The Journal of African History

Editor

Cheikh A. Babou, University of Pennsylvania, USA

Andreas Eckert, Humboldt University Berlin, Germany

Lynn M. Thomas, University of Washington, Seattle, USA

Justin Willis, University of Durham, UK

The Journal of African History publishes articles and book reviews ranging widely over the African past, from the late Stone Age to the present. In recent years increasing prominence has been given to economic, cultural and social history and several articles have explored themes which are also of growing interest to historians of other regions such as: gender roles, demography, health and hygiene, propaganda, legal ideology, labour histories, nationalism and resistance, environmental history, the construction of ethnicity, slavery and the slave trade, and photographs as historical sources. Contributions dealing with pre-colonial historical relationships between Africa and the African diaspora are especially welcome, as are historical approaches to the post-colonial period.

To celebrate over 50 years of publishing, we invite you to read a collection of 50 papers selected by the editors, for free at: journals.cambridge.org/afh50

Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies

Published for the School of Oriental and African Studies

Editors

Ulrich Pagel, School of Oriental and African Studies, UK

Konrad Hirschler, School of Oriental and African Studies, UK

The Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies (BSOAS) is an international journal publishing research and reviews in the arts, humanities, law and languages relating to Africa and Asia. BSOAS is distinguished by the quality of its scholarship and the range of its coverage. BSOAS welcomes submissions on the history, religions, languages, literatures, laws, artistic cultures, and related fields pertaining to the societies and countries of Asia and Africa. Authors are encouraged to write in such a way that they be understood by interested non-specialists. As well as research articles, BSOAS publishes short notes and communications, obituaries of significant scholars, and review articles that situate important new publications in their wider scholarly context. BSOAS also has a comprehensive section where new publications are reviewed or, when appropriate, more briefly noted.

Journal of African Law

Published for the School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS)

Editors

Fareda Banda, School of Oriental and African Studies, UK

Chaloka Beyani, The London School of Economics, UK

Nelson Enonchong, University of Birmingham, UK

Rachel Murray, University of Bristol, UK

Emilia Onyema, School of Oriental and African Studies, UK

Sope Williams, The University of Nottingham, UK

During the past 50 years, Journal of African Law has established itself as the leading journal in its field. Its wide coverage encompasses the laws of sub-Saharan African countries. Its authoritative and thought-provoking articles address contemporary legal issues and highlight issues of international and comparative significance. The journal contains a separate section on recent legislation, case-law, law reform proposals and recent international developments affecting Africa. Journal of African Law is essential reading for academics, professional lawyers, development workers and policy-makers.

Journal of Modern African Studies

Editor

Christopher Clapham, University of Cambridge, UK

The Journal of Modern African Studies offers a quarterly survey of developments in modern African politics and society. Its main emphasis is on current issues in African politics, economies, societies and international relations. It is intended not only for students and academic specialists, but also for general readers and practitioners with a concern for modern Africa, living and working both inside and outside the continent. Editorial policy avoids commitment to any political viewpoint or ideology, but aims at a fair examination of controversial issues in order to promote a deeper understanding of what is happening in Africa today. The journal also includes an invaluable book review section.
