World Christian Encyclopedia

A Comparative Survey of Churches and Religions in the Modern World, AD 1900–2000

Edited by David B. Barrett

This major new reference book covers comprehensively the subject of twentieth-century Christianity. It describes systematically the present extent, status, and characteristics of the Christian religion. It represents the work of some 500 experts in various fields, and has 1,500 illustrations, and 34 colour maps. 'This is a unique, monumental reference book which will fascinate and inform for the next decade.' Daily Telegraph. £65

The Miracle of Theism

Arguments for and against the Existence of God

J. L. Mackie

This book discusses the main arguments for and against the existence of God. These include the traditional ontological, cosmological, and design arguments, the arguments from consciousness and from morality, and on the other side the problem of evil. £12.50 paperback £4.95

Living in the Shadow of the Second Coming

American Premillennialism 1875–1925

Timothy P. Weber

Premillennialism is the belief in an imminent 'end time', in which the Church will be tested through fearful tribulations culminating in the reign of the Antichrist, the coming of Christ in glory, the battle of Armageddon, and a triumphal one-thousand year Kingdom of Christ on earth. This book documents the widespread acceptance of this doctrine in the time of Dwight Moody and C. I. Schofield, and its manifestation in the lives of its adherents. Illustrated £8

Beyond Existentialism and Zen

Religion in a Pluralistic World

George Rupp

This book focuses on Christian reflection and action. The author advocates an approach which requires an appraisal of alternatives in several religious and quasi-religious traditions. In elaborating the argument he develops three types of world-view: existentialism, Zen, and a third position which he contends is able to affirm the central strengths of these two types while rejecting their weaknesses. £5.25

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. Contributions and books for review should be sent to the Editor, Professor H. D. Lewis, King's College, Strand, London, WC2R 2LS.
2. Articles submitted to the journal should in general be between 5,000 and 10,000 words long, though articles outside these limits will be acceptable if there is some good reason for their exceptional length or brevity. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should normally be in English.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord as closely as possible with the typographical conventions of the journal.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
8. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorises otherwise.
9. All contributors of articles receive 50 free offprints. Reviewers will receive five or more offprints of their reviews.
10. If rejected manuscripts are to be returned, stamps or international coupons should be sent to cover postage, but it would normally be simpler just to retain a copy.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
