THE AFRICAN EXPERIENCE

edited by John N. Paden and Edward W. Soja

A multi-volume set of teaching materials designed for university courses in African Studies.

VOLUME I: ESSAYS

This volume of thirty-one original essays presents a forward-looking, interdisciplinary introduction to African studies. The individual essays, each prepared by a well-known scholar, discuss current research and its frontiers and develop important themes within specific areas of study. By integrating these specialized approaches into the broader conceptual framework of the volume, the authors and editors demonstrate significant linkages among the different disciplines, synthesize contemporary thought, and build collectively toward a balanced understanding of the African experience. $15.00 cloth $6.50 paper. 655 pages

VOLUME II: SYLLABUS

The 100 modules in this book constitute a comprehensive interdisciplinary approach to the teaching of African studies, providing an integrated overview of African economic, political, and social patterns in the past and in the present. The book is designed to aid the teacher in preparing lectures for a one-year introductory course in African studies. Each module — a "mini-essay" or topic summary — presents a short interpretive statement briefly summarizing the central concepts, themes, and events relevant to an understanding of a specific aspect of the African experience. $14.00 cloth $4.95 paper. 472 pages

VOLUME IIIA: BIBLIOGRAPHY

This work is an up-to-date (through 1970) computerized bibliography of 3,800 selected references, annotated and arranged to parallel the 100 modules in the Syllabus, plus a country-by-country listing of case studies and an alphabetical author index. $25.00 1103 pages

VOLUME IIIB: GUIDE TO RESOURCES

This work includes six valuable bibliographic essays dealing with reference sources for African studies, African journals and newspapers, audio visual aids, developments in African publishing, computers and bibliographies, and African-language publications. $5.50 146 pages
