paper are closely related to our society in its present existent form ,and previous existences.

Keywords: Dasein, Time -Space , Identities,Behavior Deviance ,Trauma,Malfunction,Personality.