World Archaeology

Executive Editor: Chris Gosden, University of Oxford, UK

"World Archaeology has established itself as a truly international journal... as a guide to ideas as well as discoveries in archaeology worldwide, it is a vital source." The Times

World Archaeology is the only journal established specifically to deal with archaeology on a world-wide multiperiod basis and almost forty years after it was founded it remains the leader in its field. The first three of the year's quarterly issues are dedicated to one theme of current interest. The fourth issue, Debates in World Archaeology, is a forum for debate, discussion and comment. All papers adopt a broad comparative approach, looking at important issues on a global scale.

The members of the editorial board and the advisory board represent a wide range of interests and expertise and this ensures that the papers published in World Archaeology cover a wide variety of subject areas.

Back issues of World Archaeology are available through JSTOR at www.jstor.org

Notes for Contributors

Antiquity* aims to report new archaeological research, methods and issues of international significance in plain language to a broad academic and professional readership.

We ask prospective authors to consult previous issues of the journal and the full Notes for Contributors on our website at <http://antiquity.ac.uk/contnotes.html>.

Submissions for publication in the JOURNAL should be sent with a disc and hard copy to The Editor, Antiquity, King's Manor, York, YO1 7EP, UK, or by e-mail to editor@antiquity.ac.uk.

Text should be submitted in English in MS Word 2000 or a compatible program and have a maximum length of 5000 words. Please indicate the corresponding author. References should be in the Harvard format (Antiquity does not use footnotes or end-notes). For initial consideration, figures may be embedded in the Word file or submitted as low-resolution jpeg files, but please note our publication image requirements.

Papers submitted to the journal are peer-reviewed by two or more referees. The Editor aims to make a decision on whether the paper is to be accepted within four to six months of receipt.

Authors whose papers are declined are notified via e-mail by the editor, and we can normally pass on part or all of the referees' reports to assist feedback.

Authors whose papers are accepted may be asked to send an updated, revised text and will need to send figures of publication quality. These should be sent as hard copy photographs or drawings or as TIFF files at 600 dpi (colour or monochrome photographs) and EPS files at 1200 dpi (line drawings) on a CD-ROM or Zip disk. Authors may be asked if we can mount long tables and other data on our website.

Authors will be asked to contribute towards the cost of publishing colour images. The charge is £100 per page with colour images.

Authors receive a free PDF of their paper, and may order offprints at a charge of £0.75 each (orders must be for 25 offprints or multiples thereof).

Submissions for publication in the PROJECT GALLERY on the website (<http://antiquity.ac.uk/ProjGall/>) should be e-mailed to editor@antiquity.ac.uk as attachments. Text should be in MS Word and have a maximum length of 1000 words. Figures (colour or monochrome, maximum of 6 pictures) should be jpeg files at 72 dpi. Submissions for the Project Gallery are not peer-reviewed but the Editor may request changes before a submission is accepted. Authors will be asked to check their page before it goes live online.

BOOKS FOR REVIEW

Awards for the Presentation of Heritage Research 2006

Is your fascinating research buried in specialist journals?

It is vital for the heritage's future that we do more to present and explain our work to the wider public, to increase their understanding and enjoyment and the value they place on the heritage.

The Royal Archaeological Institute, English Heritage, Cadw, Historic Scotland, the Environment and Heritage Service (an agency within DOE (NI)) and the Department of the Environment, Heritage and Local Government (Republic of Ireland) are co-sponsoring this year's competition at the British Association's Festival of Science in Norwich from 4-8 September 2006. Its purpose is to encourage presentation to a wider audience of recent research on British and Irish archaeology, historic buildings and heritage conservation.

Three awards are offered: a first prize of £1500, a second prize of £500 and an under-30 prize of £500. Entrants are asked to submit a written summary of their presentation by 14 April 2006. Short-listed finalists will be invited to speak at the awards session at the Festival of Science. The judges will place particular weight on the clarity of presentation to an informed but non-specialist audience, and on the interest and quality of the underlying research.

For further details and an entry form, please contact: Sebastian Payne, English Heritage, 23 Savile Row, London W1S 2ET
(or by e-mail: sebastian.payne@english-heritage.org.uk). The competition is open to all, whether professional or amateur.

The Human Past

World Prehistory & the Development of Human Societies

Edited by Chris Scarre

'Streets ahead of any other textbook available ... a magnificent achievement'

Professor Steven Mithen, University of Reading

'Probably the best archaeology textbook ever produced. It will be very useful to a wide array of students and their teachers'

Dr Peter Rowley-Conwy, University of Durham

'Chris Scarre has brought together a brilliant international team to provide the most up-to-date overview of world prehistory. The Human Past is absolutely essential reading for all students of archaeology'

Professor Barry Cunliffe, University of Oxford

The Complete World of Human Evolution

Chris Stringer and Peter Andrews

'It is difficult to fault this book. As a survey of human evolution it provides everything that a fresh, imaginative introductory course on the subject should, and it will doubtless rapidly gain use as a university text ... It is clearly and authoritatively written, attractively illustrated with plenty of reconstructions to catch the imagination, well bound and inexpensive ... a sure-fire winner'

The Times Higher Education Supplement

'By far the best illustrated introduction for the general reader to that 20-million-year-long tale ... clearly and accurately told'

New Scientist

432 illustrations, 180 in colour 25.4 x 19.2 cm 240pp ISBN 0500 051321 £24.95 hb

Archaeology

Theories, Methods and Practice FOURTH EDITION

Colin Renfrew and Paul Bahn

'The most complete, wide-ranging and usable archaeological textbook in the world'
