

ALLOTT'S JUDICIAL AND LEGAL SYSTEMS IN AFRICA

Edited by A. N. ALLOTT, M.A., PH.D., Reader in African Law in the University of London; Director, Restatement of African Law Project, School of Oriental and African Studies

"... a valuable and semi-official handbook to the system of courts and to the kinds of law of the territories represented at the Conference (the London Conference on the Future Law in Africa) ... likely to be welcomed by those requiring a vade mecum classifying in a systematized form the powers of tribunal administering law in African Communities."—Law Times

ALLOTT'S ESSAYS IN AFRICAN LAW with special reference to the law of Ghana

By A. N. ALLOTT, M.A., PH.D., Reader in African Law at the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London

"... It is a comprehensive survey of the laws and customs of dependent and emerging independent countries in Africa... The learned author sweeps away a great many misconceptions about Africa and its laws and customs, and it is to be hoped that further volumes in this series will do likewise and reach as high a standard of erudition and presentation as the present one."—The Law Journal

BENNION'S CONSTITUTIONAL LAW OF GHANA

By F. A. R. BENNION, M.A. (OXON.), Barrister-at-Law; Technical Adviser to the Government of Ghana on the preparation of legislation (1959-1961); sometime Lecturer and Tutor in Law at St. Edmund Hall, Oxford

In 1960 Ghana adopted a Republican Constitution, which had many novel features, being a blend of British, American and African constitutional ideas. The author of this book took an active part in the preparation of the new legislation, and is therefore extremely well qualified to present this authoritative exposition of the Constitutional Law of Ghana. Not only does the author expound the provisions of the law as they exist, but he also gives a certain amount of technical help wherever necessary. In this way he does much to lessen the problems facing those who suddenly find themselves confronted with such a mass of unfamiliar legislation.
