

The Year Book of Social Policy in Britain 1971

EDITED BY KATHLEEN JONES

Professor of Social Administration, University of York

This is the first issue of an important new publication which will appear annually. It will present a critical review of the developments which have taken place over the previous year in social policy and social work. The Year Book will be essential reading for all who wish to keep up to date in the fields of social policy and social work, and over the years will give a concise coverage for all concerned with these fields of work. For 1971, a key year in social policy, the main focus is on the implementation of the Seebohm report.

Contributors include: Sir Derman Christopherson, John Lewis, Maurice G. Speed, Kay McDougall, Sir Keith Joseph, Christine M. Chapman, David Haxby, Doreen Collins. £4.00

Announcing a new series:

International Library of Social Policy

EDITED BY KATHLEEN JONES

The International Library of Sociology and Social Reconstruction was founded in 1942 by Karl Mannheim. It includes many distinguished books covering all the social sciences: history, anthropology, political science, sociology, economics, social work. After Mannheim's death in 1947, W. J. H. Sprott, Professor of Philosophy at Nottingham, was appointed Editor. Professor Sprott died in 1971 and it has now been decided to split the Library into two series dealing respectively with Social Policy and Sociology.

The International Library of Social Policy will be edited by Professor Kathleen Jones and the International Library of Sociology by Professor John Rex. Routledge will continue its active publishing programme in other areas of the social sciences.

Philosophy & Public Affairs provides a format for in-depth discussion by philosophers of different viewpoints and philosophically inclined writers from various disciplines—including law, political science, economics and sociology—of issues of public concern. ‘. . . It would be encouraging to know that its contents, and those of future issues, were going to be read where it matters: by the small number of people who are regularly expected or invited to debate public affairs in public.’—Times Literary Supplement

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of Social Policy, The London School of Economics and Political Science, Houghton Street, Aldwych, London WC2A 2AE. All books for review should be sent to: The Review Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Sociology, Goldsmiths' College, University of London, Lewisham Way, London SE14.

2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 10,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the Editor. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication.

3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send two copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.

5. References to books and articles should include the following details: in the case of books, the full title and author or authors, place of publication, publisher and date; in the case of articles, the title and author or authors, full name of the journal, volume, year and page reference (first and last page). References and other footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout and typed separately at the end of the article. Good articles which contain this bibliographical information will be accepted, even if they do not follow the journal's own arrangement of the information.

6. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page $9\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.

7. Contributors are advised to look through earlier issues of the journal for guidance on points of general style.

8. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editor, by airmail where appropriate, within ten days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent direct to the editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates.

9. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.

10. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
