The Phoenicians and the West

Politics, Colonies and Trade

Maria Eugenia Aubet

"This is a good modern synthesis of archaeological, literary, and epigraphical data for Phoenicia's most expansionary phase....[E]xcellent and worthy work."

—American Anthropologist

Between the eighth and the sixth centuries BC, the Phoenicians established the first trading system to encompass the length of the Mediterranean basin.

This analysis of archaeological and historical data updates our understanding of their colonies' relationship to local Iron Age communities.

56598-7 Paperback $22.95

Architecture and Power in the Ancient Andes

The Archeology of Public Buildings

Jerry D. Moore

In this innovative volume, Moore discusses public architecture in the context of the cultural, political and religious life of the prehispanic Andes. He uses new analytical methods to approach architecture and its relationship to Andean society, exploring three themes in particular: the architecture of monuments, the architecture of ritual, and the architecture of social control.

New Studies in Archaeology

An Ethnography of the Neolithic

Early Prehistoric Societies in Southern Scandinavia

Christopher Tilley

From prehistoric landscapes to the symbolic significance of axes and pots, this study integrates a wide range of evidence to recreate the lives of the final hunter-gatherer-fishers and first farmers in Sweden and Denmark over a period of 3,000 years.

The Cambridge Illustrated History of Archaeology

Paul G. Bahn, Editor

Foreword by Sir Colin Renfrew

"We are all shaped by the past. The discovery of that past is therefore in some senses a voyage of self-discovery. Every archaeological excavation is an expedition into a world still largely unexplored: the world of the origin of ourselves and of human culture.... The history of archaeology is the history of self-awareness."

—From the Foreword by Colin Renfrew

Contributors: Paul Bahn, Gina Barnes, Caroline Bird, Peter Bogucki, Philip Duke, Christopher Edens, David Gill, John Hoffecker, Christopher Mee, Chris Scarre, Katharina Schreiber, Steven Snape, Anne Thackeray, Carl Lamberg-Karlovsky, Alice Kehoe, Andrew Foxon, Claudine Cohen

Cambridge Illustrated Histories

The Bronze Age of Southeast Asia

Charles Higham

This book addresses the controversy over the origins of the Bronze Age of Southeast Asia. Higham provides a systematic and regional presentation of the current evidence, suggesting that the adoption of metallurgy in the region followed a period of growing exchange with China. This book is the first comprehensive study of the period, placed within a broader comparative framework.

56505-7 Paperback $27.95

Cultural Diversity Among Twentieth Century Foragers
