

Information for Authors

The purpose of the Canadian Journal of Philosophy is the publication in Canada of philosophical work of high quality, in English or French, and in any field of philosophy. All submissions are given blind editorial review; those of departmental colleagues are externally refereed.

Four copies of submitted manuscripts, double-sided if preferred, should be sent to: Executive Secretary, Canadian Journal of Philosophy, University of Lethbridge, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada T1K 3M4. It is preferred that manuscripts be typed double-spaced, including quotes and footnotes. In general, the Canadian Journal of Philosophy follows The University of Chicago Manual of Style. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively and assembled on separate pages at the end of the manuscript. Manuscripts should be prepared for blind review, which means they should contain no self-identifying references in either text or footnotes. Manuscripts will not be returned unless return postage is prepaid by cheque, money-order, reply coupons, or Canadian stamps.

Manuscripts may also be submitted electronically in Word or WordPerfect to cjp@uleth.ca.

Authors will receive, without charge, 25 copies of their articles. Additional offprints may be ordered when the proofs are returned to the publisher.

All enquiries of an editorial nature should be directed to the Executive Secretary at the above address.

Les manuscrits peuvent également être envoyés par courrier électronique en Word ou Wordperfect à Marda Schindeler à cjp@uleth.ca.

Les auteurs reçoivent gratuitement 25 tirés-à part de leur article. Ils sont priés, s'ils désirent en obtenir un plus grand nombre à titre onéreux, en informer l'imprimeur lors de renvoi des épreuves.

ISSN 0229-7051

What might we know if we knew that the mind is an adaptation? What could knowledge of history or circumstances tell us about the individuation of content or the nature/rôle of vision? What can science—evolutionary theory in particular—tell us about the metaphysics of mind?

This collection of new essays concerning the mind explores the prospects for, and limits of, appealing to facts about evolutionary history and current environment-organism interaction in explaining the nature and workings of the mental. Each paper addresses empirical data from evolutionary theory, ethology, psychology, or neuroscience, though they vary with regard to their optimism as to what such discoveries can tell us about particular issues in the philosophy of mind.

Call for Papers: 'The Concept of Disease'

Special Issue of *Philosophical Papers

Guest Editors: Rachel Cooper (Lancaster) & Christopher Megone (Leeds)

Whether a condition is considered a disease often has social, economic and ethical implications. Are psychopaths evil or sick? Should state health services pay for the treatment of nicotine addiction? Is it right for shy people to take character-altering drugs? Can genetic therapy be clearly distinguished from genetic enhancement? All these debates may be seen to depend on whether the conditions are diseases, and developing an account of disease may therefore be central in addressing such questions.

Over the last decade or so various different accounts of disease have been proposed. However, while there are now a number of different accounts of disease available, there is no consensus as to which, if any, of these accounts might be ultimately acceptable.

The present special volume of Philosophical Papers invites contributions which will take forward this lively and important debate. Suitable papers may wish to focus directly on defences of a proposed account in the light of current debate or examine the implications of proposed accounts for particular issues such as the analysis of psychopathy or the genetic enhancement/therapy debate. Alternatively, papers may examine the wider philosophical context in which the debate is taking place—for example, the relevance of the debate to the fact/value distinction, or to proposed analyses of the concept of function.

The deadline for receipt of submissions is 30 April 2007. This issue of Philosophical Papers, comprising both invited and submitted articles, will appear in November of 2007.

Manuscripts should be submitted by post to Philosophical Papers, Department of Philosophy, Rhodes University, Grahamstown 6140, South Africa. Please include two hard copies along with an electronic version of the paper (either saved onto a new, clearly-labeled 3.5-inch PC-formatted floppy disk, or emailed as an attachment to philosophical.papers@ru.ac.za).

Further enquiries may be addressed to Rachel Cooper (R.V.Cooper@lancaster.ac.uk) or Ward Jones, Editor, Philosophical Papers (w.jones@ru.ac.za).
