Environmental Conservation

advocates timely action for the protection and amelioration of the environment of Mankind and Nature throughout the world. Topics range from pertinent case-histories of the past and present to rational use of resources, foreseeing ecological consequences, enlightened environmental policy, anti-pollution measures, low-impact development, environmental education and law, and ecologically sound management of all land and fresh water, sea and air, for the lasting future of Earth's fragile Biosphere.

The following are the main types of contributions which, whether illustrated or not, may be accepted for publication in this Journal:

Policy-advocating leaders on outstanding topics;
Survey articles on important aspects of its subject;
Research papers whether basic or 'confirmatory';
Case-history accounts of wide significance and interest;

Items for the following five regular sections:

Editorial Section: Usually including an Editorial or Guest Editorial, Guest Comment or Comments, and Notice or Notices most commonly about Available Publications;

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

All contributions must be in precise English and original, submission of a 'manuscript' implying that it is unpublished and is not being considered contemporaneously for publication elsewhere — also that copyright is assigned to the Foundation in the event of publication in its Journal. Manuscripts (three copies, including one or two on light airmal paper) and allied materials should be sent to:

Prof. Dr Nicholas Polunin, Editor
ENVIRONMENTAL CONSERVATION
7 Chemin Taverney
1218 Grand-Saconnex
Geneva, Switzerland,

or to one of the Advisory Editors (listed above). There is a set of Instructions for Authors on the inside of the back cover of each issue: failure to follow these in reasonable degree may lead to, at best, protracted correspondence or return of a manuscript for restyling before it can be considered or even refereed.

PUBLISHING AND SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

Environmental Conservation is published for the Foundation for Environmental Conservation, with the collaboration of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the World Conservation Union (IUCN), the International Association for Ecology (INTECOL), the International Society of Naturalists (INSONA), International Conferences on Environmental Future (ICEFs), World Council For The Biosphere-International Society For Environmental Education (WCB-ISEE), World Wide Fund for Nature (WWF), and others. It is covered in numerous international indexing or abstracting journals emanating particularly from the United Kingdom, the United States, Italy, and Germany.

Environmental Conservation is published quarterly, correspondingly to the year's four seasons in the Northern Hemisphere. From early 1996 it will be published by the Journals Department, Cambridge University Press, The Edinburgh Building, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 2RU, England, UK, at £150 p. a. for institutions or £68 for individuals (or £135 and £61, respectively, if paid by 30 June 1996), or corresponding US $ prices from Cambridge University Press, 40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011-4211, USA.

Size 27.5 x 20 cm, comprising regularly 384 pages (with additional covers, etc.) per annum. The volume subscription price for 1995 is 410 DFL or US $213 (including cost of handling and postage) — subscribers in the following countries receive their copies by airmail at no extra charge: Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Hong Kong, India, Israel, Japan, Malaysia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, Taiwan, and USA.
