SCHIEFELBEIN
GLOBAL DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Join us in-person or online for the Third Annual Schiefelbein Global Dispute Resolution Conference at the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law. This conference convenes top lawyers, counsel for global corporations, internationally-recognized arbitrators and mediators, academics, and leaders at arbitration institutions to engage in discussions on timely issues in international dispute resolution.

Keynote Speaker

Catherine Amirfar
Partner | Debevoise & Plimpton
President | American Society of International Law

Catherine Amirfar is ranked among the top international legal practitioners in the world. Her practice focuses on public international law, international commercial and treaty arbitration and international and complex commercial litigation. She also served as Counselor on International Law to the Legal Adviser at the U.S. Department of State, where represented the United States before international bodies and advised the State Department on issues related to human rights, armed conflict, sovereign and diplomatic immunity, international arbitration and claims settlement and the intersection of U.S. and international law.

Speaker Panels

- Mediation the World Over
- New Space: Opportunities and Challenges
- Indigenous International Dispute Resolution
- COVID-19 Class and Mass Disputes

Choice of Law in Practice

A Twenty-Year Report from the Trenches (Set of 3)

Symeon C. Symeonides, Willamette University College of Law

This book is a true treasure trove of original research, incisive observations, and useful practical pointers. Written by an author who has read more than sixty thousand conflicts cases in the last thirty years, the book skillfully guides American and foreign readers through the labyrinthine alleys of American choice-of-law litigation and distills the resulting lessons for attorneys, academics, and lawmakers.

Rosenne's The World Court: What It Is and How It Works

7th Revised Edition

Daphné Richemond-Barak

This book offers a contemporary and interactive take on the UN's main judicial organ. It analyzes the institution via the prism of its relationship with states – the Court's natural constituency – as well as UN organs, international and domestic courts, academia, and non-state actors, and offers topics for class discussions, moot court exercises, and model syllabi. The book's novel and multidisciplinary approach make it an essential resource for students, teachers, and scholars.

"Hard Power" and the European Convention on Human Rights

Peter Kempes

The European Convention on Human Rights is now crucial to decisions to be taken by the military and their political leaders in 'hard power' situations. How does the Convention law relate to these decisions? This book focuses primarily on States' accountability under the Convention, but also shows that human rights law, used creatively, can actually help States achieve their objectives.

Excessive Maritime Claims

Fourth Edition

J. Ashley Roach

This edition brings the text on State practice in the law of the sea up to date, particularly as to the provisions relating to the balance of navigational rights and freedoms with the interests of coastal and island States. Of particular interest are the more detailed explanations of the phrase "freedom of navigation"; the expanded material on baselines and on the practice of archipelagic States, the revisions of the material on the continental shelf, on marine data collection, on submarine cables and pipelines, and US Ocean Policy. A new chapter has been added on islands and other maritime features.

Max Planck Encyclopedia of International Procedural Law

The home of international law in practice

Available as part of the Max Planck Encyclopedias of International Law

GENERAL EDITOR

Professor H el ene Ruiz Fabri, Director of the Max Planck Institute Luxembourg for Procedural Law

The Max Planck Encyclopedia of International Procedural Law (MPEiPro) maps and analyzes the systems and processes through which international law is made, interpreted, and adjudicated in practice. It takes a broad view of international procedure, examining it from three different angles: technical points of procedure within specific institutions or across similar organizations; comparative accounts of families of institutions within specific subject areas or with similar functions; and theoretical, interdisciplinary entries.

STRAUS INSTITUTE

FOR DISPUTE RESOLUTION

ANA JULIA PAIVA PINCELI (LLM '20)

Arbitration Assistant
Adriana Braghetta Advogados
São Paulo, Brazil

I found my passion for international arbitration—an ADR field that works in common and civil law systems around the world—while studying at the Straus Institute. The institute offered not only arbitration classes, but conferences, networking events, and lectures by former students. And my professors were a professional inspiration. Along with my advisor, they discussed with me almost weekly what classes I should select and what subjects to research, and guided my next steps into a profession in international arbitration after I graduated from Pepperdine.

International Law at Iowa

For the past 40 years, Iowa Law has had an International and Comparative Law Program. We offer the Advanced Standing JD, LL.M, SJD, as well as the traditional three-year JD. In any given year, nearly ten percent of our students are from outside the United States, and we host numerous international scholars for the semester or the year. Our library, one of the largest in an American law school, has over 1.4 million titles and continues to grow. Nearly one-third of our faculty are involved in the field of International and Comparative Law.
