AMERICAN JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The views expressed in the articles, editorial comments, book reviews, and all other contributions to the AJIL are those of the individual authors and are not to be taken as representing the views of the Board of Editors or the American Society of International Law.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

The American Journal of International Law (AJIL) invites submission of manuscripts on international law subjects. The Journal's coverage extends beyond public international law to closely related issues of global governance, transnational law, and national or sub-state law. It generally does not publish manuscripts focused on purely private or commercial law or on comparative or foreign law, including the internal law of the European Union. The Journal will not consider submissions whose content has been, or will be, published before it appears in this journal.

The Journal typically receives over 400 submissions each year for lead articles, current developments, or notes and comments from scholars and practitioners around the world. All such submissions are considered by the co-editors in chief as soon as feasible upon receipt, with expedited attention paid to exclusive submissions and to manuscripts, including candidates for notes, comments and current developments, that are less than 11,000 words. Submissions that are candidates for lead articles must receive, in addition to the approval of the co-editors in chief, the approval of two members of the Board of Editors in order to receive an offer of publication. (Where a submission presents a conflict of interest for the co-editors in chief, as with respect to submissions written by full-time members of the law faculty of New York University, the manuscript is handled by other members of the Board of Editors. Where only one of the two co-editors in chief has such a conflict of interest, the manuscript is handled by the other.) The process for peer review may involve members of the Board and outside scholars consulted for this purpose. This process ordinarily is double blind (meaning that the identity of the authors is unknown to the peer reviewers and vice versa). On occasion, this peer review process generates requests by the co-editors in chief for revision and resubmission. If ultimately rejected, manuscripts ordinarily are not resubmitted to the Journal.

Exclusive Submissions:

The Journal does not require exclusive submissions. Priority consideration will, however, be accorded where the author states that the submission is exclusive for a specified period of at least six weeks and commits to accept an offer of publication within the specified time period. Authors should bear in mind that, as a professionally juried journal, the Journal is rarely if ever able to make offers of publication in response to requests for expedited review within the time limits typically fixed by other journals that have made offers of publication.

Format and Style Guidelines:

All manuscripts should be double-spaced in 12-point Times New Roman type; these formatting requirements apply to all text, quotations, and footnotes. The maximum length for lead articles is 30,000 words (including footnotes which should be complete and generally in conformity with The Chicago Manual of Style (16th ed. 2010), The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation (19th ed., 2010) as well as the AJIL Style Guide.

Shorter pieces with less discursive footnotes, including submissions for lead articles, are strongly encouraged and may receive more expedited review. The maximum length for "Current Developments" and "Notes and Comments" submissions is 11,000 words. All manuscripts should be accompanied by the author's CV (in a separate document and including a list of publications) as well as a short abstract of no more than 150 words.

Given the volume of submissions to the Journal, authors are strongly urged to strictly adhere to these guidelines; manuscripts that exceed the word limits indicated, are not generally in conformity with The Chicago Manual of Style, or whose footnotes are not in accord with The Bluebook, (see above) may be rejected for these reasons alone.

Submissions should be in electronic form and should be transmitted as attachments to e-mail messages addressed to ajil@asil.org. For the Journal's complete submissions guidelines information, please visit <http://www.asil.org/ajil-submissions>.

The Journal currently uses Word 2010/2007 but can convert manuscripts created in other word processing programs. (In such cases, please specify the program used. Documents must be in easily edited formats.) Please do not send manuscripts in PDF format.

The Master of Laws (LL.M.) degrees are a one-year, full-time program, designed to give graduates of foreign law schools an opportunity to study the United States legal system and international law and trade, and to become truly capable lawyers in the 21st century's global economy. Our LL.M. students have access to 170 Juris Doctor (J.D.) courses, as well as courses specifically designed for the needs of LL.M. students. Our students, who have come from 60 countries, form a close-knit community and become involved in law school activities with J.D. classmates. LL.M. students benefit from individual attention and guidance in a family atmosphere. We offer four LL.M. degrees and a summer law institute.

SAY GOODBYE TO international law as you know it.

To outdated ideas about environmental regulation, global financial transactions, and the traditional hierarchies of domestic and international courts.

SAY HELLO TO international law as we know it, from a global perspective.

One which recognizes that there are fewer degrees of separation between issues once treated in isolation. Like foreign investment and human rights. Or a health crisis in one country and a patent holder on the other side of the globe.

AT THE FOREFRONT OF THIS PRACTICE IS COLUMBIA LAW SCHOOL through unique collaborations with governments, the U.N., regulatory agencies, and NGOs. On campus, you'll experience unparalleled programs in the future of warfare, global financial regulation and corporate law, and legal studies across Asia. Elsewhere, you'll find partnerships with a worldwide network of leading academic institutions and Columbia Global Centers.

And everywhere we are, you'll see pioneering legal scholarship building global paths toward freedom, peace, prosperity, and better governance.

This volume, which consists of three books and a CD-ROM and is edited by two legal experts on the Sierra Leone court, presents, for the first time in a single place, a comprehensive collection of all the interlocutory decisions and final trial and appeals judgments issued by the court in the case *Prosecutor v. The Taylor case is the jewel in the crown of the SCSL, as it was the first ever trial and conviction of a former African head of state for crimes committed in a neighboring state. ## Non-State Actors in International Law

Edited by Math Noortmann (Coventry University), August Reinisch (University of Vienna) and Cedric Ryngaert (Utrecht University)

The role and position of non-state actors in international law is the subject of a long-standing and intensive scholarly debate. This book explores the participation of this new category of actors in an international legal system that has historically been dominated by states. It explores the most important issues, actors and theoretical approaches with respect to these new participants in international law. It provides the reader with a comprehensive and state-of-the-art overview of the most important legal and political developments and perspectives.

Peremptory International Law - Jus Cogens: A General Inventory

Robert Kolb (University of Geneva)

In this book Robert Kolb, one of the leading international scholars of his generation, offers a seminal survey of the question of peremptory international law. The author analyses and systemises different questions, such as: the typology of peremptory norms beyond the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties; here he distinguishes between 'public order' jus cogens and mere 'public utility' jus cogens. Furthermore, what about relative jus cogens, such as regional jus cogens norms or conventional jus cogens norms? What about some consequences of jus cogens breaches in the law of State responsibility: are they themselves jus cogens? Thus, can individual war reparations be renounced by lump-sum agreements? What happens if different jus cogens norms are in conflict? Is there a difference between the scope of jus cogens in inter-State relations and its scope for other subjects of law, such as the UN and its Security Council? Is jus cogens necessarily predicated on the concept of a hierarchy of norms? What is the exact extent of the peremptory nature of some rules? Sometimes, only the core of a principle is peremptory, while its normative periphery is not.

Law's Impunity

Responsibility and the Modern Private Military Company

Hin-Yan Liu (University of Copenhagen)

This book considers law's impunity in the context of the modern Private Military Company (PMC), examining the relationship between law and the concepts of responsibility and impunity. This book proposes that ordinary legal processes do not neutralise, but rather legalise impunity. This radical idea is applied to the abysmal record of human rights violations perpetrated by the modern PMC and the shocking absence of accountability. This book demonstrates how the law organises, rather than overcomes, impunity by detailing how the modern PMC exploits ordinary legal processes to systematically exclude itself from legal responsibility. Thus, Law's Impunity offers an alternative to conventional thinking about the law, providing an innovative approach to assess and refine the rigour of legal processes in the ongoing quest to end impunity.

The Contractual Nature of the Optional Clause

Gunnar Törber (University of Münster)

Based, inter alia, on the jurisprudence of the Permanent Court of International Justice and the ICJ on the Optional Clause, but also on the relevant jurisprudence of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights and the European Court of Human Rights and the General Comments of the United Nations Human Rights Committee, this book provides a comprehensive assessment of all legal issues regarding the Optional Clause and also optional clauses in general. The book deals with the making of Optional Clause declarations, the interpretation of such declarations and reservations made to the declarations as well as the withdrawal or amendment of declarations.

Geneva: study in the heart of Europe in a truly international environment

In addition to various international law courses at undergraduate and postgraduate level in French, the University of Geneva Law School offers in English several summer schools, a Certificate in Transnational Law (CTL) as well as two Masters in advanced studies (MAS) and one Executive Master in cooperation with the Geneva Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies. Students and professionals from around the world come to study in Geneva, the home of numerous international organizations, UN agencies, the ICRC and law firms active in international arbitration.

The CTL provides students with a chance to specialize, early in their career, in international legal affairs within one or two semesters (30 ECTS). Students can tailor their studies according to their particular interests, be it public or private international law.

The MAS in International Humanitarian Law and Human Rights and the Executive Master in International Law in Armed Conflict comprise in-depth courses on all areas of international law relating to armed conflicts.

The Geneva Master in International Dispute Settlement gives students the opportunity to study all aspects of dispute settlement in the international arena, across the divide of public and private.

Summer Schools are offered on International Law, Cultural Heritage Law, Intellectual Property, post-conflict justice and state building and, jointly with Duke Law School, on transnational law.

The Center for International Legal Education (CILE) provides a global approach to legal education at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law. CILE features the following programs:

- the LL.M. Program for Foreign Law Graduates, featuring a personalized course of study and internship placement following graduation;
- beginning in Fall 2016, the Online LL.M. Program for Foreign Law Graduates;
- a Doctor of Juridical Science (S.J.D.) program directed at a select group of legal academics who wish to pursue advanced independent study, research and writing;
- a Certificate in International and Comparative Law for JD students;
- the Languages for Lawyers Program, offering courses in Arabic, French, German, and Spanish for Lawyers;
- CILE summer scholarships for study and internships abroad;
- international moot competition preparation;
- visiting foreign professors who provide courses in subjects not otherwise available;
- assistance with summer internship placements for students around the globe; and
- involvement with the area studies programs offered at Pitt's University Center for International Studies (UCIS).

International Legal Materials

A subscription to ILM, which is published online and in print, consists of six issues over the course of 12 months from time of payment. ASIL members receive free online access to the two most recent years' issues of ILM and may add on a print subscription to ILM at a discounted rate.

Published every other month since 1962, International Legal Materials (ILM) reproduces primary international legal documents reflecting the broad scope and evolution of international law. Materials are selected – with the advice of the ILM Editorial Advisory Committee and the ILM Corresponding Editors – for their usefulness to scholars, practitioners, and business and government officials. Each issue contains the full texts of important treaties and agreements, judicial and arbitral decisions, national legislation, international organizations resolutions, and other documents.

ASIL Insights

ASIL Insights are a wonderful way for me to learn quickly from people who are knowledgeable and authoritative about recent and ongoing developments in international law, particularly in areas that are a little outside my own area of expertise, so they help me stay abreast, and they make me more effective in my teaching.

Comparative Law

ASIL Insights, the "international law behind the headlines," provide brief, balanced accounts of the international law issues raised by newsworthy late-breaking events. They cover the gamut of international legal topics, with past articles covering topics such as the legality of intervention in Syria, the United States' implementation of adverse WTO rulings, and the International Court of Justice's ruling on Antarctic whaling. ASIL Insights are distributed to subscribers and posted on the ASIL website approximately two times a month.

To receive ASIL Insights, simply create a guest account at asil.org. To view past Insights or propose a new one, visit www.asil.org/Insights.
