

NEWS OF THE MEMBERS

Mordechai Abir has just published "Sharm al-Sheikh--Bab al-Mandeb: The Strategic Balance and Israel's Southern Approaches" Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Jerusalem Papers on Peace Problems 5, March 1974.

Ludwig W. Adamec has just published Afghanistan's Foreign Affairs to the Mid-Twentieth Century: Relations with the USSR, Germany, and Britain, University of Arizona Press, 1974, and Historical and Political Who's Who of Afghanistan, Akademische Druck- u. Verlagsanstalt, Graz, 1974.

Shahrough Akhavi has been appointed research specialist-Iran, in connection with the University of Chicago project, "Islam and Social Change", under a grant from the Ford Foundation. Period of appointment, including one year field research and six months residence at the University of Chicago, is January 1, 1975 - June 30, 1976.

Barbara Aswad has recently edited Arabic Speaking Communities in American Cities, Center for Migration Studies, New York, 1974.

Jere L. Bacharach has recently published A Near East Studies Handbook, 570-1974, University of Washington Press, 1974.

Daniel Crecelius, Professor of Middle Eastern History at California State University, Los Angeles, was given one of five faculty awards as Outstanding Professor for 1974.

Sami A. Hanna has just completed Modern Intellectual History of Tunisia. It is now ready for the publisher.

Fuad Jabber has recently published Israel and Nuclear Weapons. Present Option and Future Strategies, International Institute for Strategic Studies, 1974.

David W. Littlefield has just completed The Islamic Near East and North Africa, An Annotated Guide for Public and College Libraries and Readers, Libraries Unlimited, 1974.

Paul J. Magnarella has recently completed Tradition and Change in a Turkish Town, New York, John Wiley and Sons, 1974. Paper $4.95

Ragaei El Mallakh is co-editor of Energy and Development, Proceedings of the International Conference on the Economics of Energy and Development, May 9-11, 1974 at the University of Colorado, International Research Center for Energy and Economic Development, Colorado, October 1974.

Svetozár Pantůček is the editor of Tunesische Literaturgeschichte, Otto Harrassowitz, Wiesbaden, 1974.

Robert B. Patrick won a scholarship for study at the University of Tehran, Iran on an exchange agreement with the University of Utah. He is now a staff officer at NATO headquarters in Izmir, Turkey.

H. Shaked and S. Shamir are co-authors of "Inter-Arab Relations--Post War Problems" (in Hebrew). Occasional paper of the Shiloah Center for Middle Eastern and African Studies, Tel Aviv University, February 1974.

S. Shamir is co-author of "'The October Paper': Continuity and Change in Sadat's Program" (in Hebrew). Occasional paper of the Shiloah Center for Middle Eastern and African Studies, Tel Aviv University, June 1974.

Yedida Stillman has published an article on "The Three Magic Objects: A Yemenite Folktale" Fabula, V.14, No.3, 1973, published 1974.

Norman Stillman has published "Un témoignage contemporain de l'histoire de la Tunisie Ziride" Hespéris-Tamuda, Vol. XIII, 1972, appeared November 1974, as well as "Joseph Ibn 'Awkal: a Jewish Communal Leader in Eleventh Century Egypt, Eleventh Century, ed. Ferber and Sticca, ACTA, Vol. I.

Amal Rassam Vinogradov has just published The Nahir of Morocco: A Study of the Social Transformation of a Berber Tribe, Anthropological Papers No.55, Museum of Anthropology, University of Michigan, 1974

T. Cuyler Young, professor emeritus at Princeton University, will be one of the visiting faculty members at the University of Texas during the spring semester. He will teach courses on the emergence of modern Iran and social justice in ancient and modern Middle Eastern societies.

I. William Zartman has published a review article on five works about Middle East elites entitled "The Study of Elite Circulation: Who's on First and What's He Doing Then?" in Comparative Politics, April 1974.

