CROSS AND CROWN

A Thomistic Quarterly of Spiritual Theology

Edited by the Dominican Fathers of the Chicago Province

Cross and Crown is concerned with those truths which alone can give meaning and value to all of our living—the nature and the development of our inner spiritual life. Each issue (128 pages) contains eight to ten articles which reveal the wealth and beauty of the spiritual teachings of the theology of St Thomas Aquinas, the official theologian of the Church.

A survey of the indexes of Cross and Crown reveals its varied scope in subject matter and contributors. Eminent authorities in spiritual theology have explained in plain, striking phrases what the life of God in man really is. Among these have been such Dominicans as Garrigou-Lagrange, Walter Farrell, Gerald Vann, and Jordon Aumann. Topflight Jesuit theologians such as De Letter and Klaas are among the contributors. Other well-known names in the roster are Hilda Graef, Dorothy Dohen, and Sister Julian Baird.

Each issue of Cross and Crown presents reviews of the newest spiritual books, both scientific and popular. A department called 'Current Trends' provides a compact survey of new developments in every aspect of the inner life.

BOOKS FOR PRESENTS

For Nuns—

ONE NUN TO ANOTHER

S. M. Laurence, O.P.

A forthright discussion of the problems of modern life as they affect nuns, with some very practical suggestions. Written with common sense and humour, this is a perfect book for the convent refectory. 12s. 6d.

MISSION STORIES

Nicholas Humphreys, O.P.

This collection of stories about the people of South Africa by a Dominican who has worked among them for years will be welcomed by missionaries, ex-missionaries and missionaries-to-be all over the world. 10s. 6d.

For Priests—

A COMPLETE MARIOLOGY

An extremely valuable work dealing with all aspects of devotion to Our Lady. An excellent reference book for sermons and instructions. 25s. 0d.

ST JOHN'S PROLOGUE

E. Boismard, O.P.

A commentary on the Prologue to St John's Gospel which presents clearly and concisely the fruits of the researches of the French biblical scholars at Jerusalem; it states unequivocally the difficulties raised by the Prologue and suggests solutions to some of them. 12s. 0d.

For Everyone—

SACRAMENTAL PRAYER

Conrad Pepler, O.P.

A new book by Fr Pepler treating of prayer, both private and public. Unlike so many 'manuals', Sacramental Prayer reminds us that prayer is not all dark nights and suffering but is meant also to be a source of comfort, inspiration and joy. 10s. 9d.

THE HISTORY OF BELMONT ABBEY

Basil Whelan, O.S.B.

Written to commemorate the centenary of Belmont Abbey this is the obvious gift for anyone with Benedictine associations and most particularly for those connected with Belmont. 25s. 0d.

HOSPITALITY

A Christ-like Career

Without being priests the Hospitalier Brothers of St John of God preach at home and abroad by their unselfish endeavours that the Kingdom of Heaven is for the meek and humble of heart. If by their efforts one soul is led to sanctification it is enough.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT FOR EVERY PRIEST

PRIEST OF CHRIST

Francis J. Ripley

Superior of the Catholic Missionary Society

With a Foreword by

HIS EMINENCE CARDINAL GODFREY

Drawing upon his many years of experience of talking to and advising his fellow priests, Fr Ripley describes the enormous responsibilities of the Catholic priest, outlines the tremendous pressures and tensions that modern society exerts upon his task and indicates, too, the joys that fall to those who have realized God's gift of a vocation.

Priests will find this an invaluable and stimulating book to be read and thought over, as will many religious; and for those laymen who are anxious to increase their contribution to the lay apostolate and to assist their priests to the utmost this book will be an aid to a deeper understanding of the nature of the priesthood and of their own relationship to it. 21s.
