

Latin American Research Review

publications. The first issue contains articles on the Federal Cartographic Archives, the David Dale Open Map of Southwestern Wisconsin, the use of federal records in writing local history, as well as news, new accessions, publications, book notes and notes on contributors. Correspondance should be sent to the Associate Editor Herman J. Viola, at the National Archives. Subscription rates are $2.50 for one year, $4.50 for two years and $6.00 for three years. Single numbers are sold for $1.00.

The California Institute of International

Studies in February 1970 began publication of a journal entitled Reports, which contains commentaries on international developments, especially those concerning Latin America, book reviews, and information about the Institute's activities. It will be issued three or four times a year. Its editor is Ronald Hilton, executive director of the Institute and author of the recently published volume, The Scientific Institutions of Latin America. Correspondence should be addressed to Mr. Hilton at the Institute, P. O. Box 4434, Stanford, California 94305.

ART EXHIBITIONS

The first San Juan Biennial was held in Puerto Rico through March 15, 1970, it included 700 graphic works by 180 artists from Latin America and the Caribbean, and featured the first comprehensive showing of graphics of Orozco and a one-man show of Lorenzo Homar. Organizing committee included Luigi Marrozzini, director of the Colibri Gallery in San Juan, and William S. Lieberman, director of the Museum of Modern Art.

An Exhibition of Huichol Indian Art from Mexico was held at the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History from March 18 to July 27, 1969, organized by Peter Furst of the UCLA Latin American Center. It featured more than fifty large yarn paintings illustrating Huichol mythology, as well as Huichol embroidery, weaving, and ceremonial art, from the collections of UCLA Museum and Laboratories of Ethnic Arts and Technology and the American Museum of Natural History, as well as the personal collection of Dr. and Mrs. Furst. The loan objects from the American Museum were collected in the Huichol country in 1895 by Carl Lumholtz, pioneer in Huichol field ethnography.

GRANTS, AWARDS, PRIZES

The following publications are recommended for those who seek scholarships, grants or fellowships for advanced study or research in Latin America.

Aids to Individual Scholars. American Council of Learned Societies. 345, East 646th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Announcement of Special Awards for Latin America and the Caribbean for the Academic Year 1970–1971. Foreign Area Fellowship Program. 444 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016.

Fellowship, United States of America and Canada. John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, 90 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016.

This is IIE. Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10017.

A Selected List of Major Fellowship Opportunities and Aids to Advanced Education for United States Citizens. National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council. 2101 Constitution Ave. N.W. Washington, D.C. 20418.

Aids to Students in Vocational, College and Graduate Programs; Language and Area Centers Programs; Overseas Foreign Language and Area Studies; National Defense Graduate Fellowships, Graduate Programs.

All from: U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Office of Education, Washington, D.C. 20036.

Peruvian Government Competition for Foreign Scholars.

On the occasion of the 150th Anniversary of the Independence of Peru, an international contest has been organized for foreign historians, authors and professors. Those interested should submit an unpublished paper, minimum length 100 double spaced pages, on the topic "La Insurrección de Túpac Amará y sus proyecciones en la independencia de Hispanoamericana." Entries should be signed with a pseudonym and accompanied by the candidate's correct name and address in a sealed envelope. Mail all entries to: Comisión Nacional del Sesquicentenario de la Independencia del Peru, Av. Arequipa 400, Lima, Peru, before January 31, 1971. The winner will be announced on May 31, 1971 and the prize (S./100,000.00) will be awarded during the last week of July 1971.

Quinto Sol publications has announced a $1,000 award for the best literary work of 1970—novel, collection of short stories, book-length essay or experimental writing, written by a person of Mexican descent who is resident in the United States. The deadline for submitting manuscripts is November 30, 1970 and the award will be announced on December 31, 1970. The winning selection will be published by Quinto Sol Publications, Inc., in spring 1971. For further information write to: Premio Quinto Sol, Quinto Sol Publications Inc., P.O. Box 9275. Berkeley, California 94709.

Second Edition, Revised
The Mexican Revolution

Federal Expenditure and Social Change since 1910

James W. Wilkie

This book won the Herbert E. Bolton prize for the best book on Latin American subjects in 1967.

Wilkie's book has been acclaimed by economic and social historians and political scientists, first because Wilkie's conclusions challenge the accepted ideas about the achievements of the Mexican revolution, second for the extremely useful data which he offers, and finally because his research methodology is in several respects highly original. Revisions in this second edition include new data in several areas, particularly land reform.

1970 LC: 74-103072 337 pages paper, $2.95; cloth, $9.00

Now available in paperback

Politics and Social Forces in Chilean Development

James Petras

This is the first comprehensive study of major social forces in conflict in Chilean politics. Mr. Petras finds that the much-admired democratic forms in Chile conceal an essentially exploitive substance; that the parliamentary politics has served mainly the interests of party elites; that political coalitions of the working and middle classes have operated to the advantage of the middle class; and that the bureaucracy has reinforced elite rule. Petras interprets the growing radicalism among peasants and workers as an indication of a troublesome future for Chilean politics.

377 pages paper, $3.65; cloth, $8.50

Now available in paperback

Land and Society in Colonial Mexico

The Great Hacienda

François Chevalier

Edited, with a Foreword, by Lesly Byrd Simpson

At the time of the Conquest of Mexico, the Aztec "empire" and the other civilized areas of the Mexican plateau subsisted on a highly developed agriculture.

"This work must be hailed for its overall contribution to the field, for its fresh and mature insights, and for its stimulating conclusions."—Journal of Modern History

334 pages paper, $3.25; cloth, $8.50

Now available in paperback

Tonalá

Conservatism, Responsibility, and Authority in a Mexican Town

May N. Diaz

"A sympathetic and easily readable ethnographic description of a famous pottery-making village about to be engulfed by the expanding metropolitan area of Guadalajara."—Annals

"Most welcome, the more so since it is sensitively observed and charmingly written."—Man

"An important contribution to still uncharted territory."—American Anthropologist

240 pages illustrations paper, $2.45; cloth, $5.00

from California

University of California Press • Berkeley 94720

NEW REFERENCE WORKS

Catalog of the OLIVEIRA LIMA Library

The Catholic University of America

Washington, D.C.

This catalog, whose principal focus is the Luso-Brazilian world, provides the scholar with an unusual opportunity to locate significant materials relating to Brazilian history and literature as well as Portuguese literature, Luso-Brazilian Church History, the Age of Discovery, the overseas expansion of Portugal, the Restoration of Portugal and the War of the Spanish Succession, the Portuguese Inquisition, and the Portuguese Enlightenment and 19th-century Liberalism.

Estimated 34,700 cards reproduced in 2 volumes

Prepublication price: $130.00; after January 31, 1971: $165.00

Catalog of the

LATIN AMERICAN LIBRARY of the

Tulane University Library, New Orleans

This Library contains a collection of materials in many forms: books, journals, newspapers, manuscripts, microforms, and maps. The nucleus was a research collection for the Middle American area: Mexico, Central America and the West Indies. Many other collections have been added and the scope has now expanded to include all of Latin America. The collection totals approximately 85,000 items, most of which deal with the social sciences and the humanities. The card catalog is arranged in dictionary form, but generally does not contain entries for newspapers, manuscripts, or maps.

Estimated 152,258 cards reproduced in nine volumes

Prepublication price: $580.00; after April 30, 1971: $725.00

10% additional charge on orders outside the U.S.

Descriptive material on these titles and a complete catalog of publications are available on request.

G. K. HALL & CO. 70 Lincoln St., Boston, Massachusetts 02111

CIDOC

CENTRO INTERCULTURAL DE DOCUMENTACION

Since 1967, CIDOC has published more than 155 books and over 600 rare documents of unique value to scholars and students of

CONTEMPORARY LATIN AMERICA

including a collection of 37 bibliographies, each of which lists 500 to 5000 items on an individual public issue; 67 volumes on churches and religious behavior; primary sources for ecclesiastical history; critical studies on political and educational ideologies; complete catalogue of library holdings.

For FREE publication catalogue write
APDO. 479 CUERNAVACA MEXICO

Cambridge Latin American Studies

PARTIES AND POLITICAL CHANGE IN BOLIVIA 1880–1952

HERBERT S. KLEIN

Professor Klein discusses the origins and developments of the Bolivian political system as it evolved into a two-party regime in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. He analyzes the causes which led to the mutation of this system and the rise of class politics and social revolutionary movements in the 1950's. The study emphasizes the Chaco War as a catalyst in the process of political crisis.

$14.50

THE ABOLITION OF THE BRAZILIAN SLAVE TRADE

LESLIE BETHELL

Dr Bethell explains how and why Britain forced the Brazilian slave trade to be declared illegal, why it proved impossible to suppress it for twenty years afterwards, and how it was finally abolished.

He covers a major aspect of the history of international abolition and makes an important contribution to the study of Anglo-Brazilian relations which were dominated and damaged by the slavery issue.

$13.50

REGIONAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT The River Basin Approach in Mexico

DAVID BARKIN and TIMOTHY KING

The authors survey the way in which governmental policies can solve regional development problems in less developed countries and consequently how such policies should be evaluated. They then describe the economic and political aspects of Mexican regional developments and policies, paying particular attention to the post-war history of river basin developments in Mexico.

$10.50

Now in paperback

A NEW HISTORY OF PORTUGAL

H. V. LIVERMORE

$2.95

Cambridge University Press

32 East 57th Street
New York, N.Y. 10022

Race and Class in Latin America

MAGNUS MORNER, editor. "This remarkable book is the first to address itself to the entire range of racial situations (in Latin America), and the findings are bound to destroy some long-cherished myths. . . . The contributions are all first-rate . . . fresh, timely, and yet of enduring value."—Library Journal. $10.00

The Thrice Shy:

Cultural Accommodation to Blindness
and Other Disasters in a Mexican Community

JOHN L. GWALTNEY. Here is an exceptionally rare volume—a thoroughly professional anthropological field study of a community, and a moving portrait of human struggle against overwhelming odds. Of particular note is the account of the inhabitants' struggle against onchocerciasis (a form of blindness) which strikes most of the population, robbing them of the ability to work. $6.95

The End of a Tradition:

Cultural Change and Development in the
Município, of Cunha, Sao Paulo, Brazil

ROBERT W. SHIRLEY. Although the growth of industrial cities and the extension of metropolitan mass culture has provoked much research on social dynamics within the cities, this book gives attention to the effects produced on the people in rural areas.

Institute of Latin American Studies, Columbia University $10.00

The Vargas Regime:

The Critical Years, 1934–1938

ROBERT M. LEVINE. Making the first use of the Getulio Vargas and Oswaldo Aranha archives, as well as interviewing nearly one hundred figures of importance, Dr. Levine offers the first detailed examination of the two great radical movements of the era in Brazil: The green-shirted, Fascist Integralistas, and the anti-Fascist Allianca Nacional Libertadora, as well as the first exhaustive study of the complex and highly controversial Communist revolution of November, 1935.

Institute of Latin American Studies, Columbia University $9.00

Crisis in Brazil

OCTAVIO IANNI. The author presents an exhaustive and illuminating economic, political, and sociological study of the dilemma which Brazilian society continues to face: "dependence and capitalism, or independence and socialism."

"... Ianni's interpretation will be invaluable for those who wish to understand how a Brazilian social scientist interprets the last three decades of Brazilian history."—Thomas E. Skidmore $8.50

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

Address for orders: 136 So. Broadway, Irvington, N.Y. 10533
Available in Canada from: McGill-Queen's University Press
3458 Redpath St., Montreal 109

Latin American Political Thought and Ideology

by MIQUEL JORRÍN and JOHN D. MARTZ

Focusing on the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, this well-balanced review of major expositions of Latin American political thought and ideology examines in detail representative individuals and their writings. $12.50

a new chapel hill book—paperback

The Dynamic of Mexican Nationalism

by FREDERICK C. TURNER

"It is a tribute to the clarity and comprehensiveness of Professor Turner's book that he has done more than any writer in English to tie down the elusive concept of positive Mexican nationalism."—Times Literary Supplement (chb—52)
(also available in cloth at $8.50) $2.95

The University of North Carolina Press
Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27514

Argentina

Essays on the Economic History of the Argentine Republic

by Carlos F. Díaz Alejandro

Carlos Díaz Alejandro summarizes the economic development of Argentina since 1860 and explores more completely, selected features of that history. Particular problems analyzed in detail are the performance of the rural and industrial sectors of the economy, tariff history during the period of 1910 to 1940, the paradox of apparently high investment rates and low growth since World War II, the stop-go cycles of recent years, and the sources and mechanics of the Argentine inflation. October $18.50

Mexico

The Mexican Economy Twentieth-Century Structure & Growth

by Clark W. Reynolds

Analyzing the interaction of post-revolution political, economic, and social changes, Clark Reynolds provides a vast quantity of basic information on the economic performance of Mexico during this century. He deals with economic development as social history and provides statistics on income distribution, international trade, and public finance to present a detailed analysis of the development of both agriculture and manufacturing. December $13.50

Economic Growth Center

Publications Yale University Press New Haven and London