

essor Anthony Snodgrass, this is a successful attempt to bring to the archaeological theorist the benefits of working in a text-aided period. And to the Classical archaeologist this book brings a convincing application of theories and techniques of analysis that are more familiar among prehistorians. From the blending of these two traditions we can expect exciting developments.

RICHARD BRADLEY

Department of Archaeology, Reading University

Editorial and subscription notices

ANTIQUITY

ANTIQUITY was founded in 1927 by Dr O.G.S. Crawford, with the assistance of Mr Roland Austin. Since January 1961 it has been owned by the Antiquity Trust. It is published by Antiquity Publications Limited at Oxford University Press.

The Trustees of the Antiquity Trust are: Dr Warwick Bray, Dr J.M. Coles, Professor B.W. Cunliffe, Ruth Daniel, Jacquetta Hawkes, Professor Stuart Piggott, Professor A.C. Renfrew, and Sir David Wilson.

Antiquity Publications Limited is owned and controlled by the Antiquity Trust. Its directors are: John Alexander, Christopher Chippindale, Joan Oates, Professor Anthony Snodgrass.

Subscriptions

ANTIQUITY is published every three months, on 1 March, 1 June, 1 September and 1 December.

For personal subscribers the annual subscription for 1988 is £20 in UK, US$40 in the USA and Canada, £23 in the rest of the world. For institutional subscribers it is £30 in UK, US$60 in the USA and Canada, £35 in the rest of the world; there is a special rate of £23 for third-world countries. This is payable annually in advance to: Journals Subscriptions Department, Oxford University Press, Walton Street, Oxford OX2 6DP, England, who accept payment by cheque, bank draft, money order or credit card. Single copies of this number are £9/$18.

Back-numbers

Copies of back-numbers, up to volume 60 for 1986, are £5/$10 for single issues, £10/$20 for annual volumes, with a discount for quantity. Volume 61 for 1987 costs £7.50/US$15 for single issues, £17.50/US$35 for the annual volume. Index volumes are available: to vols. I-XXV (1927-51), clothbound £5/US$10; to vols. XXVI-L (1952-76) clothbound £10/US$20, or paperbound £8/US$16. Send orders to: Antiquity, Girton College, Cambridge CB3 0JG, England.

Convention for radiocarbon dates

In citing radiocarbon dates, ANTIQUITY follows the convention of lower-case letters for uncalibrated measurements, as b.p., and of small capitals for measurements calibrated into 'real' dates in calendar years, as BP, AD, BC.

Editorial notices

The editor is Christopher Chippindale; the production editor is Anne Chippindale.

Advisory editors are: Warwick Bray (Institute of Archaeology, University of London), Brian Fagan (Department of Anthropology, University of California, Santa Barbara), Norman Hammond (Department of Archaeology, Boston University), Anthony Harding (Department of Archaeology, University of Durham), Charles Higham (Department of Anthropology, University of Otago), Harry Lourandos (Department of Anthropology, University of Queensland), Vincent Megaw (Flinders University of South Australia & University of Leicester), Jeremy Sabloff (Department of Anthropology, Department of Anthropology, University of Pittsburgh), Charles Thomas (Institute of Cornish Studies, University of Exeter), Ezra Zubrow (Department of Anthropology, SUNY, Buffalo, NY).

Please send articles offered for publication to: Christopher Chippindale, Antiquity, Girton College, Cambridge CB3 0JG, England (phone (0)-223-338995 & 356271). A preliminary letter summarizing a proposed article is often helpful. Send two clear photocopies of the text and of illustrations or roughs. Preferred style is as you find it in this number.

Please send books for review to: Christopher Chippindale, Antiquity, Girton College, Cambridge CB3 0JG, England.

Advertising

For details about advertising and inserts, write to: Anne Chippindale, Antiquity, Girton College, Cambridge CB3 0JG, England (phone (0)-223-356271).

ISSN 0003 598X.

© Antiquity Publications 1988.

Set in Linotron 202 Melior by Alan Sutton Publishing Ltd/Antiquity Publications Ltd.

Printed and bound in Great Britain by The Black Bear Press Ltd.