Leiden Journal of International Law

Leiden Journal of International Law is published by Cambridge University Press for the Foundation of the Leiden Journal of International Law.

Firmly established as one of Europe's leading journals in the field, Leiden Journal of International Law (LJIL) provides a forum for two vital areas, namely international legal theory and international dispute settlement. It is unique in providing the most comprehensive coverage of the world's most important international tribunals in The Hague and elsewhere (such as the ICJ, ICTY, ICC and others), as well as examining new trends in international legal thinking. LJIL is essential reading for academics and practitioners who need to stay abreast of recent developments in these areas.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Leiden Journal of International Law (ISSN 0922-1565) is published quarterly in March, June, September and December. Four parts form a volume.
