

BULLETIN

of the

BUSINESS HISTORICAL SOCIETY

BEHAVIOR OF BUSINESS MEN IN A CHANGING WORLD

RISE OF BUSINESS STATESMANSHIP

By N. S. B. GRAS

Survey of the Business Road We Have Traveled	1
Economic and Non-Economic Men	5
External Difficulties (as well as Advantages) Business Men Have Encountered	12
World Struggle between Four Systems: Social Democracy, Communism (Autocratic Social- ism), Fascism, and Democratic Socialism	23
Stock Arguments of Socialists against Private Business Capitalism	30
Potent Current Drives in Favor of Socialism and against Private Business	36
Leadership, Past and Present: the Business Man Rises and Falls	45
Chance for Leadership—in Socializing Business	50
Consequences of the New Business Statesmanship —Not All Good	57

BUSINESS HISTORICAL SOCIETY, INC.

Organized in 1925 to promote the study
of business enterprise
from an historical point of view

Officers

JOHN W. HIGGINS, President
N. S. B. GRAS, Vice-President
ALLAN FORBES, Treasurer
ARTHUR H. COLE, Librarian
THOMAS R. NAVIN, JR.
Executive Secretary and Clerk
ELSIE H. BISHOP
Assistant Executive Secretary

Members of the Council

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS
DONALD K. DAVID
N. S. B. GRAS
JOHN W. HIGGINS
JOHN C. KILEY
AUGUSTUS P. LORING, III
HENRY L. SHATTUCK
WALLACE B. DONHAM
Honorary Member

The Society collects business manuscripts, books, and reports, distributes publications, and otherwise promotes research; the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration furnishes space and also assistance from the members of its faculty and staff. The Harvard Business School Associates receive all the publications of the Society.

BULLETIN OF THE BUSINESS HISTORICAL SOCIETY, INC.

HENRIETTA M. LARSON
Editor

ELSIE H. BISHOP
Assistant Editor

Issued four times a year and sent free to members of the Society.

For further information concerning the Society or the Bulletin, address The Business Historical Society, Soldiers Field, Boston 63, Massachusetts.

Copyright, 1949, by The Business Historical Society, Inc.

PRINTED IN U. S. A.