

Balkan Economic History, 1550-1950

From Imperial Borderlands to Developing Nations

By John R. Lampe and Marvin R. Jackson

Provides the first analytical and statistical study to survey the entire region from the start of the early modern period. It will be a standard work of reference for a long time to come. "... an outstanding contribution to the comparative study of economic performance and policy." —The ACES Bulletin

$37.50

The Birth of a Consumer Society

The Commercialization of Eighteenth-Century England

By Neil McKendrick, John Brewer, and J. H. Plumb

The desire to be in fashion and to consume was not an eighteenth-century novelty; it was the ability to do so that was new. An illuminating and entertaining study of an important turning point in social and economic history. "... will eventually reshape our view of the century."

—The London Sunday Times

$29.95

The History of Marxism

Volume 1 Marxism in Marx's Day

Edited by Eric J. Hobsbawm

Synthesizing the vast body of serious scholarship, the internationally distinguished contributors reflect a broad spectrum of opinion and interpretation. This is the first full and exhaustive attempt to survey both Marxist thought and action to the present day. Volume 1 covers the period to the death of Engels in 1895.

$25.00

Inheritance, Wealth, and Society

By Ronald Chester

This pertinent and provocative advocacy of wealth taxation reform addresses such important issues as economic growth, fairness, and the redistribution of wealth, and challenges the assumptions of Reaganomics. A closely argued, original contribution to the debate on wealth and poverty in America.

$18.95

Available at bookstores, or send $1.50 postage and handling for first book, 50¢ for each additional book, to order from publisher.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY PRESS

Tenth and Morton Streets, Bloomington, Indiana 47405

The Rise and Decline of Nations

Economic Growth, Stagflation, and Social Rigidities

Mancur Olson

"(T)his elegant, readable book... sets out to explain why economies succumb to the 'British disease,' the kind of stagnation and demoralization that is now sweeping Europe and North America.... A convincing book that could make a big difference in the way we think about modern economic problems." — Peter Passell, The New York Times Book Review

"An extraordinary achievement."

—Douglass C. North, Science $14.95

The Political Economy of Growth

edited by Dennis C. Mueller

The essays in this unusual volume represent the first serious testing of Mancur Olson's major new theory on economic performance. An essay by Olson is supplemented by a short analytical paper by Sir John Hicks and then critically evaluated by Moses Abramovitz. Seven other essays explore the historical record and offer tests of the theory. $23.50

Economic Growth in Prewar Japan

Takafusa Nakamura

translated by Robert A. Feldman

This is a comprehensive historical survey of Japan's economic performance from the Meiji Restoration to the beginning of the Pacific War. A distinguished Japanese economist, Nakamura has integrated theory, history, and statistical evidence into a balanced presentation accessible to all students of economic history. $35.00

Yale

Yale University Press
New Haven and London

The Financial Development of India, Japan, and the United States

A Trilateral Institutional, Statistical, and Analytic Comparison

Raymond W. Goldsmith

Goldsmith highlights the essential differences between the financial structures of India and Japan and compares them to that of the United States, regarded as the prototype in this field. The data for India and Japan are taken from two companion volumes published simultaneously (see below). $12.95

The Financial Development of Japan, 1868-1977

The Financial Development of India, 1860-1977

Raymond W. Goldsmith

These two parallel volumes treat in detail the institutional and statistical aspects of the development of capital formation and saving, of financial institutions, of financial instruments, and of the methods of financing agriculture, nonagricultural households, nonfinancial business, and government. Issue ratios for sector and for financial instruments and national balance sheets for a dozen benchmark dates are among the novel features of these valuable studies. Japan volume $30.00; India volume $35.00.

A History of European Socialism

Albert S. Lindemann

This authoritative study of European socialism examines the relationship between ideology, institutions, and the working masses in order to place the evolution of socialism in a broad context. Lindemann explores the roots of socialism, its growth and maturity, its times of crisis, and the variety of perspectives and practices that have emerged in modern times. $25.00

New from
Resources for the Future, Inc.

The Development of the U.S. Urban System

Volume II: Industrial Shifts, Implications

Edgar S. Dunn, Jr.

This volume completes the first comprehensive quantitative history of the development of the U.S. urban system between 1940 and 1970. Departing from traditional views of urban systems, the author explains regional shifts in activity in terms of the developmental factors at work in each industry sector. Vast amounts of data from four decennial censuses are organized into color and black and white maps, text tables, and more than 150 pages of appendix tables, allowing readers to shape the data into regional configurations that are of special interest to them. $75.00

also available:

Volume I: Concepts, Structures, Regional Shifts $65.00

Published by Resources for the Future, Inc.

Distributed by The Johns Hopkins University Press

Baltimore, Maryland 21218

The End of the Russian Land Commune, 1905-1930

Dorothy Atkinson. Beginning with the land reforms that followed the 1905 Revolution, this study provides the first detailed history of the demise of the Russian agricultural commune—an institution central in the lives of Russian peasants for countless centuries. The author traces the commune through the inter-revolutionary years to a resurgence after the 1917 Revolution and a vitality that lasted well into the 1920's. Her story concludes with Stalin's collectivization of agriculture and an analysis of the economic, social, and political factors that led to this dramatic move. $35.00

Order from your bookstore, please

Stanford University Press

Chicago Economics

Books that make history

Two by George Stigler

Winner of the 1982 Nobel Prize in Economics

THE ECONOMIST AS PREACHER, AND OTHER ESSAYS

Stigler — renowned for his urbane good humor and mischievous wit — looks to the history of economists as advisors and the belief that economists have been influential in the devising and execution of public policy. These essays are sure to provide both pleasure and profit to anyone with an interest in the history of ideas as well as to students and scholars of the history of economics.

Cloth $20.00 272 pages

ESSAYS IN THE HISTORY OF ECONOMICS

"Many of these essays have become such well-known landmarks that no scholar in this field should be unfamiliar with them." — Thomas Sowell, American Economic Review

Paper $9.95 400 pages

— Also available —

POPULATION AND TECHNOLOGICAL CHANGE

A Study of Long-Term Trends

Ester Boserup

"There is nothing published, to my knowledge, on this topic, and certainly nothing with the breadth of perspective of Population and Technological Change across such fields as anthropology, economics, history, and demography." — T. Paul Schultz, Department of Economics, Yale University

"This is an exciting book, full of ideas which are provocative because they are unconventional and yet plausible." — William Brass, Nature

Cloth $17.50 Paper $7.95 268 pages

THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY

An Outline of the

Beginnings of the Modern Factory System in England

Paul Mantoux

Translated by Marjorie Vernon

With Forewords by T. S. Ashton and John Kenneth Galbraith

"It was from [this book] more than any other I read in the course of academic duty or requirement that I learned what an adventure economic history could be. And how important. . . . That this is a classic I cannot doubt." — from the Foreword by John Kenneth Galbraith

Paper $12.50 532 pages 7 maps

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

5801 South Ellis Avenue Chicago, IL 60637

NETWORKS OF POWER

ELECTRIFICATION IN WESTERN SOCIETY, 1880-1930

Thomas P. Hughes

A unique comparative history of the evolution of modern electric power systems. Emphasizing the social aspects of power development as well as technological details, Hughes provides both an accurate representation of large-scale technological change and a convincing argument that technology cannot be understood or directed unless placed in a social context. $38.50

A HISTORY OF ECONOMIC REASONING

Karl Pribram

The final work of a noted economic scholar and policy maker is a unique methodological analysis of the development of economic thought. Spanning the centuries from the late Middle Ages to the late 1950s, Karl Pribram's work clarifies the origins of the various teachings that compose the field of "economic science" and bridges the gap between economics and the other social sciences. $42.50

THE OIL PRICE REVOLUTION

Steven A. Schneider

"A coherent, perhaps even definitive, picture of the forces pushing the industrial countries into dependence on Mideast resources."—Paul Schaffer, Energy User News

Why does a barrel of oil that costs about 50¢ to produce sell for more than $30? Here at last is a penetrating, nontechnical examination of how worldwide dependence on the petroleum reserves of a few Middle Eastern and North African nations has led to "the largest nonviolent transfer of wealth in human history." $35.00

The Johns Hopkins University Press

Baltimore, Maryland 21218